Fast Passenger Derailed on Bridge Thirty Miles From Detroit.

Cars Scrape Along the Rail, But Are Kept on Trestle.

Passengers Were Badly Frightened, But None Was Hurt.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 8.—A heavy iron and cement guard rail, on the Wabash railroad bridge over the Huron river, at French Landing, about thirty miles west of here, saved the fast New York-Chicago passenger train, which had been derailed early today by a spring which is forty feet deep at this point. The train was going about thirty miles an hour when it was derailed. The engine did not leave the rails, but all five passenger cars behind the baggage car jumped, and when the train was stopped, several of them were resting against the guard rail, after having scraped along against it for a number of feet. The frightened passengers rushed from the day coach and Pullmans, but it was soon learned that no one had been injured. They were taken to Romulus and quartered in the hotels and residences there. The derailment blocked the line for a number of hours.

COMMITTS SUICIDE.
Moline, Ill., Feb. 8.—Frank W. Gouls, president of the Malleable Iron company and president of the board of trustees of the Western Illinois Hospital for the insane at Watertown, committed suicide in his bedroom today by shooting himself in the mouth. No motive is known for the act.

WILD DEER WANDERS ABOUT PROVIDENCE

Providence, R. I., Feb. 8.—A full grown deer wandered into the streets of Providence yesterday and caused considerable commotion before it was captured. The buck appeared on Aborn street about noon and a crowd soon gathered and attempted to capture the animal. It bolted and was finally brought to bay in the lobby of the Westminster theater, where it was captured. The animal was injured and will be taken to Roger Williams park.

SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD

Police Arrest Otto Adams, Charged With Bomb Throwing.

Coroner's Records Say That He Hanged Himself in 1906.

New York, Feb. 8.—Although legally dead, Otto Adams will have to stand trial on a charge of attempting to blow up with a bomb a hotel in East New York. The crime, on a charge of committing which Adams is under arrest, was committed in April, 1906. It is charged that two years ago Adams attempted to compel Mrs. Hattie Brower to consent to the sale of a piece of real estate, of which they were joint owners. She refused, and a day or two later received an infernal machine by mail. Another infernal machine was received by Harry Garsten, who is said to have advised her not to sell the property. A short time later a third bomb was found in the hallway of the hotel. Adams, who was a prosperous plumber, was arrested on a charge of being responsible for the three bombs. He was released on $4,000 bail and disappeared. Later the body of a man was found hanging to a tree. It was immediately identified as that of Adams and under that name was passed on by the coroner. The police now say that Adams went to California, where his wife left him because of his alleged cruelty. She returned East and yesterday she made a plan to meet him in Jersey City, after telling the police that he had returned. When he arrived to meet his wife he was arrested. The police are now wondering what steps they shall take to prove that Adams is alive.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN DISAGREE ON STATISTICS

Delay in Final Settlement of Emigration Question Due to Difference in Figures.

Tokio, Feb. 8.—The delay in reaching a final settlement of the emigration question between Japan and the United States is due to differences between the two governments concerning statistics and minor details. The Japanese government, in its memorandum of Dec. 31, maintaining the incorrectness of the figures presented by Ambassador O'Brien, which showed an extraordinary number of Japanese entering America since March, replied to the American memorandum with the Japanese figures, showing a wide divergence. The American memorandum of Jan. 22, couched in the friendliest terms, said that it appeared impossible to reconcile the discrepancy in figures, and suggested the possibility of frauds. The Japanese government determined to discover the exact cause of discrepancy, engaged last week in a comprehensive investigation to unearth possible frauds, and it is conceded that some cases have been discovered, but these are insufficient to explain the disparity. This investigation has caused ten days' delay in the negotiations. The foreign office has pointed out to the Associated Press, however, that while it doubtless would be gratifying to be able to write final to the vexatious problem, it believes it best to clear up the statistics. In the meanwhile no passports will be issued to laborers. The fact that emigration is completely stopped removes an element of danger. The foreign office is confident of a satisfactory outcome of the question.

THE COUNTRY NEEDS REST

Hill Thinks Railroads Will Do Less Business This Summer.

But the Farmers Will Plant as Much Wheat as Ever.

New York, Feb. 8.—James J. Hill, chairman of the board of the Great Northern railway, arrived in New York yesterday from St. Paul and stated that the coming summer would show a decrease in railroad earnings over last summer.

"I am not so much of an optimist," he said, "as to predict that railroad earnings this summer will be below those of last summer. I am sure that they will be. But there are more people in this country today than ever before, and they are people of fair intelligence. They are not going to let a few bad crops and a few bad years stop them from planting as much wheat as ever. I should say that the percentage of the equipment on the Great Northern was somewhat less than the percentage of the country as a whole."

Commenting on the earnings of the Great Northern, which a few days ago reported a large increase in gross for this month of January, Mr. Hill said that it had to be borne in mind that comparison was being made with the same period last year when the road was greatly handicapped by an unusually severe winter.

Mr. Hill, in reply to questions, said that he could not foresee how long present conditions would last.

"If I knew," he said, "I would be glad to tell you, but I don't predict how long it will be before things right themselves."

AERONAUTS TO HAVE A FIGHT

Actions of the Chicago Aero Club Offend Other Bodies.

New York, Feb. 8.—Aeronauts all over the country are facing a merry war, which has its origin in an invitation sent out by the Chicago Aero club to a number of aero clubs throughout the country, asking that delegates be sent to Chicago, Feb. 21, for the purpose of forming a national organization of aero clubs. The Aero Club of America, with headquarters in New York, was the first club of the kind organized in America, and its members believe that the Chicago club is attempting to take away from its prestige as the parent club of the country. This belief is strengthened by the fact that the club has received no invitation to take part in the Chicago meeting. The St. Louis club, organized at the time of the international races, last summer, has also been left out. The object of securing the lead among the clubs in America is membership in the International Aeronautic Federation, which admits but one club from a country, the club which leads in the sport. A special meeting of the New York club will be held Monday, at which time the matter will be considered.

STRIKE AT PERU CONTINUES.
Callao, Peru, Feb. 8.—The strike of the dockmen of Callao continues and the port is full of vessels waiting to be unloaded. The wharves are crowded with merchandise, and already there has been a heavy loss to trade and a general rise in prices.

RUSSIAN LEADER IS IN HOT WATER

PAUL MILYOUKOV, Russian Leader, Who Is Being Severely Criticized for the Speech He Made in the United States.

IS ADVISED TO RESIGN

Sentiment Against Prof. Milyoukov is Spreading in Russia.

Speech He Made in America Cause of the Trouble.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—The demonstrations which took place in the duma yesterday against Prof. Paul Milyoukov, leader of the Constitutional Democrats, arising from the ill-feeling created here by his recent lecture in New York on the political situation in Russia, engenders the attention of the entire press of this city, which today unites in deploring an incident which tends to fan partisan enmity and endangers the chances of the duma's success. The occurrences of yesterday probably will be followed up by a formal resolution, censuring Prof. Milyoukov for lack of patriotism and impartiality in his visit to a foreign country to stir up a sentiment of hostility while occupying a responsible position in parliament.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION IN THE WISCONSIN CENTRAL TUNNEL INJURES FIVE MEN

MORSE TURNS AROUND AND COMES RIGHT BACK AGAIN

Former Banker Lands at Liverpool and on Receipt of Message, Sails on Etruria.

Liverpool, Feb. 8.—C. W. Morse of New York, will leave here this afternoon for New York on the steamer Etruria. This complete change in Mr. Morse's plans was caused by the receipt of a cablegram from New York. Mr. Morse arrived here this morning on the Campania. The message changing his plan was received at Queenstown or by wireless between Queenstown and Liverpool, and when he landed here today he informed a correspondent of the Associated Press that he was going to return this afternoon instead of proceeding to the continent. Mr. Morse lingered in his cabin on board the Campania and was the last of the saloon passengers to step ashore. His face bore distinct traces of worry when he finally appeared at the gang-Blast Exploded While Men Were Ramming Down a Charge.

Two of Them Will Probably Lose Their Eyesight.

Three Others Are Suffering From Less Serious Injuries.

As the result of a premature explosion of a blast of dynamite at the Wisconsin central tunnel about 11 o'clock this morning, two workmen may lose their eyesight, and three others are suffering from more or less serious injuries. Napoleon Perrin of the Lowell block, was the foreman of a crew which was engaged in placing a blast of dynamite in a hole which had been prepared for it, near the south entrance to the tunnel. The stick of dynamite broke as it was being placed in the hole, and in attempting to force the second section of it into place, the men must have struck it too hard. It exploded in their faces, throwing them to the ground with the force of the explosion. Napoleon Perrin, the foreman, Albert Meere, the drillman, and James Presley, helper, were standing over the blast when it exploded, and they were the most seriously injured. All three suffered from severe cuts and burns on the face, and it is possible that the eyesight of the first two may be seriously affected. Fred Jerome and Frank Pucci, two other workmen, who were standing a few feet away, were also thrown to the ground, but they escaped with minor injuries. They did not have to be taken to the hospital. Mr. Perrin lives in the Lowell block. Meere resides at 1217 East Second street, and Pucci at 1117 East Second street.

WAGES REDUCED.

PEOPLE OF PORTUGAL

Attend the Funeral of Their Late Monarch and Son.

All Grievances Forgotten in Mourning for Their Dead.

Lisbon, Feb. 8.—The funeral services over the bodies of King Carlos and his son, Luiz, crown prince of Portugal, who were shot to death a week ago today on the Praça de Commercio in this city, was held in the church of St. Vincent early this afternoon. The ceremonies were simple, but impressive, and the final act in the bloody tragedy of Feb. 1 will be carried to a close without any untoward incident. The line of the funeral procession from the royal chapel in the palace to the church was guarded by troops, several additional regiments having been brought into the city for the purpose. All the governments of Europe and America were represented by special missions.

Portuguese Pray.
The day was one on which the Portuguese people united in prayer for their murdered king and prince. Oppression, real or fancied, the restriction of liberty, the bitter clash of party, sinister intrigues, merciless vengeance, seemed all to have been abandoned for the moment at least, as the nation pressed forward in the funeral procession. This was the day of the burial of their royal dead—the day also of the burial of fellow Roman Catholics—the day following the custom of Roman Catholics, the people wished to join in some way in the solemn mass which was offered for the spiritual welfare of Carlos and his son. The streets were thronged with people. They poured in from the country, from towns of the provinces and from nearby cities, some by

A wireless station at Point Loma, near San Diego, picked up the Connecticut, the sailing ship off the coast of Cuba, took down the message and also picked up a message being sent from the wireless station at Pensacola, Fla. Experts are wondering whether the message went across the continent or in the other direction around the world.

WARSHIPS PASSING

Through the Dangerous Waters of Strait of Magellan.

The Scenery on All Sides Is of Superb Grandeur.

Punta Arenas, Strait of Magellan, Feb. 8, 2 a. m.—The American battleships, accompanied by the torpedo boat, flotilla, cleared the harbor at 1 o'clock this morning on their way through the western half of the strait to the Pacific coast of South America.

Through the dangerous channels of the western portion of Magellan strait, navigating with extreme caution until Cape Pillar, the westernmost point of the southern side of the strait, has been left well behind and the waters of the broad Pacific fairly entered, the American battleship fleet and torpedo boat destroyer flotilla now continue their remarkable cruise. From Punta Arenas their course lies southward to Cape Froward, the southernmost point on the mainland of South America, from Cape Froward, the strait turns and extends 150 miles in a northwesterly direction. After Cape Pillar has been cleared the battleships' prow will be turned northward and a course laid along the Chilean coast to a point off Valparaiso and thence to Callao.

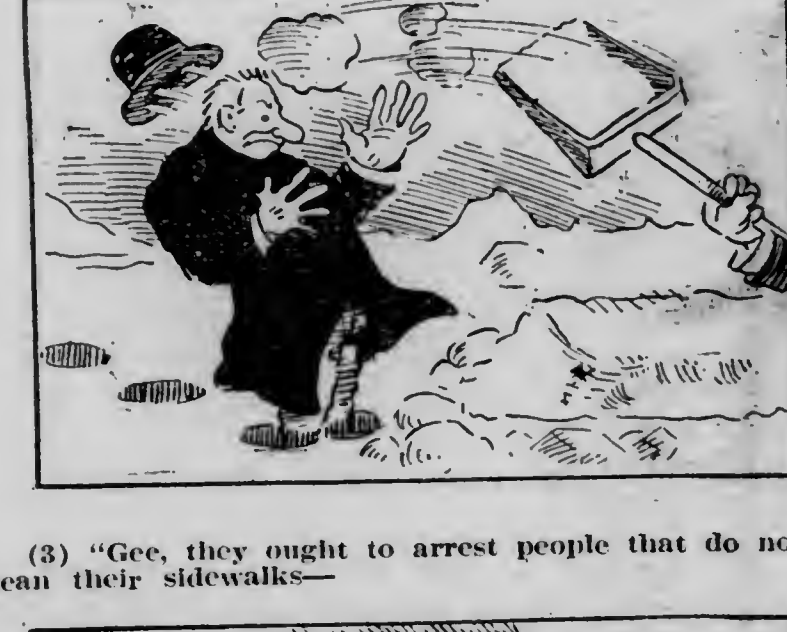

Lieut. Conner's flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers will part company with the battleships when Smyth channel, thirty miles from the western end of Magellan Strait, is reached and proceed northward through this channel. They will follow an inside route that will keep the little vessels well protected from heavy weather and also will shorten their voyage to Talcahuano, (Continued on page 3, third column.)

AT THE LYCEUM

The Mack-Leone Players Will Appear Every Evening Next Week Except Monday, in Paul Potter's Version of "Trilby."

Commencing Tuesday, Feb. 11 the Mack-Leone players will present Paul Potter's elaborate version of the very celebrated novel "Trilby."

Mr. Mack, who has never been seen here in such a part, will play the hypnotic Svengali. Miss Leone will play the artist's beautiful model, Trilby, over whom Svengali uses such a horrible influence. Mr. Chapman will be seen as Taffy, Mr. Hoffman as Sandy, Mr. Johnson as Jack, and the new juvenile man, Mr. Charles, will be seen as "Little Billie." Mr. Patton has the comedy part of the piece, the part particularly in his line, Miss Farnum will play Madam Viceroy; Miss Meade, Mrs. Bagot; Miss Cameron, Phil; and the balance of the cast in good roles.

Oppozo, Sossi and Fornari, will appear in Duluth for three performances, beginning Feb. 11. The company will not give a matinee, but will be heard Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The engagement was unexpected, owing to the company's inability to get the St. Paul auditorium, and the arrangements were just completed by Mr. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum.

The repertoire of the company for the Duluth engagement has not yet been announced, but it will probably include "Carmen" and "Faust," with "Aida" as the third bill.

The company is said to be one of the largest that ever visited Duluth for any form of operatic entertainment.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

List of Good Productions That Are Coming to the Lyceum.

While the last two months have seen a scarcity of first-class road attractions at the Lyceum, the next four weeks promises an improvement. On Feb. 22 Cohan & Hartie's big musical attraction, "George Washington, Jr.," will be at the Lyceum for two performances, and it will be followed in rapid succession by "The Devil's Auction," James J. Corbett in "The Burglar," and "The Lady." "The Red Mill," Frank Daniels and his company in "The Tattooed Man," Wilton Lackaye in "The Bondsman," and "Red Feather."

AT THE METROPOLITAN

The Gay Treadors Will Give a Week's Entertainment, Comprising Lively Burlesque and a Complete Bill of Vaudeville Features.

The Gay Treadors, care-free Mexican persons, will be at the Metropolitan all next week, giving the usual matinees.

The company is new on the circuit this season, but it is under the management of Olga Orloff, who is said to know the burlesque branch of the amusement business better than any other man.

The company is headed by Bobby Harris and A. L. Bruce, and boasts of gorgeous costuming effects, bright musical music and snappy ensembles, and is heralded as being generally entertaining from start to finish.

Olga Orloff, a dashing soprano of Spanish type, is the leader of the feminine contingent, ably assisted by Nettie Hyle and Mildred Valmore, two captivating sopranettes. Miss Orloff will be remembered as the principal woman, with several other companies seen here in the past.

AT THE BIJOU

The Five Gaffney Dancing Girls Will Head Next Week's Vaudeville Bill--Several Other Novelties in the Program.

Vaudeville will be seen in all its shining lights next week at the Bijou. The bill of novelties offered is of the all feature variety, and it would be hard to say which act should be placed as the headliner. The program includes the Five Gaffney Dancing girls, the biggest musical comedy offering seen in vaudeville this season. The songs, dances and spectacular numbers are all original and cleverly produced. The act was engaged by the United Theater company, and are now on its first road trip, as it has been appearing with great success in the Eastern cities so far this season.

Another act that has been a big success in New York this season will be Miss Rialto, the fascinating model, who set the vaudeville patrons talking in the East. Miss Rialto is assisted by the celebrated lyric tenor, J. Louis Mintz. They present the musical play, entitled "The Artist's Dream," which will no doubt be the same big hit in Duluth that it is elsewhere.

The following press note from a Cleveland paper tells about Odell and Kinley, who will be seen the coming week:

"Pierrot and Pierrette have a brand of humor decidedly their own, and in blending singing, dancing and acrobatics they show skill that places them in the front ranks of advanced vaudeville. Miss Kinley makes a neat appearance, and works with a good degree of enthusiasm. Frank Odell's make-up is artistic and funny, and an acrobatic comedian needs no introduction. Their acrobatic dancing is ish was received with generous applause."

A fine musical treat will be Musical Lowe, who was soloist with Sousa's band for two seasons, and is considered to be the best xylophonist before the public. He also plays selections upon several new instruments. An excellent act will be the Comers and Alders, who are two comedians, singers and dancers that have been a big hit over the entire circuit.

Isador Silver will sing a new popular ballad, entitled "With You in Eternity."

The illustrations are said to be exceptionally good. The moving pictures for the week will be "The Racing Horses," a spectacular and exciting motion picture. Several comedy pictures will also be shown. Matinees are given every day at 2:45, and evening performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved by either phone. The usual school children's matinee will be given Saturday afternoon, with performances Sunday afternoon and night. There will be no advance in prices for this feature show.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

E. H. Sothern Revives "Our American Cousin"--- "The Waltz Dream" Makes a Fine Impression---Adeline Genée Dances Herself Into Favor.

New York, Feb. 8.—E. H. Sothern revived "Our American Cousin" at the Lyric this week, assuming the part of Lord Dundreary, made famous by his father. The play was first produced thirty years ago, but its reception proved that it still possesses strong vitality. The audience laughed just as long as Dundreary was on the stage. The critics the next day were all with one exception, bubbling over with praise. Alan Dale alone undertook to dissect the anatomy of the jokes in the play. There has been on the New York stage a revival of "The American Cousin" would be impossible now. But Dundreary lives again in the younger Sothern, and Dundreary is the play. There has been on the New York stage a revival of "The American Cousin" would be impossible now. But Dundreary lives again in the younger Sothern, and Dundreary is the play.

After no end of puffery advertising, Adeline Genée has come to town and taken possession of the Lyric. She is a Danish girl, who has for several years owned a good position in London. She is a dancer, and her conquest over this metropolis, as a dancer she is the ne plus ultra of ballerinas. After her debut at the New York theater the night of Feb. 1, she is about the poorest medium in the world to do justice to Adeline Genée. A poet laureate, by her dancing, the inspired essayist of the dreaded first act is overcome by the difficulties of the tape. One might hurry together all the adjectives possible, still much would remain to be said. She is a dancer, and her conquest over this metropolis, as a dancer she is the ne plus ultra of ballerinas.

The musical event of the week was the first local production of "The Waltz Dream" at the Broadway theater. The interest of the production was responsible for the packed house that greeted the latest Vienna importation. The musical work of Oscar Strauss was looked forward to with feverish anticipation, and in a way realized all that was expected of it. So far as tunefulness goes the play was a success. It is with the libretto, however, that the production itself. The book does not possess the interest of its rival, and the music is not up to the mark. This notwithstanding, the production promises to hold its own on Broadway.

The triumph of the evening was scored by a young tenor who has made a reputation locally as a church singer. His name is Howard Johnson, who sings "I Knew a Soldier." The following press note from a Cleveland paper tells about Odell and Kinley, who will be seen the coming week:

"Pierrot and Pierrette have a brand of humor decidedly their own, and in blending singing, dancing and acrobatics they show skill that places them in the front ranks of advanced vaudeville. the Emperor Joachim, desiring to perpetuate his name, has decided to marry the Princess Helene of Prussia. The lieutenant reluctantly obeys, marries the princess, but the very night of the wedding leaves the palace and repairs to the public house, where he plays the waltz which he has heard in his dreams. The princess, who is a young girl, becomes interested in the lieutenant, and the two are about to be married when the lieutenant, having been induced to return to the palace, becomes enamored of the princess, and the inference is that they live happily ever after.

The finale of the second act, representing the garden scene, is worked up into a splendid effect and created a storm of enthusiasm. Two waltz movements permeate the whole act. One is the dream waltz, which is repeated in various forms; the other is the kiss waltz, a haunting melody, which was well sung and scored a marked effect. Several other charming numbers are dispersed through the opera which exercise a pronounced spell. The full value of the work was not developed, through the unevenness of the orchestral features and the fact that the opera is not as well cast as it might be. The adaptation is in the main excellent, marred only in one unfortunate particular by the interpolation of some cheap American musical comedy nonsense in the shape of a cut-out Italian melody in the second act. It provides a few moments of violent fun, but is wholly out of keeping with the artistic spirit of the rest of the work. The libretto is by Louis Edouard, the music by Joseph Herlihy.

Like "The Merry Widow," the interest in "The Waltz Dream" centers around the seductive strains of a waltz. This fact has led to much discussion in the press. By all the writers I have followed it is treated as a son of a gun. The waltz theme will readily recall the waltz theme of Doelling's "Don Caesar," an operetta successfully presented by the Metropolitan Opera company. The libretto dealt with the familiar "Don Caesar de Brazil" material. Don Caesar is confined in prison, condemned to be shot. During his confinement he is visited by a beautiful girl, the fourth time, who so fascinates his jailer that he becomes Don Caesar's friend and is persuaded by the latter to withdraw the bullets from the guns with which the soldiers are to execute Don Caesar. The plot turns on the waltz and permeates the whole score. Even Doelling was not the first to employ this device, but his popular opera is the most conspicuous example of its use in comparatively recent times. Twenty years ago the waltz from "Don Caesar" was greatest man in the way of interests that the American theater knows today, the public hears little of him and knows practically nothing. A statement of conditions from him, however, is comprehensive, and as it breaks his custom of continual silence, he needs that prompted this action must have been urgent or exasperating in the extreme.

Mr. Hayman is the silent power behind the big theatrical syndicate. When questions of policy are being argued, his is the last word. His income from theaters, plays and kindred enterprises is enormous, and his grasp of the situation must be wonderfully sure when such men as A. L. Erlanger and Charles Frohman are not only interested with him, but are always influenced by his advice and counsel. These things being understood by the layman, the fact that Mr. Hayman's business is better than ever, and that he leaves for his annual trip abroad without the slightest uneasiness, means a good deal. He also possesses a wider interest, for the theater is a safe harbor of refuge in the world of business. That peculiar mixture, "the dread business man," is distinctly an American institution. He exists, however, and he has a right to his fame as a patron of the world of amusements. The theaters prosper because much to him in the way of encouragement.

During the time when theatricals were away off Mr. Hayman kept his own counsel. When the calamity howler was bellowing, the outlook, he had nothing to say, and when self-constituted optimists rushed in to stem the tide by the assurance of their statements, that they did not heartily believe in themselves at the time, for them Mr. Hayman had nothing to say, and when self-constituted optimists rushed in to stem the tide by the assurance of their statements, that they did not heartily believe in themselves at the time, for them Mr. Hayman had nothing to say.

At the district grand lodge of the Past Masters in Atlantic City last week, a resolution denouncing the caricaturing of Jews upon the vaudeville and musical comedy stage was adopted. It was agreed that this abuse had become so prevalent that it had a tendency to discredit many worthy Hebrews in the estimation of the public. The lodge delegates also decided to inaugurate a movement looking to the curbing of the offense by seeking to have their people refrain from patronizing theaters where the caricatures of Jews have become so prevalent. Similar movements have been made by the Irish and the German societies of the country, and it looks as if the concerted effort will make the caricature of Jews a thing of the past.

Olga Nethersole gets her New York time in Daly's theater for the coming month, and in that realizes a long cherished ambition. When Miss Nethersole first ventured from her English house to this country she was under the direction of the late Augustin Daly and was to have played in Daly's theater. Circumstances came up that made it necessary for Miss Nethersole to play in Falmouth, N. S. W. (New Brunswick), and it was there that she made her American debut. In the intervening time she has been playing in various theaters, and it is recognized by her managers as the foremost comedienne in America, or was up to the time of Mr. Daly's death.

Julia Sanderson, who was out of the cast of "The Dairymaid" for a long time, owing to a slight cold and musical, resumed her place in the cast of that musical comedy last week.

It was just a plain everyday case of protracted tonics. The lady, Mrs. M. D. D., who was out of the cast of that musical comedy last week, resumed her place in the cast of that musical comedy last week.

May de Sousa, the American girl who left "Babes in Toyland" to make a hit in London in the musical comedy, is now playing in revue at the Moulin Rouge, in Paris, and has scored a big hit here as La Belle Americaine.

The other night when "Fifty Miles from Boston" was the attraction at Bridgeport, Conn., Edna Wallace Hoppen, the star, stepped before the curtain in response to vigorous demands for a speech. In her thin, piping voice, she expressed her thanks as best she could. Standing in the first entrance was a tough old fellow whose expression showed his disapproval of her remarks. "That stuff's no good," he said to the stage carpenter. "Why don't she learn Casey at the Bat from her father?"

Frank Worthing has gone to Colorado Springs, where he will remain for some time, taking a good long rest before returning to the East. The attack of pneumonia that nearly killed him in Washington, D. C., has left him in a weak state, and he is expected to spend the late winter months and the early spring in a more salubrious climate.

Another well known member of the theatrical colony to be stricken with appendicitis is Mrs. Helen Cohan, mother of George M. Cohan, who has been ill for the past several days. She is now slowly recovering from the attack that caused her trouble.

Charles Dalton, the English actor, has been secured by Lieber & Co. to play an important role in support of Mrs. Patrick Campbell when she presents "Electra" in this country soon.

William H. Crane will play the Empire theater for his New York run in George Ade's comedy, "Father and the Boys." Instead of going into the Knickerbocker theater, as was originally announced, it turns out that "The Talk of New York," the Cohan musical comedy is such a hit that it will remain for the season at the Knickerbocker, and Crane will have his hearing at the Empire when Maude Adams ends her stay there. The London version of the fifth adaptation from the French, called "Follies," now in rehearsal, will be produced outside of New York by Manager Frohman and a theater in the metropolis will be found for its run later.

Miss Viola Allen, from all accounts, has fallen heir to the biggest success she has known as a star since her earliest experience with "The Christian." Her present vehicle, "Irene Wycheley," has made a fine impression in New York, where it is spoken of as one of the finest and strongest modern dramas produced in several seasons.

Kenneth Lee, who was known for the pretty sketches and one-act plays he has written for Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Brew and the late Johnstone Bennett, succumbed last week to an attack of heart failure. "When Two Hearts Are One" and "A Quiet Evening at Home," used respectively by the Drews and Johnstone Bennett, were perhaps the best known of the author's writings in this country. The deceased was a member of the famous Carmichael family of Ireland, and by inheritance was for a long time a captain in the Papal guard. He adopted the stage name of Kenneth Lee for his writing, and subsequently had that bestowed upon him by legal process.

Following the example of various other stars, it is said that Charles Frohman is contemplating an experimental season of revivals for Ethel Barrymore next season. She will devote the greater part of her time to a beautiful production of "As You Like It," but will also have in her repertoire "The School for Scandal."

Though Clara Bloodgood was never able to make Clyde Fitch's best play, "The Truth," a sure go in this country, and the failure of that effort is one of the causes attributed by her friends as the reason for Mrs. Bloodgood's suicide, it is said that some day the play may be revived. The play was written by Clyde Fitch, and was produced by Charles Frohman. It was a success in New York, but failed in London. Mrs. Bloodgood was a member of the famous Carmichael family of Ireland, and by inheritance was for a long time a captain in the Papal guard. He adopted the stage name of Kenneth Lee for his writing, and subsequently had that bestowed upon him by legal process.

Following the example of various other stars, it is said that Charles Frohman is contemplating an experimental season of revivals for Ethel Barrymore next season. She will devote the greater part of her time to a beautiful production of "As You Like It," but will also have in her repertoire "The School for Scandal."

Though Clara Bloodgood was never able to make Clyde Fitch's best play, "The Truth," a sure go in this country, and the failure of that effort is one of the causes attributed by her friends as the reason for Mrs. Bloodgood's suicide, it is said that some day the play may be revived. The play was written by Clyde Fitch, and was produced by Charles Frohman. It was a success in New York, but failed in London. Mrs. Bloodgood was a member of the famous Carmichael family of Ireland, and by inheritance was for a long time a captain in the Papal guard. He adopted the stage name of Kenneth Lee for his writing, and subsequently had that bestowed upon him by legal process.

that it will remain for the season at the Knickerbocker, and Crane will have his hearing at the Empire when Maude Adams ends her stay there. The London version of the fifth adaptation from the French, called "Follies," now in rehearsal, will be produced outside of New York by Manager Frohman and a theater in the metropolis will be found for its run later.

Miss Viola Allen, from all accounts, has fallen heir to the biggest success she has known as a star since her earliest experience with "The Christian." Her present vehicle, "Irene Wycheley," has made a fine impression in New York, where it is spoken of as one of the finest and strongest modern dramas produced in several seasons.

Kenneth Lee, who was known for the pretty sketches and one-act plays he has written for Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Brew and the late Johnstone Bennett, succumbed last week to an attack of heart failure. "When Two Hearts Are One" and "A Quiet Evening at Home," used respectively by the Drews and Johnstone Bennett, were perhaps the best known of the author's writings in this country. The deceased was a member of the famous Carmichael family of Ireland, and by inheritance was for a long time a captain in the Papal guard. He adopted the stage name of Kenneth Lee for his writing, and subsequently had that bestowed upon him by legal process.

DULUTH WILL BE THE MECCA FOR THE BEST SKI JUMPERS OF AMERICA NEXT WEEK

National Tournament Will Attract Thousands of Visitors Here.

Big Event is Attracting Interest Throughout the Country.

Crack Duluth Riders Are Entered in All the Events.

World's Records for Long Jumps Likely to Be Broken.

Next week Duluth will welcome the National Ski association, scores of ski riders from all over the Northwest, and their friends, numbering far into the thousands. Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, crowds larger than any ever gathered together for a sporting event in the Northwest, will spread over Chester Hill to see an exhibition of the great Scandinavian sport, never equaled in the United States.

The annual tournament of the National Ski association this year will be the greatest in the history of the organization. For months the members of the Duluth club have been working to accomplish this end. They have expended fully $25,000 in purchasing ground and laying out a slide, which is the largest artificial hill in the world. They have given unstintingly of their time and energy. All through the Northwest—in fact all through the United States—the annual tournament of the National Ski association has been advertised, and the eyes of thousands, not Scandinavians alone, but interested in good, honest, wholesome outdoor sport, will be in Duluth next week.

The members of the Ski club have received the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Duluth. They have been encouraged in their efforts by the fact that Duluth is interested in sports of the right kind. The club includes in its membership prominent business men of the city, who are working shoulder to shoulder with the men who were born in the home of ski riding, that the national tournament may be a success. The business houses of the city, almost without exception, will close next Wednesday afternoon, and everybody who has the inclination may witness the slide on Chester Hill.

Best Slide in the Country.
There is no sport more spectacular than skiing, and this year's tournament will see it at its best. The 200-foot slide is the longest ever used by ski riders in the United States. It is built for experts, that they may be at their best. The sheer slide before the jump is at an angle for the greatest speed. The jump after the slide is fitted for the longest jumps. Ole Feiring's jump of 117 feet in practice competition, a few days ago, is indicative of what may be expected at the national tournament, and all American records will be sent flying skyward. Predictions are that 125 feet will be covered. But none would be surprised if the record should go beyond that figure. The hill is fit for it, the riders entered are the best in the United States, and phenomenal jumps are expected.

From all over the Northwest people are coming to the tournament. The popularity of skiing is spreading. It is not confined now to the people who were born across the water, and whose winter recreation is taken on skis from the time they are able to stand. Among all classes, the charm of the sport has taken hold, and whoever is interested in the sport will not miss a national tournament if he can possibly attend. The low rates on Minnesota and Wisconsin railroads, under the new rate law, puts Duluth within reach of scores of towns, which touches the Copper country, Ishpeming, Munising and other centers of ski riding, has reduced its fare to 2 cents a mile for the occasion, and thousands of people will pour into Duluth tomorrow and Monday to remain through the two days of the tournament.

Duluth riders are prime for the big event. In Ole Feiring, John Manseth, Gustave Bye and John Evenson, Duluth has four of the best riders such as is gathered in no other one city in the United States. Ole Feiring is the present national champion. Last year at Red Wing, Minn., he jumped 114 feet, breaking the former record by a good margin. This year, in practice competition with other Duluth riders, on the Chester creek hill, he covered 117 feet, and Duluth people expect to see him well up in the front in the national tournament. He has shown surprising form and the rider who excels him in the standing jump at the big tourney, must be a marvel.

John Manseth, winner of first prize in the St. Paul tournament in 1907, and of the Martin Smith trophy of the Duluth Ski club the same year, is another Duluth rider, who will be heard from. He won over fifty medals in Norway before coming to the United States, and since he has been participating in tournaments on this side of the water has figured strongly at all times. At Ishpeming in 1906, he captured the prize for the longest standing jump and the same year was second in the St. Paul tournament. Last year, he finished first in the Duluth tournament, first at St. Paul and second at Eau Claire. This year, he was second in the Duluth tournament. The trophy he won at St. Paul last year is one of the finest ever given a ski rider and it is prized highly by the winner.

Gustave Bye is the veteran of the hill and probably no rider in the tournament next week will have a longer record than he. Bye has been participating in tournaments for twenty-nine years. He was 9 years of age when he first went into competition in his native land, winning first prize in the class of amateurs under 15 years of age. In 1892, he won the king's medal in the big tournament of Norway, one of the most coveted prizes in Norway sports. He has 132 trophies won in Europe, besides hundreds of medals. For three years, he held the record jump for Scandinavians.

On this side of the water, Bye has been participating in tournaments for several years. He was always a strong contender at the Ishpeming tournaments before the sport was so widespread and for several years held the American record of 106 feet. He is getting along in years a little now, but his skill, which is the younger riders, but is good for several more years of active work on the hill.

John Evenson has been a runner-up in tournaments for two or three years past and is not the least notable of Duluth's quartet of riders. He is graceful in the air, makes long, but his unreachability after the jump works against him at times.

Olaf Larson is the most graceful rider in the Duluth squad, and probably in the Northwest. His jumps are not exceptionally long, but his grace and poise in the air makes him a strong favorite with the crowds, wherever he has appeared. He brings out the fine points of the game, without making great jumps, and he is an attraction of the tournament.

The Amateurs.
George Jacobson and Arnold Olson are young riders who are fast coming to the front. They will represent Duluth in the amateur contests Tuesday and will count in the final score. Jacobson is the winner of the Duluth News-Tribune trophy this year in the Duluth tournament, and Olson being tied on the first contest and Jacobson winning on the second, Olson is under 15 years of age, and is coming along fast as a rider. He has fine form, both on the slide and in the air, and will be heard from in the adult class before many years pass.

John Rudd, the Duluth man, who electrified crowds twice this year by his sensational somersault in the air on skis, is one of the feature attractions of the tournament. Rudd's feat is something novel—in fact was thought impossible. Constant practice has backed up his intrepidity and now he is able on almost every try to slide from the top of the hill, leave the bump, turn a complete somersault in the air and continue down the hill. The feat has occasioned comment all over the United States and many people will attend the tournament just to see it.

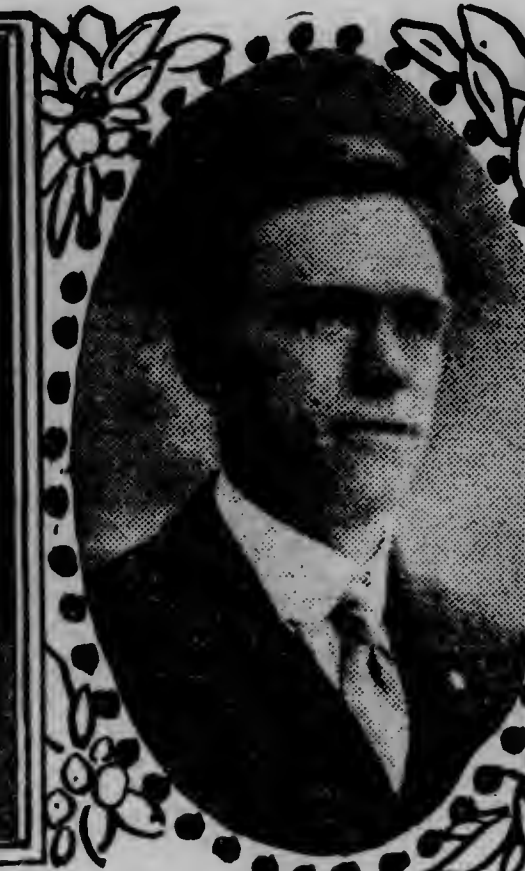

Ishpeming is also sending an attraction to the tournament in the person of Carl Talleen, a diminutive 11-year-old youngster. Young Talleen has been sliding around on skis since he could walk. When but 7 years old he took part of the hill at Ishpeming, and for the past two years has been using the same slide as the professionals. In practice he made eighty feet without a fall and thinks he can do better on the Duluth hill.

The child is so small, his weight hardly affects the scales. He scorned to use anything but the entire hill at Ishpeming, and usually starts with a run. His weight handicaps him in covering ground, but he gets away with extraordinary long jumps for an amateur and his little figure taking the steep slide of Chester hill will present a unique appearance.

Lokken, Korsen and Holm will represent Ishpeming in the professional class and the Menafite City club is placing great hopes in them. They have been doing 100 feet on the Ishpeming hill, using a take-off below the top, and the Ishpeming hill isn't in shape for the jumps possible at the national tournament. With such marks to their credit, the Ishpeming riders are not to be lost to vision in the class of also-rans. They'll bear watching.

Coleman Jumpers.
From Coleman comes Ole Jonnum, surrounded by a bandy lot of other less notable figures. Jonnum's claim to fame comes from his jump of 114 feet at the Ishpeming tournament, Washington's birthday, last year. The mark, however, was never credited to Jonnum by the association for some reason, and he will be forced to go out and gain it anew this year if he hopes to be the title holder. Jonnum is a graceful rider, with the added ability to cover distance. He is rangy and heavy, at the same time gains good momentum on the slide, and carries his weight well in the air.

St. Paul will send eight riders for the amateur tournament Tuesday, and Minneapolis will have a squad. Red Wing riders usually score, and Minneapolis.

ing, Mich., has some good men. A cluster of Northern Wisconsin towns have a string of likely riders, and they will also be represented.

The big tournament will open Tuesday afternoon with the amateur events, which will be as interesting as the professional contests the following day. Trophies and medals will be provided for the amateurs, and the entries are heavy.

Tuesday night the parade, a feature of the tournament, will be held. Headed by a band, over a hundred riders on skis, with lighted torches, a float containing officers of the Ski club, with a supply of fireworks, and the members of the Northern and Houghton hockey teams in carriages, will leave the corner of Fourth avenue west and First street, about 7 o'clock, move east on First street to Lake avenue, south on Lake avenue to Superior street, and then west along Superior street to Eight avenue west. The ski riders, with the torches, will continue to the ball park, while the others will follow in street cars, and the Northern and Houghton hockey teams will play on the ice at the ball park.

The route of the parade will be brightly illuminated by the procession. Sky rockets and Roman candles will be used in profusion. The carriages will be decorated becomingly, and the ski riders, in their picturesque dress and hockey players in their uniforms, will form a unique spectacle.

Wednesday, the professional contests, with the best riders in America striving to take down the prizes and break records, will be held, and on that day all Duluth will turn out to do honor to the Scandinavian national sport. It is expected the crowd will number fully 20,000 people, if the weather is suitable, and the members of the Duluth club have high hopes of realizing their dreams of the greatest ski tournament ever held in the United States.

MORSE FOUND ON CAMPANIA

Grants Interview and Says He Will Soon Be Back.

Queens town, Feb. 8.—A correspondent of the Associated Press last night boarded the Cunard line steamer Campania and found Charles W. Morse of New York in the smoking room enjoying a game of cards.

Without a moment's hesitation, Mr. Morse granted an interview to the correspondent. He was shown extracts from London papers referring to him as having fled from his creditors, etc. Mr. Morse said there was absolutely nothing in these reports, saying they were New York sensationalists. He added that he had sent cable dispatches to New York concerning his position, and that he would rectify matters when he returned there. He was traveling partly on business and partly for pleasure for a week or ten days.

Asked where he proposed going, after he landed at Liverpool, Mr. Morse said that his stay will not exceed ten days on this side, and that then I will return to New York.

Mr. Morse proceeded from Queens town to Liverpool on board the Campania. He is traveling under an assumed name, probably C. C. Moore.

REFORMING CRIMINALS.

Not Their Punishment Should be Aim of Society.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Whittaker, superintendent of the Indiana state reformatory at Jeffersonville, Ind., who was in the city this week paying a visit to the local state reformatory, is a firm believer in reformatory and indeterminate sentences for criminals.

"The reformation of the criminal, not his punishment, should be the first aim of society," he said. "The only real punishment which can be inflicted upon a criminal is the taking away of his liberty. The shaved head, the ball and chain, the unsanitary cell, curses and brutal punishment, which were formerly meted out to prisoners, caused only humiliation. No individual was ever reformed, benefited or cured of his criminal traits by humiliation."

The indeterminate sentence and parole laws have proved a more effective than the old custom of fixing sentences in the reformatory or "curing" of prisoners, he said. He asserted that the ideal indeterminate sentence law will be one in which no maximum or minimum terms are specified, so that prisoners may be kept in penal institutions until cured, just as insane persons are now treated.

AMERICA'S ADVANCE GUARD IN ART

The Sculptor, Who Came to America to Frustrate the Austrian

(Copyright, 1908, by Dexter Marshall.)
Long on money, short on art—that was America's position for a good many decades. Of late years, however, art in America has been advancing lustily, so that today even Europe, long a scoff at our materialism, generously admits that in our array of painters and sculptors we have a rather formidable advance guard in art, spelled with a big A.

In 1876, when he was 20 years old, John W. Alexander of late years one of the most prominent members of America's advance guard in art, traveled from Allegheny, Pa., his birth town, to New York with $75 which he had managed to save for that purpose.

As a more lad he had busied himself with "making pictures" and dreaming dreams of the day when he would win fame as a painter. About the first thing he did when he reached the metropolis was to seek out the publishing house of Harper & Brothers and send in to the art manager, Mr. Parsons, some pen and ink sketches which he had made on the pages of an account book. He sat a long while on the bench in the outer office before Mr. Parsons saw him and then he received the chilling word that there was no chance for him.

Now among young Alexander's dreams there was one of the day when his signed work would appear in the Harper publication, and his disappointment was naturally keen. The art manager noticed his dejection.

"No, there is no chance," he repeated, a little less brusquely, and then added, "but you may call again."

"I did call again a week later," Mr. Alexander told me. "Mr. Parsons had been having trouble of some kind that day and he looked over his glasses at me as he remarked testily, 'I told you there was no chance.'"

"But you said I might call again," I ventured.

"Yes, I know," he said, still testily, "but unless you want to take that boy's job, nodding to the office boy, 'I can give you nothing.'"

"My apparent eagerness to take the job plainly startled Mr. Parsons, who hastened to explain that he had no idea that I would turn office boy. Besides, the pay was only $3 a week and the boy who held the job was the son of the head of the mechanical departments."

"Again my face fell. Again Mr. Parsons noted my disappointment. He begged to be excused for a moment while he could go and see what could be done about my case. On his return he told me to begin work on the following Monday."

"I did, and the Saturday evening of the first week I cleaned up the place more thoroughly than it had ever been cleaned before. I swept under the tables and desks, which, apparently, had never been swept under before, and when I had finished I had built up a little mountain of dirt. I looked not unlike a coal heaver. I had got thoroughly sweaty and the dirt stuck to me.

"Worse than that, everybody had gone home but me, and when I tried to get out, down on the street level, after climbing down the cylinder stairs between the two buildings, the janitor or watchman or whatever he was, who had never seen me, proposed that I should be arrested. I had a hard time trying to convince him that I was all right and it looked for a while as if I were slated to be locked up till the following Monday morning at least."

"I was kept pretty busy as an office boy, but I had time to draw a little, and once in a while my drawings were used. By and by I got $3 a week instead of $3 and drew all the time. The pay was still small, but I was happy, for I was in the same establishment with Edwin A. Abbey, C. S. Reinhardt and other artists—illustrators whose signatures I had watched for, week after week, in Harper's Weekly. If you've ever watched for signatures, week after week on pictures, you know how like Elysium the art department of Harper's was to me."

"On the $3 salary I finally saved enough to go to Europe and study."

For the next twenty years Mr. Alexander lived abroad. He received his art education in the Royal Academy of Fine Art in Munich, and both there and while he was struggling to make his reputation his experiences were frequently of a par with his New York efforts to make a living and at the same time be faithful to his art.

Finally he triumphed, and today he is recognized in all the art centers of the world as one of its leading painters. He has won enough gold medals to hide the expansive chest of a comic opera general. In 1898 his picture known as "The Green Bowl" was bought by the French minister of fine arts for the Luxembourg collection, an honor that has come to only a very few Americans.

Three years later he was made chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French government, the following year he became an academicien of the academy; today he is a member of practically all the famous societies of artists and his canvases are in numerous private and public collections on both sides of the Atlantic.

He is one of the men whose brushes have made the decorations of the congressional library at Washington world famous, and it was he who received the important commission to decorate the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh.

Like the late Whistler, another member of America's advance guard of art, Mr. Alexander works with marvelous rapidity and nervously. Physically he is slight, five feet nine or thereabouts, with a blond and full but not bushy beard and mustache and rather scant hair. His temperament is that of the prosperous banker and his patriotism has not been weakened a whit by the two-score years' residence abroad.

Abbey the Coronation Painter.

Edwin A. Abbey, whose name was widely heralded a few years ago when he was selected by King Edward to paint the coronation picture, is one of several members of America's advance guard in art who have become expatriates, at least to the extent that they have their permanent residences abroad.

On the authority of one of Mr. Abbey's close relatives the statement is made that the late King Oscar had not a little to do with the ultimate selection of Mr. Abbey as the coronation painter.

A short time after he became a member of the Royal Academy, Mr. Abbey, according to a custom relating to new members, was called on to arrange a private view for royalty of the academy's impending annual exhibition.

He was given King Oscar, then on a visit to London, to conduct about the gallery.

This was a delightful task until the king found himself before his conductor's exhibit.

"The Trial of Queen Catherine." The royal sovereign noted the name of the painter, planted himself firmly before the canvas and began firing question after question at its creator.

The other members of the party were attracted to the spot, and for the next half hour the king kept up his quizzing, while the royal personages and the artists grouped about were alternately amused at the king's queries and Mr. Abbey's struggle between his modesty and his desire to give his inquisitor the information sought.

Mr. Abbey afterward admitted that this was one of the worst half hours he had ever lived through. But it was instrumental in ultimately bringing him world-wide distinction.

When King Edward was casting about for the proper artist to execute the coronation painting, he chanced one day to bring the matter up in conversation with King Oscar, who recalled the time he had been thrown through the Royal Academy by Mr. Abbey and the satisfactory answers the latter had given to all questions propounded to him on the technique of painting.

Thereupon King Edward, for the first time, though he had long been acquainted with Abbey's work, began to consider him for the commission.

Abbey was hardly more than promoted from his cradle, when he began to draw. His first efforts, on the fly-leaves and margins of books and magazines, attracted the attention of the family, and among his friends. He was then four years old. By the time he had reached baseball age he had illustrated the house from cellar to garret with sketches of his family, his home and his playmates. He divided his time about evenly between the great American game and sketching, and at school, when he should have been poring over the three Rs, he was deeply engrossed in the pleasant pastime of making pictures.

The boy's father, a merchant in Philadelphia, turned to the sketch book and brush for recreation throughout his life; the boy's grandfather, also a merchant in the same city, had found in the pleasant pastime of making pictures the same way. Edwin's father planned a business career for his son, encouraging him, meanwhile, in his drawing that he, too, might find peace in it when business cares came to him. But one day the father started declared for an artist's career. Several years later he began his art education at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, where from the start he was looked upon as a most promising student.

It was in 1866, when he was 14 years old, that Abbey had the pleasure of first seeing some of his handiwork in print. This was an illustrated rebus, which he had made for Oliver Optic's paper, Our Boys and Girls. After that he frequently had illustrations in the paper, and so clever were they that Oliver Optic (Mr. Adams) himself took the trouble to make the acquaintance of the youngster, formed a great liking for him and later dedicated a book to him.

Two years after the appearance of the rebus, Abbey entered a wood engraver's shop. About the same time he had accepted by Harper's Weekly, over which he had posed as a child, a sketch, entitled "The First Thanksgiving." Three years later he went to New York to become a member of the Weekly's staff. In the meantime he had studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, acquired there a local reputation for laziness as well as brilliancy, and had several sketches eagerly watched for by them from week to week, his salary was not numerous, but every cent he could spare went into decorations for his studio, a hobby which has clung to him all through his career, and accounts in a large measure for the magnificent fittings of his English home.

During the seven years that he was plied down to a desk, doing black and white for a living, he worked in water colors for recreation, but not until he had been abroad for a year did he receive any decided recognition in his line.

Abbey made his first trip abroad in order to get the necessary "color" at first hand for the illustrations he had been commissioned by Harper's to make for a book of Robert Herrick's poems. The day he set foot on England's soil he became fascinated with the life there, and though he did not permanently take up his residence abroad till 1882, since 1878, when he first saw England, he has lived there almost wholly—for his art's sake, he and his friends declare.

Though Abbey is a painter of the past he has never been guilty of an anachronism in his finished product, so far as the critics are aware. Above all things else he despises such a "break."

To the end that his paintings may be true of the times they represent, even in the slightest details of dress, he has made what is probably the most wonderful and valuable collection of antique habiliments and accessories known to the modern world of art.

He considers time spent in avoiding an anachronism or undoing one doubly spent. That he might not be guilty of an anachronism in "The Castle of King Amphoritas" he made a journey to Brittany simply to sketch and model certain peculiar details of architecture; and when he found that he had made a slight mistake in the heraldic design on the skirt of Lady Anne in "Richard Duke of Gloucester and the Lady Anne" he did the skirt all over again.

This passion for minute corrections he displayed as a boy. Among his first sketches to be published was one entitled "Tracking Rabbits." He used his brother and another playmate as models, and so insistent was he that their dress be correct in every detail that the two models refused several times to accommodate the ambitious artist longer.

Mr. Abbey's home, Morgan Hill, in Gloucestershire, is a rambling and picturesque structure over 200 years old. It is surrounded by thirty acres of typical English land, and ever since Mr. Abbey has been its owner the house has undergone frequent alteration. It is said to be one of the most artistically furnished homes in all England.

It was at Morgan Hill, but not in it, that the famous series of panels known collectively as "The Quest for the Holy Grail" was painted. Mr. Abbey had erected what he described in a letter to a relative as "an abomination of corrugated iron," and in this the great panels were executed after their creator had spent months patiently searching for data and accessories to make them historically accurate in the slightest detail beyond the peradventure of doubt.

A Trio of Famous Portrait Painters. John S. Sargent, who has been called "the greatest portrait painter now living," even by European art critics, is an intimate friend of Abbey's and like him, has his residence abroad. He declares, however, that he is a good American, and certainly he displayed sturdy American spirit some years ago by refusing the privileges of British citizenship offered him by Queen Victoria. He has spent practically his whole life on the other side of the Atlantic. He was born in Italy of American parents in 1856, learned to speak German before he did English, received his art education in Paris and has traveled in many lands since, occasionally coming to America to paint portraits. He is among the comparatively few great artists who did not lack funds with which to pursue his art studies.

Of an exceedingly retiring disposition, Sargent has gathered a reputation for eccentricity little less pronounced than Whistler's. One of his peculiarities is to charge for a portrait according to the pleasure he gets out of painting it. Hence some sitters have paid him as

LAKE SUPERIOR IRON MINES BUTTE OUTPUT IS INCREASED OPERATING FIVE FURNACES

Two More Concrete Shafts to be Sunk in Swanzy District of Marquette Range--No Mining in Cascade District. Production For January Nearly Double That of December--Davis-Daly Ore is to Be Treated at Basin--Work on the North Butte Extension is Satisfactory. Calumet & Arizona Smelter Being Run to Its Full Capacity--Mining Force Also Increased--The Shattuck and Denn Management.

One concrete shaft having successfully been put down to the ledge at the new Smith mine, in the Swanzy district of the Marquette range, the sinking of two more shafts of similar kind in the same district has been decided upon by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. The work will be done by contract. The air-lock system will be used. Ordinary methods of sinking are impossible because of a heavy overburden. The shafts will be 35 by 35 feet in dimensions, and each will go down upwards of 100 feet before entering the substantial ground. Very large deposits have been located in the Swanzy district by the Cleveland Cliffs company, the result of systematic diamond drill exploration conducted the past few years, and it is unquestionable that an important center of production exists there. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being expended in the development of the field. Already there are four mines, and a fifth is being opened. A model town--Gawson--has been laid out, and its establishment is now well advanced. In time this town will be a thriving little city of not far from 10,000 people. There is in progress at Gawson the unique task of diverting the east branch of the Escanaba river in order to take the stream away from the new Smith mine. This work made excellent headway until a few days ago, when a strata of quicksand was encountered, and since that time the operations have proved more difficult than expected. However, there will be no cessation in the work, and with a steam shovel in commission, a large volume of surface material is excavated daily. The channel will average ten feet in depth and fifty feet in width. With the river diverted into it, and the present bed abandoned, the stream will be carried nearly a mile distant from the Smith mine shaft, whereas it is now within 200 feet of it. No mining work is in progress in this winter in the Cascade district of the Marquette range. Operations were continued last fall, but this property too is idle on a small scale when the shipping season has closed, but this property too is idle on a small scale when the shipping season has closed, but this property too is idle on a small scale when the shipping season has closed.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 8.—The output of the Butte camp for the month of January was nearly double that of December, and was 2,318,450 pounds greater than the output of November. In fact, the output of copper fell not very much short of the output of September, the first month of curtailment by the Amalgamated Copper company. Contributing to the increased output for the month of January was the fact that the Boston & Montana mines were run to their full capacity of about 2,500 tons a day, the ore averaging about 24 1/2 per cent. All of this was sent to the Boston & Montana smelter at Great Falls. It was also due to the fact that the Pittsburgh & Montana Copper company operated its plant at full capacity during the month, treating only first-class ore, however, which ran from 6 to 8 per cent. The output of the East Butte mine, which has been producing since the first of the month, was 300 tons a day, the ore averaging about 24 per cent. big smelter and concentrator at Basin will be running full blast within a very short time. The property is owned by F. Augustus Heinze and it will be opened and started as a custom smelter and mill. Contracts have been signed by the Davis-Daly Estate company, in which Mr. Heinze has a large interest, to treat all the company's ore at Basin. The Lee France Copper company, controlled by Heinze, will ship its ore to Basin, as will also the Lizzie in Butte.

W. T. Van Brunt of New York, president of the North Butte Extension Mining company, is in Butte and visited the mine and inspected the new surface plant and the work being done. The shaft is down 480 feet, eight feet having been sunk during January. A great deal of water has to be handled and considering that fact, the sinking of the shaft is a big achievement. Supt. Jack Ryan hopes to be able to go to the 600 without cutting another shaft, and before putting in another pump. A crosscut may be run at the 600, but it is possible that crosscutting will be deferred until the shaft reaches a depth of 1,000 feet, at which depth the management feels certain, good ore and lots of it will be found in the vein.

Justified it. That was done and the results are satisfactory. Jack Hoy and his associates, who are working the Lizzie claim under lease from the Davis-Daly company, have cut their veins on the 200-foot level, and upon which they had done some mining on the 100. The first vein cut is four feet wide and averages about 10 per cent copper. The second vein, which was opened on the 100, has been penetrated a distance of twenty feet, and is believed to be about forty to forty-five feet wide. It is full of stringers of ore that assay as high as 6 per cent, but the average of the twenty feet is between 3 and 4 per cent. The veins will be opened thoroughly, but under present conditions—the low price of copper and the high smelter rates—no mining can be done at a profit.

Information has reached Butte that the president of a large English corporation is on his way to New York, having in view the securing of a controlling interest in the Butte and London Copper Development company, operating on the flat immediately north of the properties of the Pittsburgh & Montana company. Several of the officers of the Butte & London company are now in London, and it is probable that the English capitalist will make a trip to Butte to make an examination of the property. The heavy investment of English capital in the Butte & London company is of vast importance to the city, and especially to the development of the copper veins of the flat.

UTAH MINE OWNERS COMBINE

Offer Support to Any Independent Smelting Project Now Contemplated--Movement Said to be Designed to Encourage F. A. Heinze.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 8.—Utah mine operators, representing more than fifty producing mines and practically all the productive camps, have organized the Utah Mine Operators' association. John Dern was elected president; Thomas Kearns, first vice president; W. E. Snyder, second vice president; H. S. Joseph, secretary. C. E. Loose, treasurer. These officers, with George W. Ritter, Ernest Bamberger, Lafayette Hanchett and W. C. Alexander, constitute the executive committee. Two days after the organization of the association the executive committee met and unanimously adopted the following resolution: "Whereas one of the objects of the Utah Mine Operators' association is to obtain equitable smelter rates for the ore producers of the state and to promote friendly relations between the ore producers and the smelters; and

Whereas the smelters now operating are not offering the ore producers such rates; Resolved, That this association give to any independent custom smelting project now in contemplation its moral and if necessary its financial support. The resolution is intended to aid the independent smelting scheme which F. Augustus Heinze is pushing with the assistance of several Utah operators. The association is to be let at once for the construction of a converter plant for the Yampa mine at Bingham, to cost $80,000. ## BIG CYANIDE PLANT READY Stratton's Independence to Handle Dump Ore at Cripple Creek--Ore Carrying $200 Per Ton Encountered by Findley Consolidated.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Feb. 8.—The buildings of the new Stratton's Independence cyanide mill, erected on Wilson creek, have been completed, and the machinery has arrived and is now being installed and connected up. The general manager, Charles M. Becker, has just stated that he expects the mill to be in readiness to handle ore about Feb. 15, and by March 1 the mill will be running through a good tonnage. This new mill, which, when completed, will have cost $250,000, will be able to treat 5,000 tons of ore a month. There are thousands and thousands of tons of ore on the Stratton's Independence dump, and this will be handled first. It is stated that during the fifteen years of mining at Cripple Creek there have been many thousands of tons of low-grade, partially oxidized ore left standing in the mine. This eventually will be treated. The Stratton's Independence mill is by far the most expensive and largest plant ever erected in the Cripple Creek district, not excepting the Cripple Creek Homestake, on Ironclad Hill, which has proven generally to be a failure.

GOLDFIELD LEASES ALL IDLE

But Work Will be Resumed on Little Florence and Others Soon--Railroad From Yerington to Walruska and Smelter.

Goldfield, Nev., Feb. 8.—Not a pound of ore has been shipped from Goldfield during the past week and none of the producing leases is working. The Little Florence is making preparations to start up and hopes to have a force by Monday. Because of the high grade of the ore and the short period in which the lease will expire in sixty-nine days, Mine Manager Oliver will not start up until he has a full force of eighty men. The Rogers syndicate adjoining the Little Florence also wants forty men early next week so as to start the work of setting the new compressor has been completed, and the Rosebud lease on the new Goldfield mine, adjoining the Rogers syndicate and the Little Florence is also installing a compressor and preparing to resume. A caving from the roof of one of the crosscuts on the 400-foot level of the Kewanna has uncovered a great body of $100 ore. Nearly the entire 400-foot level is in ore, and the shaft has been opened with drifts and crosscuts. Much of the ore runs from $80 to $100 a ton. The American Smelting & Refining company has put into force a scale of settlements that amounts practically to cash for all ores up to $100 in value. As the great majority of ores in the district run close to that figure, it is believed it will be an easy matter to mix ores for shipment so that a maximum of $90 can be reached, and thus the settlements will not be delayed as heretofore under the forty and sixty-day rule. About fifty Goldfield men have reached the new gold camp in the Plute mountains, seven miles southwest of Searchlight. Many of the locators have secured claims from which surface panning shows free gold running into the thousands.

Never since the inception of the mining and metallurgical industries on the American continent have the dividends paid by corporate enterprises to their shareholders been so large as they were for the year 1907. Greater still would these dividends have been had the market prices of silver, zinc and lead and their allied products continued at the high level which ruled in the first half of 1907. With the depression in business generally, notably in October, November and December, the mines and works which had been producing their capacity were either run at 25 to 50 per cent or were discontinued until financial conditions show an improvement. A careful canvass by the Mining World shows that during the year 1907 no less than 157 metal mines and works in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Central and South America paid dividends aggregating the large total of $97,521,705. Add to this sum the dividends declared previously, and we have a grand total since incorporation of no less than $965,143,992. On the total leased capitalization of $125,528,732 the dividends paid to the end of 1907 show a return of about 83 per cent.

By subdividing the dividends paid by the 157 mines and metallurgical works, we learn that the copper properties hold the lead. During 1907 no less than thirty-three copper mines, principally in the United States, and capitalized at $204,226,145, declared dividends in the aggregate of $12,528,732. The copper mines have distributed among their shareholders the handsome sum of $343,487,389, indicating that they have made more than one and one-half times their outstanding share-capital. No wonder the dividend-paying copper stocks sell at a big premium as a rule. And the dividend-paying silver mines and this also explains why Calumet & Hecla and like meritorious shares are seldom sold at a discount. The investment by the families of the original buyers. The Calumet & Hecla mine, capitalized at only $2,500,000 in 1884, has since sold some months ago at as high as $1,000,000 declared dividends in 1907 amounting to $560,000, or 22 per cent on the capitalization. Since organization (in 1871) Calumet & Hecla has yielded dividends to the enormous total of $106,830,000, or 423 per cent on the $25,000,000 capital. A remarkable record for a mine which produces ore containing about 24 per cent (45 pounds) of copper per ton of mill.

The Largest Dividend. The copper mine that paid the largest dividend in 1907 is Anaconda of Montana, which is controlled by the Amalgamated company; it was $1,800,000 or 28 per cent on the capitalization of $6,400,000. Since its organization in 1895, Anaconda has paid dividends of $38,700,000 or 129 per cent on its share-capital. Boston & Montana, another Amalgamated property, declared dividends of $6,300,000 or 168 per cent on its $3,750,000 capital, making the total paid to date $75,025,000, which is more than fifteen times the capitalization. This is an excellent showing for a mine that has been worked under corporate laws for twenty years. One of the more interesting copper mines, opened within the last years, is the Calumet & Arizona at Bisbee, Ariz. This property has an issued capitalization of $2,900,000 upon which the dividends for 1907 amounted to $3,300,000 or 165 per cent, making the grand total to date $9,300,000 or 465 per cent. In the same state, the Arizona Copper company, largely controlled in Scotland, declared dividends in 1907 of $3,300,000, making the total since organization (in 1884) $11,142,192. The Arizona Copper company, by the way, has undoubtedly the most preplexing capitalization of any of the copper mines in the United States. It has been organized on the guaranteed basis of 7 to 10 per cent on the preferred shares.

An interesting little musical game may be played the following manner: Have as many slips of paper as there are guests, and write on each slip a story after the following example, omitting the words with a musical significance and substituting dashes in their stead. The guests are requested to read the story and to supply the missing words, having had it explained to them that the wanted words must be musical terms. The words to be omitted appear in parentheses:

TOMMY'S STRANGE PARTY.

By Annie James.

Tommy Smith was spending the winter with an uncle and aunt in the sunny Southland. Tommy's mother and father had gone to Europe on a business trip, and had decided to let Tommy remain in his native land, thus keeping him in school without interruption.

During the first week of his parents' absence Tommy felt very lonely, indeed, and many were the hours that he longed and longed to be with Papa and Mama, who were sailing on the great Atlantic Ocean.

But on the second Saturday after his parents' departure Tommy was awakened early in the morning by his aunt, who said to him: "Come, Thomas Henry, get up and dress quickly. I have a great and splendid surprise in store for you today. Don't ask a single question; but get into your Sunday suit and best hat and shoes and be ready for breakfast within 20 minutes, for at the expiration of three-quarters of an hour we'll be starting."

"Starting where?" asked Tommy, scratching one ear and rubbing one eye to get awake.

"Now, Thomas Henry, didn't I tell you not to ask a single question?" And Tommy's aunt Mary laughed and shook her head at the still drowsy boy. "Come, open wide your eyes, for I promise a good time is in store for you. And then Aunt Mary said never a word, but taking three bits of pasteboard from her pocketbook, she held them up for Uncle Joe's and Tommy's inspection, and marched them through the waiting-room to the railroad station straight to the train platform.

"It's an excursion, you see," she at last spoke, "and we must jump on the minute the train draws in, for the seats will be snapped up like hot cakes."

In another minute Aunt Mary, Uncle Joe and Tommy were hustling for seats in the train, which had hardly stopped before they made their entrance into it.

"Joe whiz, I call that a scramble!" said Uncle Joe, as soon as the three of them had secured two good seats, which they turned together.

Tommy's mouth was spread from ear to ear, for if there was anything he really enjoyed above all other pleasures it was riding on a railroad train.

"Well, I'll bet your best boots that there's a big surprise waiting at the other end," said Uncle Joe, leaning on Tommy.

And how does this strike you, son? About as good as a ride on the old Atlantic, being so seashore that even the thought of water makes you turn your boots inside out?"

"This is great," said Tommy, looking at the flying landscape.

"And it will be greater," declared Uncle Joe.

And Uncle Joe was right. As soon as the train pulled into the city station Aunt Mary said to Uncle Joe and Tommy, pointing to a great billboard that faced the train: "What do you think of going to see that this afternoon, eh?"

"The circus!" cried Tommy. "Why, I didn't know they ever had circuses in the winter time, Aunt Mary."

"Of course, we have 'em down here during the months you Northerners call winter," laughed Aunt Mary.

But there was no time spent in late talking. Aunt Mary was hostess for the day, and took her guests to a restaurant, where they had a fine dinner of fried chicken and sweet potatoes. Tommy ate so much that he declared he'd not want another bite that day.

"Wait till after the circus," warned Uncle Joe, warningly.

After dinner they repaired at once to the circus grounds, where was assembled the greatest crowd Tommy had ever seen. Two o'clock found the three through with all the side shows and ready for the big tent. As they passed through the menagerie tent towards the circus tent Tommy was deeply impressed with the strange animals that were crowded about in cages. "Oh, let's stop and see them!" he cried, all enthusiasm.

"We'll do that after the circus," explained Aunt Mary. "As we come out we'll go round the menagerie tent."

It was Tommy's first circus, and he had never enjoyed anything so much in all his life.

But even while the exciting circus performance was going on Tommy's eyes became heavy and he felt that unless he should do something to drive away sleep he would certainly succumb. He had gotten up unusually early that morning, and the ride and the abundant dinner had combined to make him drowsy. He put his head against Aunt Mary's shoulder and closed his eyes, deciding to steal a bit of a nap.

But he hadn't napped long when of a sudden the clown left the circus ring and came up to the row of seats where Tommy sat. "Come with me, kid," he whispered in Tommy's ear. "I'm going to give you a real party in the kitchen tent. Hully-gee, but we'll have a gay time! Say nothing of this to anyone, but creep softly and see what we can do."

"But I want to see the menagerie," said Tommy in a whisper to the clown.

"It will be there to the last monk," declared the clown. "You just come with me and see. Why, the party I'll give you will make you turn double summer-sets, you'll laugh so hard."

Tommy slipped from the side of Aunt Mary, and as that good lady was so busy watching the Japanese jugglers she had no eyes for anything else. Down beneath the high seats Tommy jumped and made his way under them to a curtained exit through which he had seen the clown disappear. And there on the other side the curtain stood the funny fellow, waiting for Tommy.

"Now, is the gayest party that ever you saw," And the clown, dancing and frisking ahead, led Tommy to a great outside tent which they entered hand in hand.

And it was surely a great party. There were assembled all the curious animals that Tommy had seen in the menagerie tent. But now they were uncaged, and stood about laughing and chatting just like human beings. "Why, who ever heard of such talking!" said Tommy, much amazed.

"And you shall be introduced to each individually," promised the clown. Then, hooking his arm into that of Tommy, he walked round the tent, hooting and introducing his young guests to the animals. "Glad to meet you, Mr. Giraffe. How's the show?"

"Ah, glad to meet so fine a young fellow," said Mr. Giraffe. "How's the show?"

SAINT VALENTINE'S EVE IN DASHTOWN

BY HELENA DAVIS.

The boys and girls of Dashedown were making great preparation for a St. Valentine's party. Two of the town girls—May Bruce and Stella Jones—were the "chief promoters," as they styled themselves. The project was of their planning, and they got together every evening after school to talk over the forthcoming festivity.

It had been unanimously voted by the boys and girls to accept the kind offer of Jack Downs to have the party at his home, for Jack's mother was a royal chaperone and hostess to her boy's young friends; and the Downs house was a spacious one, being nicely fitted for the entertainment of guests.

"Have you made out the list of guests?" Jack asked May and Stella one evening as the three walked from school together.

"Oh, yes, Jack," answered May. "And as the party is to be at your house we want to submit the list to you, if I may have your privilege to add or subtract names, you know. Stella and I have tried to omit none of our friends, and hope we have included no one you will object to."

"Oh, as for my objecting to any one," laughed Jack, "I am sure there isn't a boy or girl in town who is not welcome at my house. I only hope you haven't forgotten anyone. It is hard to be left out, you know. And I shall avail myself of the privilege you have granted me and add any name or names of those whom you might like to see."

As Jack said this he looked rather knowingly at the two girls, and his look seemed not to have noticed anything unusual in his tone or manner, and Stella handed him the sheet of paper containing the names of the guests for the Valentine party.

"Say, wasn't Jack nasty, though?" asked May, as soon as she and Stella were out of his hearing, having parted with him at the corner. "I know what he meant, all right. He greatly admires Lily Long, and as sure as fate he'll want to add her name to the list."

"Well, we'll never, never consent to have her invited," declared Stella. "Her sanctified face, her very proper manner and narrow-mindedness make me disgusted. The other day she caught me cheating at exam, and the way she looked at me would have made me think I had committed an unpardonable sin. I hate her. And how the teachers and a few of the boys do date on her. She's a deceitful little rat. That's my opinion of her."

"You can't dislike her more than I do," asserted May. "Why, she had the impudence to offer to assist me with a problem I couldn't do the other day. I turned up my nose at her smartness, and told her I was capable of getting my own lessons. Then she remarked that she had only offered to help me because she had seen me copying my answers from the book, and that she felt so sorry to see me doing that. Now, what would you think of that? Oh, she's one of those poverty-stricken good-girls. Her father owns a 10-cent store and her mother does plain sewing. Those are reasons why she should not be invited into our set."

"Yes, I should say they are," agreed Stella. "But why does Jack take a fancy to her? Lily is really shocking. And her father a banker and his mother the society leader of the town! Really,

I should think his mother would select his friends. Mama Thompson told me this morning that Mrs. Downs gave a little birthday supper for Jack last week and that Lily Long was one of the few guests. Now, isn't she just forcing her way into our set?"

"Well, she'll never get in where I have a say," declared May. "Just because she stands at the head of her class is no reason why she should be forced upon us socially. And any one of us could be up in our classes if we chose to put in every minute over our books and were so old-fashioned that we'd draw the line at cheating occasionally. Well, for me, just out of all such foolish ideas of honor and so forth. I want a good time, and if my pleasures have to suffer on account of my studies—well, I'll let the studies go hang, and cheat at exams to pass."

"It is my wish that Miss Lily be the guest of honor at our house on St. Valentine's Eve."

That evening Jack Downs and his mother went over the list of names that Stella and May had given him. "Why, mamma, they've left Lily Long out!" Jack exclaimed. "Now, that isn't right. She's such a bright, clever girl and stands at the head of her class. She has the best record of any girl in school and the teachers all swear by her. They know she never resorts to dishonorable methods papa and mamma. Then I insisted upon her going to the piano and allowing us to be the judges of her voice. Why, she sings beautifully, though her voice shows that she has had little or no training. It is just naturally sweet and full of melody. And do you recall how I chatted with her for a few minutes in the hall before she departed? Well, I was asking her about her home, about her parents. She was deeply affected when she spoke of her mother and said so simply: 'Dear mamma has to take in plain sewing now to help with the family expenses. But I'm straining every nerve to get through school, so that I may be of assistance to her. I want to be a teacher, and am fitting myself for that occupation. Mamma is not strong, and I feel so anxious to take the burden from her shoulders as soon as I can.' You see, Lily has no false pride. She's a brave girl, and I admire her exceedingly."

"And so do I, mamma," confessed Jack. "And we must have her at the party."

The following day Jack spoke to Stella and May regarding their having omitted Lily's name from the guest list which they had made out.

Stella frowned, then said, hesitatingly: "Jack, I don't want to be unpleasant about this matter, but several of us girls can't consent to having Lily Long forced upon us. I know she's doing everything to get in, but—well, she has many qualities that are not—well, to be open with you, Jack, we don't like her. And you know her people are awfully common. Why, her father—"

"We'll not discuss her father, Stella," said Jack, sternly. "Best of her, we were so used to her, that I can't see how I can save that he has been unfortunate. He works hard and earns little pay. That is nothing against him—that I can see. But mother and I want Lily's name on the guest list. In fact, mother has become quite an enthusiast about Lily's voice. Long so, we've decided to send her an invitation to attend the St. Valentine's party. And I hope you girls will not feel offended that we do this against your wishes."

Before Stella or May could say a word Jack had left them, joining a group of boys who were discussing the coming party.

"Well, and so Miss Lily Long is to be a guest, in spite of our wishes," said Stella. "I shall make it a point to cut her, just the same."

"And so shall I," declared May. "But who do you suppose Jack will choose for his valentine? I half guess she will be you."

"Well, I was his valentine at last year's party," said Stella. "But this year he has not been so nice to me. I wonder if that Lily Long hasn't said something ugly about me. Those common people always do slander their betters."

The next day was Saturday, and while Lily Long was clearing away the breakfast dishes, there came a knock at the door. As her mother was very busy in the sewing-room, Lily ran to answer the door. To her surprise she saw Stella and May on the step.

"Oh, good morning, girls," exclaimed Lily, feeling pleased that two schoolmates—who had always been so formal toward her—had called. "Come in, and excuse the untidy appearance of our house. I've not finished my morning's work, you see."

Stella and May entered the house, leaving the door ajar behind them. Once inside the sitting-room they refused seats, saying, very stiffly, that they preferred to stand, as their call would be short.

"We came," said Stella, who acted as speaker, "to explain that since the invitations were sent out for the St. Valentine's party, which, as you know, is to be given at the home of Jack Downs, it has been agreed by the committee on invitation to—to recall several of them. It is this way, you know—each girl and boy had her and his dislikes. And to make the party congenial—well, it has been considered necessary to—"

Lily's face had turned red at the first words of Stella. Then she grew pale, and, putting out her hand helplessly, said: "Oh, I'm sure I know what you wish me to understand. Surely, I wouldn't attend the party for the sake of honor at our house—each girl or boy who does not wish me. I had half decided not to go, anyway, for I have no pretty frock to wear, and I felt I should be out of place in my old one, which is shabby. But I shall send my regrets—"

"And we hope you'll not say a word of this to a living soul," said May. "You see, we—Stella and I—made out the guest list, and it is very hard for us to be obliged to do this. But Jack Downs had to be consulted, since the party is to be given at his house. So, to prevent any unnecessary embarrassment we have called to explain. We do hope you'll not hold this against us."

"And it's Jack's wish that my invitation be—"

"It's Jack Downs' wish that your invitation be ACCEPTED."

And to the astonishment of the three girls Jack Downs stepped into the sitting-room, his face that of an avenging hero. He turned to Stella and May and spoke with biting sarcasm: "It is said that an eavesdropper never hears any good of himself. Well, in this instance I have played the eavesdropper, and I have heard myself wickedly accused—by my mother, that Miss Lily be the guest of honor at our house on St. Valentine's eve, for I have chosen her to be my valentine. And I have been sent here by my mother with a message to Miss Lily, begging her to prepare herself to sing for us at the party. Mother is very enthusiastic about Lily's voice, and means to have her become a member of our church choir. And now I must explain why I listened just outside the half-open door. I heard my name mentioned by a girl whose friendship for Lily Long is not sincere. I had the right to listen to what was being said in connection with myself and the party."

While Jack was speaking Stella and May had been turning first red and then pale, and the guilt of their concealment showed plainly on their faces. At last,

'Tis her Fred knew," she said with scorn.
'That I'm no penny girl."

bowing coldly to Lily, Stella made bold to say: "I see that you have succeeded in worming your way into a social set where only one wants you. But if you are content with that, why, we have no objection to make. A message to prevent any unnecessary embarrassment we have called to explain. We do hope you'll not hold this against us."

been in existence for less than a year and the building is in a very poor state of repair. They are wondering how they ever managed to get along without it. The original purpose of the community was the building of a church, and it was not until some of the public spirited business men of the city saw the need of a place for the building of a residence property in the center of the city.

After the reorganizing of the Fergus stock bank at this place the following officers were elected to serve terms of one year: President, J. J. Tully, vice president, R. Davidson, vice president, B. R. Hays, secretary, J. J. Tully, and treasurer, W. L. Neytus of Winona, who has managed the big stock farm of Davidson for many years. Davidson, who has resigned and returned to that place to take care of his stock, has been replaced by J. J. Tully. It is understood the Davidsons will dispose of their stock and land, and the Fergus stock bank here will be reorganized on the Fergus stock bank of J. J. Tully of this place is heavily interested. ## REALTY MARKET QUIET DURING ELECTION WEEK

Principal Deal of the Week Was Leasing of Dodge Block on Third Avenue West to Martin Rosendahl for Term of 99 Years on Valuation Basis of $48,000—Several Sales of Residence Property Were Closed Up During Past Few Days—Scarcity of Stores for Rent is Being Noticed—Lessees Show Disposition to Renew Leases Early.

Owing to the fact that there has been a municipal election during the past week, following the close of a very active campaign, the interest and excitement attendant on the same has not been conducive to an active trading market in real estate. Municipal affairs have taken up the public attention to a considerable extent and business generally, where it involves investments, has been rather quiet. Now that the election is over it is expected that local affairs will soon resume their normal conditions and the coming weeks will be marked by an increasing demand for real estate investments.

There has been some inquiry among the local real estate offices this week for dwellings and for store leases. While, at the present time, there are a number of vacant stores in the downtown district, rental agents claim that it is a difficult matter to secure leases for clients for the reason that the stores have been leased ahead, possession to be taken on or before May 1 next. Those holding leases on store properties show no disposition to surrender the same and where leases expire this coming spring, the lessees are taking steps for renewals at an early date. Instead of waiting until May. This is taken to mean that there is a strong demand for store-room, not only in the central business district, but in all parts of the city, where there are stores for rent.

The most important deal reported this week was the leasing of the Dodge block on Third avenue west, between the Kitchi Gammi club building and the alley, to Martin Rosendahl, the stock broker, for ninety-nine years on the present valuation of $48,000. The property will be valued at certain intervals during the term that the lease has to run. The property is owned by the heirs of the Dodge estate, and the deal with Mr. Rosendahl was transacted through the office of Stryker, Manley & Buck. The property is described as the southerly 44 feet of lots 46 and 48 West First street. The lots are occupied by a three-story brick store and office building, 100 feet deep. The Rosendahl lease begins Nov. 1, 1908.

W. J. Stevenson has sold the residence property at 26 West Third street to C. N. Marble for $6,000. The property comprises one of the houses in what is termed the Buckingham row, adjoining the Mendenhall flat property. Mr. Stevenson purchased the property about two years ago. It is described as lots 10 and 12, West Third street.

An Omaha architect is planning a novelty in the way of an apartment house, the result of which will be watched with a great deal of interest in various other cities, and which may offer some suggestion to investors in Duluth realty who are planning a building improvement, with a view of getting good returns on their money. The house is to be run somewhat on the communistic plan. There will be a billiard room on the top floor for the men in all parts of the building. There will be six apartments. Another innovation will be an icebox, built right into the house, and for the use of all. This will have six compartments, one for each apartment, a separate door for each family. The ice will be put in from the outside.

D. C. Wakenan has purchased from Mary A. Rosendahl, for $3,000 a residence property on West Fifth street, described as the southerly 35 feet of lots 30 and 32 West Fifth street, First division.

D. C. Wakenan has purchased from Margaret White for $3,000 a property on the Zenith Building & Loan association a lot in West Duluth for $975. The property is described as the easterly ten feet of lot 14, all of lot 14, block 3, Longview division, and lot 13, block 6, Harrison's division.

G. A. French has purchased from Margaret White for $3,000 a property on the Zenith Building & Loan association a lot in West Duluth for $975. The property is described as the easterly ten feet of lot 14, all of lot 14, block 3, Longview division, and lot 13, block 6, Harrison's division.

D. P. McDonald has sold to C. L. Twoby, a residence property on the upper side of Third street between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues east for $6,500. The property is described as lot 11, block 8, Highland Park addition.

F. L. Young & Co., the architects, have prepared plans for figures on a new school building for school district No. 12, Ely. Bids will be received by the clerk until Feb. 24 next.

The congregation of the Endion Methodist church is preparing to erect a new church at Nineteenth avenue east and First street. The building will be in mission style and will cost about $35,000.

The board of public works will receive bids until 10 a. m. Feb. 14, for the erection of a police substation.

Among the things of interest brought out at the discussion before the county board Friday morning, relative to the erection of the new courthouse at the intersection of Fifth avenue west and Second street, in accordance with the grouping plan for public buildings, was the statement of C. A. Congdon, one of the city's largest property owners, that in event the building is erected at the location proposed, the value of the surrounding property will be greatly enhanced and the increased valuation will result in an increase in the tax returns. Mr. Congdon argued that the increase in the taxes, due to the greater valuation, would in the course of time make up for the additional cost to the county by purchasing the property needed on the four corners. Mr. Congdon also predicted that if the county builds at the location proposed, the property which it purchased on First street and

AN ATTRACTIVE HOME IN DULUTH WHICH CAN BE BUILT FOR $3,300

In planning the above home, the object has been to get the most pleasant and economical interior arrangements and an exterior of simple, yet attractive design. Every foot of floor space has been utilized. The rooms are of good relative proportions and of comfortable size. The first story is simply, yet conveniently planned, and the combination stairway, equally accessible from the kitchen and hall, is an especially good feature. These stairs and the deep bay window add interest to the reception hall. The second story is compact in its plan, and the rooms of a good size. The large glass door opening on to the balcony from the main bedroom is an attractive feature, and allows the use of the balcony for an outdoor sleeping room if desired. By erecting the large gable in the rear, the spacious arrangement of the second story is made possible. The exterior design hardly suggests the existence of so much space in the second story. It is of an artistic cottage style, a striking effect being created by large gables, wide cornices, a broad veranda, and the recess balcony in the second story.

The finish downstairs is in birch, and upstairs in pine. The floors throughout are of hardwood, and the house is supplied with furnace heat and open plumbing. Such a cottage could be built in Duluth for $3,300, which includes the cost of heating and plumbing. Anthony Puck, architect, Lyceum building.

Minister Swindled.

Pastor of "Little Church Around the Corner" Cheated.

New York, Feb. 8.—Many New Yorkers have been the victims of men who have given bogus checks, but for the first time a minister has been cheated on his fee for performing a marriage ceremony by this method. The minister is Rev. George Clark Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, commonly known as "the little church around the corner." Dr. Houghton was called upon the other day to perform a marriage ceremony. He did not know the couple who called upon him, but that was not unusual, as his service are con-

After the ceremony the man wrote Dr. Houghton a check for $15, but at the suggestion of his bride afterwards made the amount $25. Soon after Dr. Houghton presented the check at the bank, only to be told that it was bogus, and was the work of a man who had been swindling people right and left by means of similar checks. Dr. Houghton refused to give the name of the man who signed the check, but admits that the story is correct.

LAKE COMMERCE DURING PAST SEASON REACHED UNPRECEDENTED AMOUNT

Total Almost 10 Per Cent Greater Than in 1906.

Increase Due Mainly to Larger Ore and Coal Shipments.

Duluth Leads in the Shipments of Ore and Grain.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Lake commerce during the 1907 season, as measured by the volume of shipments from the various lake ports, and reported by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, reached the unprecedented total of $3,387,519 net tons. This total is almost 10 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 total, and about 20 per cent in excess of the 1905 total.

The iron shipments, by lake, for the year, exclusive of about 275,000 tons exported to Canada, were 40,727,972 gross tons, the largest shipping period, in the order of their importance, were Duluth, credited with 13,238,527 gross tons; Two Harbors, with 8,051,228 gross tons; Superior, with 7,231,074 gross tons; Es-

LAST VIEW OF MURDERED KING

People of Portugal File Past Bier of the Dead.

Lisbon, Feb. 10.—The bodies of King Carlos and the crown prince of Portugal are still lying in state this morning at the cathedral of San Vicente. Long crowds had congregated on the streets before the building, and as soon as they were permitted the people filed through for the last glimpse of the murdered monarch and his son. At 2 o'clock the coffin was placed in the hearse, and carried to the cathedral, where, with further ceremonies, they will be placed in the tomb. The official watchers at the sides of the biers were augmented today by some of the members of the foreign missions to attend the funeral, who are still in Lisbon.

Several newspapers today, notably the Seculo Independente, pleaded for the pardon for each and every man in prison for political offenses. This paper points out that King Manuel has calmed, but that he has not disarmed the democracy, and says:

"To conquer the democracy the king must win the love and confidence of the people."

ADMINISTRATION FACES DISASTER

Report That Supreme Court Will Hold Elkins Law Dead.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Although defeated at almost every point in its legislation for the benefit of labor by recent decisions of the supreme court, the administration is confronted by a disaster before which its previous juggling would be comparatively trifling.

An impression exists that the supreme court, when it reconvenes on Feb. 24, will hand down a decision that the Hepburn railroad rate law repealed the Elkins rebate act and nullified all prosecutions under that act, which had not been begun at the time of the passage of the rate law.

The government's high legal talent will not admit the probability of such a disaster, and it is little wonder, for it would undo all that has been accomplished in that line and require a radical readjustment, with no hope of prosecuting certain cases because of the intervention of the statute of limitations.

Such a decision by the supreme court would release the Great Northern railroad from its $15,000 fine for granting rebates to the W. D. Devereux company of Minneapolis; the Standard Oil from its $25,000 fine; the Burlington from its $10,000 fine in the packing house cases, and cause a delay of a large number of other cases, including the thousand or more counts against the Standard Oil, making it liable to fines aggregating $20,000,000.

BANK REOPENS.

SIX THOUSAND MEN RETURN TO WORK AT NATIONAL TUBE PLANT

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 10.—Between 5,000 and 6,000 men returned to work at the Lorain plant of the National Tube company this morning. The plant has been closed down for several months. Under normal conditions about 8,000 men are employed. It is understood to be the present intention of the company to re-employ a full quota of men within a very short time.

Interviews with leading manufacturers of Cleveland and Northern Ohio show an optimistic feeling as to business conditions on all sides. General Manager R. W. Ney of the American Steel & Wire company said today that his company was now employing in its various plants in this city between 7,000 and 9,000 men. A large number of these workmen have been on half time since the beginning of the late financial depression, but it is probable that the entire force of the company will be put back on full time shortly, if the present increase in orders is maintained.

The plant of the American Steel & Wire company at Salem, Ohio, resumed double turn operations this morning.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Bill Providing Rural Parcels Post Introduced in Senate.

All Matter Must be Actually Mailed on Rural Routes.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Senator Burnham of New Hampshire today introduced in congress a measure of rural importance, to rural interests throughout the United States. It is a bill to provide a rural delivery parcels post for merchandise and other articles actually mailed on rural delivery routes. The rural free delivery routes now number more than 38,000, and on them an excess of 15,000,000 people receive a daily postal service.

The measure, introduced by Senator Burnham, has the endorsement of the President and Postmaster General Meyer. It provides in brief for the establishment of a rural parcels post, at special rates of postage, for the delivery.

FRANCO GOES TO MARSEILLES

Former Premier of Portugal Departs Suddenly.

Bordeaux, Feb. 10.—Senor Franco, the ex-premier of Portugal, with his wife and son, left suddenly today for Marseilles.

The train upon which Senor Franco was traveling, left at Marseilles at a few minutes before midnight. It was twenty minutes before train time when Senor Franco unexpectedly requested his bill from the hotel manager. The time was so short that the hotel porters had to work with the greatest rapidity in order to get the many pieces of baggage of the Franco party over to the station in time.

Senor Franco appeared rested from his stay here. He is less depressed, and he walked over to the train at a quick step. He was accompanied by French detectives. There were no people at the railroad station to see him off.

UPPER MICHIGAN VERY INDIGNANT

Over Report That Mining Companies Are Fighting Taft Candidacy.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable indignation is felt in this part of Michigan because of the statement in Walter Wellman's letter, dated at Detroit, and published in the Chicago Record-Herald of Saturday, alleging that the mining and other corporations in this section are exerting their influence to suppress sentiment favorable to Taft, and that he will not get any support here.

No such effect is being made. One of the two district delegates, whose choice is practically settled on, is an avowed supporter of Taft for the presidency, while the other has declared himself, but is known to look kindly on Taft's candidacy. All the mine managers, who interest themselves in politics, are supporting the Taft-man for district delegate, which is proof enough that Wellman's letter mistakes their attitude toward that candidate. There is no effort being made by the mining interests to swing the district against Taft. There is considerable Hughes sentiment in this district as there is generally throughout the state, but from the Twelfth district in the national convention is being done by the mining or other large corporation interests.

TO PUNISH ZAKKAKHEL.
Calcutta, Feb. 10.—The Indian government has decided to send immediately two brigades of troops, under Maj. Gen. Sir James Willcocks, into the Bazar valley, in the northwestern frontier, to punish the Zakkakhels, a powerful tribe of Afghans, who have been raiding villages in that territory and ambushing members of the mounted police.

Brookhaven, Miss., Feb. 10.—Ell Pigot, a negro, who assaulted Miss Williams, a young white woman near here several weeks ago, was today taken from the custody of the Jackson military company and a posse of deputies, and hanged from a telegraph pole, within 100 yards of the courthouse.

He was to have been tried today for his crime. The military company and the posse were overpowered by a mob of more than 2,000 citizens. Several shots were fired during the melee, and two members of the mob were wounded. Pigot reached Brookhaven from Jackson shortly after 7 o'clock in custody of Sheriff Frank Greer, and under the armed escort of the Capital Light Guards, ordered into service by Governor Noel, to protect the negro during the trial.

When the soldiers and the negro alighted from the train, the mob surged around them and a fierce hand-to-hand fight ensued. The soldiers clubbed the members of the mob with their guns. The fight lasted five minutes and the military started to the courthouse when the mob, reinforced and reorganized, made another attack, secured the prisoner, dragged him to a telegraph pole and hanged him.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Congress today received a preliminary report of the joint commission appointed during the last congress to investigate the business methods of the postoffice department and postal service. Chief among the recommendations is a plan to place the actual direction of the business of the postoffice department in the hands of an officer, with necessary assistants to be appointed by the president "by and with the advice and consent of the senate" for long terms so as to insure the continuity of efficient service. Under this plan the postmaster general, as a member of the cabinet, is chargeable with general supervisory control and the determination of questions of policy.

The commission also recommends that the business of the department be decentralized, so as to avoid the congestion at the national capital, which impairs the efficiency and increases the cost of the service; that the bookkeeping, auditing and account be simplified, unified and centralized to secure greater accuracy; more prompt methods and elimination of duplication of work, and that the practice of requiring needless detailed reports from small postoffices be discontinued. The moderate application of the new accounting system to small offices will eliminate about 2,000 or nearly one-half of all the postoffice accounts from the present complex report and bookkeeping system, or would at least greatly simplify the same. The commission says:

Cannot Expect Efficient Service.
"It appears too obvious to require argument that the most efficient service can never be expected as long as the direction of the business is, as at present, entrusted to a postmaster general and certain assistants selected without special reference to experience and qualifications and subject to frequent changes. Under such a system a large railroad, commercial or industrial business would inevitably go into bankruptcy, and the postoffice department has availed that fate only because the United States treasury has been available to meet deficiencies."

Submitted with the report of the commission is a report of considerable volume from two New York accounting firms which were assigned to the investigation of the department by the commission last May.

This report goes at length into the abolition of bureaus, the organization of administrative divisions, the merging of money order and postal accounts, the use of labor saving devices, classification, auditing and accounting and all of the many branches of the subject.

It contains an elaborate synopsis of a plan for re-organizing divisions. It is pointed out that these criticisms are directed at methods and not at individuals. The following is a summary of the more important suggestions made in the report of the examiners:

That the chief of the first, second, and certain assistants selected without special

NOTHING HEARD OF EAGLE POINT

The Missing Steamship is Now Thirteen Days Overdue.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 10.—Incoming vessels which covered the same course as that which ought to have been taken by the steamship Eagle Point, early days, report that nothing was seen of the overdue steamship, for whose safety much fear is now entertained.

The Eagle Point is thirteen days overdue and was spoken on Jan. 25, when the captain reported a broken shaft and refusal assistance. The vessel is commanded by Capt. Lloyd and carries a crew of forty men.

Neither has any word been received of the overdue steamship Bluefields, running under charter between this city and Jacksonville for the Southern Steamship company. It is feared that the Bluefields foundered on the night of Jan. 22 in a storm. She carried a crew of eighteen men.

WITNESS MAKES A CORRECTION

Lewis Made Mistake in Accusing Carson of "Whitewashing."

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—The first act of Standard B. Lewis of Philadelphia, assistant to Joseph M. Huston, architect of the new state capitol, when he took the witness stand today at the trial of J. H. Sanderson, a contractor, former Auditor General Snyder, former State Treasurer Mathews and James M. Shanahan, superintendent of public buildings and grounds charged with conspiracy to defraud the state, was to correct his testimony of Friday, when he implicated Carson in an alleged "whitewash" of those accused of the Lewis general, he meant "auditor general."

Mr. Carson, who was at the time attorney general, took no part in the conference where the alleged "whitewash" of state officials was discussed, according to Lewis.

Today began the third week of the trial. Wilson court adjourned Friday, Lewis was under cross-examination.

Carson for the defense announced they had no further questions to ask Lewis today, and the Commonwealth began re-examination.

WEDNESDAY IS HOLIDAY

Lincoln's Birthday Anniversary Will be Observed Quite Generally.

Mayor Cullum Asks Business Houses to Close in Afternoon.

Public offices will be closed at the courthouse Wednesday of this week on account of the holiday. The anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday will be celebrated all over the country, and the day will be observed by the general closing of public offices.

The district court will not convene Feb. 12, notice to that effect having been given to the various attorneys interested in cases for trial this week by the judges.

Since the law passed by the legislature in 1907, making Good Friday a legal holiday, Minnesota has been plentifully supplied with legal holidays. Under the statute, chapter 254, laws of 1907, there are nine legal holidays in Minnesota, including election day, in the even numbered years. The law says that so far as possible on the holidays, no public business shall be transacted.

In view of the national ski tournament that will occur in this city tomorrow and Wednesday, Mayor Cullum has issued a proclamation to all business men and to the wholesale and jobbing houses, asking that they close on Wednesday afternoon, both on account of the birthday anniversary of the martyred president of the United States, and the big event at Chester hill grounds of the Duluth Ski club. It is understood that a large number of the business houses have signified their intention of closing, so that their employees may attend the tournament on Wednesday afternoon.

For the benefit of some who may not have in mind the days designated in this state as legal holidays, the chapter 254, in question, is herewith published:

"Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Minnesota: "Section 1. That Paragraph 6 of Section 514, Revised Laws of Minnesota for 1906 be amended so as to read as follows: "Holidays.—The word 'holiday' shall include New Year's day, Jan. 1; Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's birthday, Feb. 22; Memorial day, May 30; Independence day, July 4; Labor day, first Monday in September; election day, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of the even numbered years; Christmas day, Dec. 25; and the Friday next preceding Easter Sunday and commonly known as Good Friday. No public business shall be transacted on those days, except in cases of necessity, nor shall any civil process be served thereon. "Approved April 19, 1907."

at the Chicago Stock

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Receipts of hogs at the Union stock yards in Chicago broke all previous records today. Before noon more than 75,000 heads had been unloaded and more were arriving. The highest run previously recorded was on Feb. 11, 1895, when 74,581 were received. The average receipts for Mondays and Wednesdays, on which days the runs are customarily larger than on other days, are from 50,000 to 60,000 head. The high price of corn is said to be causing the marketing of the animals in such great numbers. The immediate effect on the Chicago market was a break of from 10 to 15 cents in prices.

SUPERIOR NEWS

Will Oppose Salary Boost.

It seems probable that Mayor Linley will oppose the move of the finance committee of the city council to raise the salaries of the city officials. The committee has recommended a raise of $500 in the salaries of the mayor and the comptroller and other officers, but Mayor Linley has declared himself against any raise in the salaries of the heads of the departments. It is expected that he will veto the salary boost as soon as it is passed by the council. The mayor has expressed himself in favor of salary increases for deputy clerks, elevator men, inspectors and those who perform work bordering on manual labor.

Arrange for Big Banquet.

Preliminary arrangements were made yesterday for the annual St. Patrick's day banquet by the Irish-American club of Superior. A general committee, comprising the officers of the club, will arrange the details of the affair, which will probably occur in the auditorium of the new parochial school.

Mayor Appoints Thomas Spencer.

Mayor Linley has appointed Thomas Spencer, a union man employed at the Great Northern shops, as scaler of weights and measures, to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Clarence Norquist as deputy city clerk. The office is on the fee basis and pays from $400 to $600 per year.

Gets Damages for Slander.

Mrs. Alma Brown was given a tort judgment in her $1,000 damage case against Mrs. Leona Donk, by a verdict returned in the superior court Saturday. Unless a tort judgment is paid within a reasonable period of time, the person against whom it is given may be arrested and held in custody until a settlement is reached. The action was started for damages for alleged slander, the evidence showing there had been a great deal of "back door talk" on the part of each woman about the other. Mrs. Brown claimed that Aug. 7 last, Mrs. Donk applied certain vile language to her. Both parties reside at Allouez.

Democrats Hold Meeting.

At a meeting of the Douglas county Democrats Saturday evening, William Jennings Bryan was endorsed as a candidate for the presidential nomination. John Brennan was endorsed as a delegate to the Democratic national convention at Denver next summer. Mr. Brennan, Fred Russell, J. S. Konkol, C. D. Pelletier and C. H. Because the parents' were not properly summoned to appear before the court at the time the case of their two boys was disposed of, Jacob and Joseph Plochia, aged 10 and 12 years, will be brought back to Superior from the state industrial school, where they were sent by Judge Smith recently. The parents claim that they did not give their consent to have the boys sent to the state institution. They claim that one of the boys is a cripple, and it was their information that the boy was being sent to some institution to be treated, and that the other boy was merely going along to keep him company. The boys were committed on the application of County Agent Ely, who claimed the parents were too poor to properly provide for them.

The Eddy Lecture.

A large audience, at the Grand Opera house yesterday afternoon, listened to Frank M. Eddy, formerly congressman from Minnesota, speak on temperance. Mr. Eddy told how he himself had been addicted to drink until he had nearly reached self-destruction, and how after he entered the political life, he had taken a scientific treatment that had cured him of the habit.

According to Mr. Eddy, the saloon men were no worse than the so-called respectable drinker or the drunkard. Mr. Eddy said that the appetite for drink is the same as "conscience." It is acquired voluntarily and one may easily rid oneself of it in the early stages.

Great White Way Has Come Into Its Own Again.

New York, Feb. 10.—The great white way has come into its own again. Champagne and terrapin have replaced Wuahburger and have replaced the waiters and cabmen happy. New Yorkers are letting loose of their purse strings and the flow of money makes the great white way what it used to be—the liveliest street in the world after the lights are turned on.

For the last three months the "hard times" have hit the restaurants and theaters hard. The attendance at nearly all the theaters, with the exception of the few where the big successes are playing, has been the poorest in years. Rows of empty chairs have greeted worthy attractions and capable players. The effect of the "panic" was not so apparent in the fashionable restaurants, but in reality it was felt even more severely.

The tables were nearly as well filled as before, but the spending set drank highballs and even beer in place of champagne, and inexpensive dishes replaced delicacies of the season. And in addition thousands of patrons signed the checks. Even the tips to the waiters were signed.

The fashionable set thought they ### ought to economize, and consequently they started in with the waiter and restaurant keeper.

The receipts of Rector's, Martin's, Murray's, and all the other ultra-fashionable restaurants fell off several hundred dollars a night. Men about town who were wont to buy a half-a-dozen bottles of champagne for their guests, ordered highballs, and naturally the profits of the restaurant proprietors were on the other side of the ledger.

A FAMOUS GAMBLE.

London Chronicle: Thomas Riley, a Nottingham druggist, who died yesterday, aged 84, was associated with one of the most remarkable events of Nottingham history.

When the riots at the time of the Broad Riots were marching about the city he tossed the coin which decided whether the parish church or Nottingham Castle should be burned.

The rioters could not trust any of themselves to spin the coin fairly, so forced Riley, then a boy in the crowd to toss. The result was in favor of burning the castle, and the castle was accordingly destroyed, one of the rioters being burned in it. Six men concerned in the affair were afterward tried at Leicester and hanged.

JEALOUSY INSPIRED THE ATTACK OF CHARBONNEAU

Old Man Had Acted Queerly for Months, Says Prisoner.

Continually Watched His Wife and Brooded Over Her Acts.

That Magloire Charbonneau, prompted by hallucinations of insanity, entered Henry Bolot's room, Saturday night, with the intention of taking Bolot's life, and that Bolot was forced to shoot in self-defense, are the deductions from the investigations of the police, and statements made by the homicide and his victim's wife today. Bolot was arraigned this morning on a charge of murder in the second degree, his hearing was set for Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and he was committed to the county jail to await examination.

Bolot is a mild mannered little man of 47 years of age. On account of his thin hair and the worry caused by the charge against him, he appears older. He had some hesitancy about talking of the affair this morning, on account of the advice of his attorneys, but he consented to answer some questions from outside. He was talking loudly to himself, and I immediately feared something was wrong. I jumped from bed and followed him, overtaking him as he entered Bolot's room. I saw the hatchet in his hand and grasped his right arm. The man from Bolot's face when he awoke. I pulled on my husband's arm and tried to get him and myself out of the way, as I saw Bolot reach for the revolver that was on a table near the bed.

"I half turned my husband around and he said, 'I'll kill him.' Just then Bolot fired his shot and my husband fell into my arms. 'He died almost instantly.' Bolot's little daughter expressed a fear of Charbonneau since her father told Charbonneau that his niece would arrive from Paris next week. As he grew older he seemed to become more jealous of his wife. Whenever she went out he would become depressed, and cherish his resentment. He brooded continually, and watched his wife. He never said very much.

Ed Johnson and Frank Brown pleaded not guilty to vagrancy and their cases were continued until this afternoon. A money array of plain drunks were given small sentences or released on suspended sentences, with the good behavior injunctions.

BULGARIAN GIRL MOTHER IS DESERTED IN DULUTH

Faithless Lover Leaves Her With Two Fatherless Children.

Mother and Babies Will be Deported by Government.

Nineteen years of age, deserted by a faithless lover, and the mother of twins, Valeria Proalman, a Bulgarian girl, who, exactly one year ago today, landed in America in company with the man who accomplished her ruin, left today for St. John, N. B., in the custody of Inspector Heath of the local United States immigration office. The two babies, only a little more than three months old, and a matron from the Hotel are also being deported. The young woman has been ordered deported by the government, and will be placed on board ship at St. John and sent back to her old home, where her reception at the hands of an old mother and father, unaware of her disgrace or prospective return, can only be guessed at. She is returning under protest, but appears to have no redress. The case was brought to the attention of Inspector in Charge William H. Dean, who took the matter up with the department at Washington. The deportation order was the result. The story is a pathetic one. According to her own story, Miss Proalman, who for a time passed under the name of Mrs. Decagny, was engaged to A. Decagny, one of her countrymen, who is at present 33 years old. They came to America together. She says it was her desire that they be married before leaving Europe, but the man protested, saying that the marriage ceremony, if one was found necessary, could be arranged on this side of the Atlantic. Trusting him implicitly, she submitted to his wishes, and the couple boarded the steamer as man and wife, and their relatives were those of man and wife up to last fall, when he deserted her in Duluth, she claims. They landed at Halifax, on Feb. 10, 1907, and came directly to Duluth, taking up their abode here with friends in the West end. After a time Decagny deserted her. The man disappeared completely, and all efforts to locate him have failed. The twins were born in November, and shortly after that Miss Proalman was removed to the Duluth Hotel, where she has been ever since. Under the immigration laws she is subject to deportation on account of her associations with Decagny, and also because of the fact that she is a public charge. After the matter had once been brought to their attention, there is said to have been no alternative for the government officials but to order her deportation.

FORAKER TELLS THE SENATORS

His Attitude Towards Federal Patronage in Ohio.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Senator Foraker today made reply to the president's statement published this morning concerning charges that public patronage had been used by him (the president) for political purposes. He took the floor in the senate on a question of personal privilege, and reading at length from the president's correspondence with William D. Rouse, proceeded to explain his own attitude towards the federal patronage in Ohio.

Mr. Foraker began by saying that on Jan. 14, 1908, the president executed two sessions at the instance of the two senators from Ohio, refused to confirm certain postoffice appointments which had been made by the president. "I am sure," he said, "that the president's action was not taken for political purposes without being resentful."

"That the senator said, seemed to be enough, and it was announced that the president would make a full and frank answer to all the charges of that kind."

Mr. Foraker referred to the president's statement published in this morning's papers and said that he did not propose to go into details in reply to that statement. He said that the appointment of a postmaster outside the community in which he lived is not of interest to the public. He said that the president's statement in which the latter declared that no presidential candidate had been favored in any appointments.

TAKE ACTION ON LIQUOR LICENSES

Council to Dispose of Saloon Cases From West Duluth.

The renewal of the license of Theodore Epper, 529 Grand avenue, and the revocation of the license of William Mulligan, 25 Central avenue, will come up before the council tonight and drastic action is promised as the result of an oral in Mulligan's saloon the night of Jan. 31.

William Mulligan, Theodore Epper, James Mulligan, a bartender for Epper, and Joseph P. Gagne, father of a 15-year-old girl in the saloon, have all been cited to appear before the council and give their testimony. The police will also submit such evidence as they have.

A committee of prominent West Duluth citizens, it is said, will appear before the council and plead for the revocation of Mulligan's license and action against the renewal of Epper's. The council will probably order a hearing of the cases, and then the defeated candidates will petition for a recount, if he so wishes.

The tie in the Second ward between James L. Cronwell and George J. Blidel, the candidates for alderman, will also come up for consideration tonight. The council will probably order a hearing of the cases, and then the defeated candidates will petition for a recount, if he so wishes.

CONTRACT TO CARLSON.

Bids Opened for New Sanitary Sewer on Sixth Street.

The board of public works this morning opened bids for the construction of a sanitary sewer on Sixth street, between Twentieth avenue east and Woodland avenue. Frank Carlson was the lowest bidder, at $304.90, and he will be awarded the contract. George R. King and Adam Meadams were the other bidders, their tenders being $371.90 and $373.40, respectively. The board will report to the council tonight on the construction of a sewer on Garfield avenue from Ash to Ohio avenues, at an estimate cost of $4,000, and the construction of a

FORAKER TELLS THE SENATORS

His Attitude Towards Federal Patronage in Ohio.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Senator Foraker today made reply to the president's statement published this morning concerning charges that public patronage had been used by him (the president) for political purposes. He took the floor in the senate on a question of personal privilege, and reading at length from the president's correspondence with William D. Rouse, proceeded to explain his own attitude towards the federal patronage in Ohio.

Mr. Foraker began by saying that on Jan. 14, 1908, the president executed two sessions at the instance of the two senators from Ohio, refused to confirm certain postoffice appointments which had been made by the president. "I am sure," he said, "that the president's action was not taken for political purposes without being resentful."

"That the senator said, seemed to be enough, and it was announced that the president would make a full and frank answer to all the charges of that kind."

Mr. Foraker referred to the president's statement published in this morning's papers and said that he did not propose to go into details in reply to that statement. He said that the appointment of a postmaster outside the community in which he lived is not of interest to the public. He said that the president's statement in which the latter declared that no presidential candidate had been favored in any appointments.

THE EVENING STORY

One Valentine's Mysterious Career

By Cora Stuart Wheeler.

"I don't know why I shouldn't," said Harry Arnold, slowly. "Nobody thinks much of valentines unless they are—truly in love—with a quick blush—and if he is that," he said, "why, he will be just as pleased to think of critiquing me, even if he guesses who sent it. I wonder if that supposing clerk has said it by this time, oh, I hope not!"

At this possibility all the little maidens in the room, as they were rushing into the next room in search of a Valentine, turned to look at him.

"To love my love is no foolish thing," said Harry Arnold, slowly. "I don't know why I shouldn't," said Harry Arnold, slowly. "Printin'—that settles it," said Peter, "for Mary Patterson can write a name as good as the next one; but Sarah Collins—well, I do believe she's a know-er than I thought, or she'd stick at it, durno, she's allus good to Rosy, here, and she's a comfortable lookin' body to come home to; I guess I'll go over home."

Unconsciously to herself, Harrie had expected that Clayton's own heart would suggest all that she had so carefully hidden; young Dukes, on his part, as he had made no effort to conceal the fact that his $10 bill had paid for the magnificent roses, felt perfectly justified in expecting some acknowledgment.

A dinner-dance at Mrs. Carrington's was at last being given together. It cannot be denied that each lingered a little longer over the toilet with a thought of what the other would say when they met, and the mirrors smiled approval.

Things fell out all cross-ways as they often do. Miss Arnold, whom he met unexpectedly descending the staircase, made such an effort to appear perfectly natural, as he walked along toward the distinguished carriage of the head, starting into equally ness the greeting of Mr. Dukes. The latter said to himself: "She takes this manner of showing her disapproval of such costly attentions. Well, Clayton, her own business was not making a further fool of yourself."

Harrie was not quite so precipitate, but after a dance which in no wise thwarted their dignity into friendliness, was poor child, was ready to melt into tears of mortification, to hide when she retreated into a conservatory. Even her unbusiness was not allowed its way, for her cousin Harry came upon her breathlessly, after she had desisted from bearing her back to the ballroom, upon being convinced of her position.

Harry Arnold was not a young man to lose such an opportunity as this, if he could not dance with her, where he had another such chance? It was Rosy, turning over the valentine with wistful interest, and holding up to the day looking glass, the ugly but beloved rag-face and button-eyes of Matilda Gertrude, named for the young lady who came sometimes with goodies for the sick child.

"Who'd ever think o' sendin' me a valentine?" said Peter, pleased in spite of his persistent widowhood.

"What becom' o' the wrappin'?" Rosy don't know the handwriting.

"Twan' hand-writ, daddy, but just like the news-pap, and I give it to Mrs. O'Grady when she came in for some-thing to start up her fire a bit."

"Printin'—that settles it," said Peter, "for Mary Patterson can write a name as good as the next one; but Sarah Collins—well, I do believe she's a know-er than I thought, or she'd stick at it, durno, she's allus good to Rosy, here, and she's a comfortable lookin' body to come home to; I guess I'll go over home."

MUST HAVE NEW SITE

Location for Middle System Reservoir Lacks Necessary Elevation.

Water Department Will Ask City to Buy Another Location.

Because the site selected by the city water and light department for the proposed reservoir for the middle system falls about twenty-five feet short of the height necessary to get the pressure desired for all purposes of the system, it will be abandoned. At the next meeting of the city council the water department will ask that the city take the necessary steps to acquire by purchase or condemnation proceedings, another location that has been selected as filling all the requirements of the middle system.

Some time ago the location of a reservoir was selected in the block between Third and Fourth avenues East above Fourteenth street. It was believed that the location had an elevation of 60 feet, a height sufficient to get the pressure needed. The city already owns half the block and it was proposed that it acquire the remainder of the block. Condemnation proceedings were started in accordance with the request. Recent investigations show that the elevation of the ground is only 55 feet and, if a reservoir should be erected there, some of the consumers on the boulevard could have no water supply.

The department started an investigation of other sites with the result that it has decided on block 193, between Second and Third avenues east and above Thirteenth street. The elevation of this location has been established at 55 feet, or over, and the board of water and light commissioners is convinced that it will fulfill all purposes for a reservoir. The land will probably cost the city between $1,300 and $2,000.

Will Not Build at Once.

It is not the plan of the department to build the reservoir for the middle system at once. Three tanks having a total capacity of 300,000 gallons of water, or about two days' supply for the present demands of the middle system, will be erected. As the water consumption increases with a growing population along the boulevard and on the hillside in the middle district, the reservoir will be constructed on the site selected, if the city purchases it.

The property last selected has been re-plotted and a depth of seventeen to nineteen feet of earth found over the rock. This means that there will be comparatively little rock excavation, about 700 cubic yards at the most, so that the cost of construction will be much less than if a considerable amount of rock had to be taken out to give place to the reservoir.

A discussion of the proposition of placing water meters on all connections in the city will be the order of business at the meeting of the water and light commissioners next week.

The department has been working gradually toward that end and it is quite probable that decisive action will be taken looking to the complete installation of the meter system on the water consumption.

As was stated by The Herald several weeks ago a large per centage of the water consumption of the city is already on the water rate basis and the board has been encouraging anything that would reduce the waste of water and this economy results in the department having to pump less water. Then, too, the department has to take into account the complaints of those on the meter rate who see their neighbors with a flat rate wasting water supplied by the city.

It has been suggested that the meter system for water consumption is not without its humorous side and that it will be a common thing next summer for one citizen to remark to another, "Well, I just put twenty-three feet of water on the lawn this morning," or one of the rowdies to tell the barkeep, "Say old man just give me one huch and a half of water on the side, will you?"

The Jumping Off Place.

"Consumption had me in its grasp, and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery; and I want to say right now, it saved my life. Improvement began with the first bottle, and after taking one dozen bottles I was a well and happy man again," says George Moore, Grimsland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak nerves and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. See and buy at all druggists. Trial bottle free.

CANNOT FOLLOW HIS TEACHINGS

Socialist Says Conditions Prevent Men Leading True Christian Lives.

That under the present social conditions it is impossible for any man but a capitalist to live up to the teachings of Jesus Christ as laid down in the Sermon on the Mount, was the statement made by M. Kaplan, Socialist candidate for mayor at the recent election, at the meeting of the Question Club yesterday afternoon.

"The teachings of Jesus Christ in the Sermon on the Mount were beautiful and grand," said the speaker, "but can any one live up to them today? The working man cannot. The capitalist is the only man who can and he is not doing it. 'It is human nature for one man to assist another, as long as he can do so without affecting his own interests too seriously.'"

"I am a middle man, I am not a producer. I work the workers, and am therefore a parasite on society. So are the lawyers, doctors and other professional men. It is against my beliefs to live as I do, but under the present system I am compelled to do so."

The gathering was composed largely of those who were in sympathy with the Socialist teachings. At the conclusion of Mr. Kaplan's speech, which was listened to with much interest, there was quite an animated discussion. There were a few present who did not endorse the Socialist ideas, and they quite vigorously assailed the remarks of the speaker.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE ADVOCATES TO MARCH.

New York, Feb. 10.—Advocates of suffrage for women are preparing for a monster parade, which will take place next Sunday. The line of march will be along Fifth avenue from Union Square to Central Park. It is expected that there will be a large number of women in line. The arrangements are in the hands of a committee of the Progressive Woman's Suffrage union, which was made up of twenty-two women's clubs.

SHOWER OF RICE FOR BIJOU SINGER

Theater Employes Plan Little Surprise for Isadore Silver.

Instead of the usual colored views, illustrating the ballad, patrons at the Bijou theater, last evening, saw a picture of Isadore Silver, the popular Bijou vocalist, thrown on the screen before them, with the accompanying announcement that he was married to Miss Lily Peterson of the West end, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The throwing of the picture and the announcement on the screen was the work of Jim McClellan, the moving picture operator at the Bijou. It was all true enough, but Silver did not expect that the whole audience would be apprised of it, as he walked on the stage. He was somewhat surprised and further disconcerted when a spotlight was thrown upon him.

When he attempted to leave the stage after his act, stage hands and musicians showered him with rice.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. Head of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Maltland were the witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Silver will reside at 1915 Piedmont avenue.

TAFT WILL GET OHIO STATE CONVENTION.

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Next Tuesday the county primaries at which delegates to the Republican state convention, on March 3, are to be selected, will be held throughout Ohio. An overwhelming majority of these delegates will be in favor of William H. Taft for president, and the convention may be unanimous in its favor.

Under a recent decision of the Republican state central committee, it will not be necessary to hold actual primaries unless there is more than one ticket in the field, and by virtue of this ruling in fifty-two of a total of eighty-eight counties in the state, the regular Taft delegates will be chosen merely by the certification of their names.

In the remaining thirty-six counties primaries will be held, but in only four of these is there opposition to Taft, in the city of Cleveland, in which he has one county, Cuyahoga, in which he has two, and in Lorain, where the fight against him shows any sign of consequence.

FAMILY MAD WITH HUNGER.

Demented Father, Holding Dead Child's Body, Spurns Help.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—A father, mother and eight children demented from starvation, the father in his delirium holding the dead body of his 11-year-old son a week, defying the officers to enter his home, was a story unvarnished by deputy coroners yesterday afternoon. The child, from appearances, had died of starvation, and his mother refused to believe him dead. Henry W. Ochse, poor director of Bthia, was notified that the father of Bthia, near Bthia, was a delirious and that one child was sick. Accompanied by a physician, Ochse visited the place, but they were driven away by the demented father.

HEAVY WEATHER IN THE STRAIT

American Battleships Are Making Fine Progress in Strong Winds.

Punta Arenas, Feb. 10.—The Pacific Navigation company's steamship Orta, which arrived here yesterday morning, reports having passed the American fleet in the strait at 6 o'clock last evening, twelve miles east of Cape Pillar.

The Chilean cruiser Chacabuco was leading. The weather was very stormy. The captain of the Orta said that he sighted nineteen vessels in the fleet, sixteen American battleships, the Chilean cruiser and two others, probably colliers. He did not sight the torpedo boat flotilla, which turned north at Smyth Channel, thirty miles from the western end of Magellan strait, to proceed through this passage to Teicupuna.

Making Good Progress.

Owing to heavy weather the war ships were spread out over a considerable stretch, but all seemed to be making splendid progress in the face of the strong winds.

Rear Admiral Evans' fleet of battleships left Punta Arenas about midnight Friday, accompanied by the torpedo flotilla. The cruiser Chacabuco, with Admiral Simpson and a delegation of representative Chileans aboard, led the battleships out of port and through the strait.

The sighting of the fleet by the Orta indicates that it has made a favorable voyage through the strait, for it was then only twelve miles east of Cape Pillar, the most westerly point of land on the Magellan strait.

No Stop Made.

Evidently the intention of the commander to make the passage of the strait from Punta Arenas to the west coast without a stop has been successful. Cape Horn, the southern extremity of South America, lies nearly in the middle of Magellan strait, and the fleet passed this point early in the morning.

The battleships once having cleared Cape Pillar and the Evangelists, will steam directly to Callao, which is the next stopping place. They are expected to arrive at Callao about the 20th. On the way up the coast, however, they will run in close to Valparaiso.

FARGO OFFICERS EXCITED

Over Report Grace Burn's Murderer is in Stillwater Prison.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 10.—Fargos are somewhat excited over the report from Crookston that "Gold Tooth" Murphy, prisoner recently sentenced to the Stillwater penitentiary, has given full details of the murder of young Grace Burns. Her body was found in the Red river last August, with indications that she had been choked to death after being assaulted and then her body thrown into the river. The county offered $1,000 reward and many detectives have worked on the case. At one time it was thought a complete description had been secured of the murderer as a result of another crime. The girl was only 15 years of age. The body was missing several days before its discovery.

"POSING" COBBLER BEAD.

Had Furnished Material for Scores of Photographers.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 10.—John Poetzl, the "posing cobbler," whose photographs in various poses won two first prizes at the national convention of amateur photographers at St. Louis and at Norfolk, Va., is dead at his home here. Mr. Poetzl had the reputation of being more original in his poses for photographs than any other known to photographers. The pictures that won first at national conventions were taken by Nicholas Broehl of Sherwood. In a recent Sunday magazine of the Sentinel, a group of his prize photographs were reproduced, among them being one of the "posing cobbler."

COURTHOUSE DAMAGED.

The cure for the blues—Cascarets.

A million boxes go out every month to carry a world of sunshine. Are you getting your share?

Cascarets act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable. Their action is natural. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no griping. They are pleasant; no dredding. They are convenient; no waiting.

One old way was castor oil. The effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Oil never causes the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper has in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid.

Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effects only weakened the bowels. But we had no gentle laxatives in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascaret at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and

ON THE IRON RANGES

CARD PLAYING,
ALSO DANCINGAre Scored From Pulpit
by Virginia Methodist Minister.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—During last week Rev. E. G. Clark, pastor of the M. B. church, sent letters to several of the more prominent business men asking them three questions.

First.—What would be the result of the influence of the church should it be removed from Virginia during the next six months?

Second.—Why do not more men belong to the church?

Third.—What would be a good topic to preach on?

A large congregation gathered at the church Sunday evening to hear the letters read and to listen to a sermon on the subject. Rev. Mr. Clark read several of the letters. All those who read agreeing quite closely in their answers to the questions that the church would be quite an appalling small church influence be entirely removed from Virginia during the next six months.

The second question there was quite general agreement that men do not belong to church because they are too busy chasing the almighty dollar, that they fear ridicule, and because too many Christians do not live up to their profession.

Taking the latter reason as the basis of his sermon, Mr. Clark quite vigorously denounced both card playing and dancing. He said the pull on the individual who indulged in either card playing or dancing was always downward, never upward, no matter even if the card playing began with a social game in the home or the dancing began in the high school auditorium with the teachers for chaperones. He said he did not expect to stop dancing in the high school nor card playing in the homes of his flock by his sermon, but his aim was to keep the Christian ideal high in the minds of church people that no man could count to them as an excuse for refusing to join the church.

During the course of his sermon, Mr. Clark made the assertion that if the Protestant church went down, the public school system would go down with it, and he was surprised that in this city the elite of Virginia were faithful of the public school teachers were affiliated with the church, and that but few ever went inside their doors.

the Board.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resignation of Hans C. Hanson, a member of the Lake county board of commissioners, and the selection of L. C. Anderson to fill the vacancy, has necessitated a reorganization of the standing committees of the county board as follows:

WISE CLERK

Quits Sandwiches and Coffee for Lunch.

The noon-day lunch for the Department clerks at Washington is often a most serious question.

"For fifteen years," writes one of those clerks, "I have been working in one of the Gov't Departments about two years ago I found myself every afternoon with a very tired feeling in my head, trying to get the day's work off my desk.

"I had heard of Grape-Nuts as a food for brain and nerve centers, so I began to eat it instead of my usual heavy breakfast, then for my lunch instead of sandwiches and coffee.

"In a very short time the tired feeling in the head left me, and ever since then the afternoon's work has been done with as much ease and pleasure as the morning's work.

"Grape-Nuts for two meals a day has worked, in my case, just as advertised, producing that reserve force and supply of energy that does not permit one to tire easily—so essential to the successful prosecution of one's life work." "There's a reason."

MUCH PULPWOOD
BEING SHIPPEDSnow Helps Out Wood-Cutters—Other Notes
From Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The good roads created by the recent snowfall has caused a great increase in the shipments of pulpwood, ties and posts, and of wood-hauling. The city will see a rush to get all products possible out before the break-up. The city is now in a service with a few days, the recent snowfall delaying the work. The season is so late, there will be no regular hockey team organized this winter, but there will be games between local teams.

The city council have had a snow plow constructed and put into service for keeping the walks clean, or the assistance of those who are unable to do so.

Owing to the increase in the log, tie and pulpwood shipments between here and Allen Junction, and the finishing of the shipments by the Scott-Graft company from mile 51, commencing today, the freight here is running between here and Tower Junction will hereafter run between here and Allen Junction.

The wrecking crew was called out Thursday evening to pick up eight cars derailed on the Duluth and St. Paul line, and Friday evening to put some cars on the line near Allen Junction and St. Paul. Rev. J. A. McLaughlin spoke at the Y. M. C. A. gospel meeting yesterday afternoon.

TROUBLE OVER HALL

Results in Arrest on Charge of an Assault.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—There seems to be a fight on foot between the Temperance and Socialists-Finnish societies to gain possession of Uralia hall. This was evidenced at a dance recently when Oscar Yeda, belonging to the Socialist organization, is said to have struck a woman from the other society and a row almost ensued. He was arrested, but says that he did not strike the woman, whose name is Miss Yeda. He says he got into trouble with a man at the dance and that he will defend himself at the hearing Thursday.

Eveleth Skater Was Too Much for Benson of Virginia.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Friday night at Virginia, Fred Lamear of this city won the one mile roller skating race from Bob Benson, champion of that town. Benson fell and was unable to get up to Lamear, the latter winning easily by half a lap. Lamear is now seeking a match with Mox Larson and the Virginia brother, Duluth. He is ready to bet any amount that he can defeat those skaters, and is not afraid of his money, so far, there is no one on the ranges that can beat him.

WAS AN EPILEPTIC.

Matt Eskala Fell in Snow, Presumably in Fit and Suffocated or Froze

Ely, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body found lying in the alley near Fourth avenue on Friday morning has been identified as that of Matt Eskala. The deceased came here three or four weeks ago from Floodwood and earned his living by doing odd jobs about town. He has his brother living at Grand Marais. A post mortem examination was made by Dr. Kyra and Dr. Parker. Eskala was apparently in good health when he died, although it developed he was an epileptic. The night engineer at the Pioneer mine identified the body as being that of the man who came into the mine to work Thursday night at about 10 o'clock. He had blood on his face and could not remember where he had been or what had happened to him or hurt him. The engineer says he was not under the influence of liquor at that time. This was the last seen of him until he was found in the alley morning. The doctors are of the opinion that he fell in the snow face downward and was not able to rise or turn over suffocated or froze to death. His brother has arrived and taken charge of the remains.

JOHN HEIN PERISHES.

All Alone in Destruction of His Cabin by Fire.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word has reached here from the homestead of John Herman Hein, who lived alone in a cabin, about forty-five miles northeast of this city, that he perished in the burning of his cabin a few nights ago. A neighbor was attracted to the Hein cabin by the fire, but when he arrived it was too late, the building being a mass of flames. Hein was using an inflammable medicine that he applied to his face for lye poisoning, and it is presumed the stuff caught fire from his lamp as he was applying it, the destruction of the cabin and his cremation resulting.

The dead man was about 75 years old and was well known in Lake county, having been clerk of the town of Crystal Bay. He is survived by a widow and four grown sons living in Minneapolis.

METER ORDINANCE

Starts Red Hot Fight in the Courts at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The opening gun in the fight between this city and the Crookston Waterworks, Power & Light company, was fired this morning, when a hearing began on the application for an injunction made by the company restraining the city from enforcing the meter rental ordinance, which just went into effect. This reduces the amount of rental which can be charged by the company from 30 cents per month to 35 cents per quarter. Counsel has been engaged to assist City Attorney O'Brien. The validity of the franchise will be attacked and the biggest legal battle ever fought affecting the city.

At 1 o'clock today Judge Watts adjourned the hearing to give the respondent time to answer.

NEW TRIAL IS BEGUN

William Carlson Faces Jury Again on Grand Larceny Charge.

First Jury Could Reach no Agreement as to Verdict.

For a second time within a week William Carlson, indicted for grand larceny, faces a jury that will determine his guilt or innocence on the charge of stealing two suit cases filled with clothing from Leo Kaiser, near Buhl, last summer.

The first trial of Carlson resulted in a disagreement of the jury. It is rumored that the vote stood four for conviction and eight for acquittal at the time the jury was discharged.

Kaiser, who from his testimony seems to have been quite a rover, having been in nearly every state of the union, claims that he left the train at a small station near Buhl about 9 o'clock one evening last summer to go to the Kinney mine. He alleges that he could not get into the section house to leave his baggage and that a man whom he believes to be Carlson, stepped up and offered to assist him carry the suit cases to the location.

Kaiser claims that it was dark, the road was muddy and heavy and they had proceeded but a short distance when he proposed hiding the baggage in the woods and returning for it the following morning.

It is claimed that the property was hidden in a convenient spot off the trail and the two men went on to the location. The next morning Kaiser repaired to the spot where he had planted his suit, but the suit cases and their contents were missing. He claims that he neither saw nor heard of them again until last fall when he happened to meet Carlson at Buhl wearing what Kaiser claims to be one of the coats he had stolen from him last summer.

Carlson denies that he ever saw Kaiser at the station on the night in question or that he assisted in carrying the baggage. The defendant claims to have bought the clothing from another party.

Under cross-examination Kaiser stated that he worked as a laborer at the fair grounds during the St. Louis exposition and that he worked for a time in the mines on the range. He claimed that he was discharged from his position as a miner because he was too old to do the work.

Carlson is defended by C. B. Miller and First Assistant County Attorney W. J. Stevenson is prosecuting the case.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

A large number of Duluth club women gathered at the Swedish Lutheran church this morning to view the altar painting, "The Ascension," by David Ericson, which has been presented to the church by Mr. Ericson in memory of his mother. The auditorium was filled with admirers of Mr. Ericson's work, who welcomed this opportunity to view one of his latest achievements. In the religious picture Mr. Ericson has found a medium of expression, and his pictures of this class possess a direct appeal and beauty of feeling that commends itself at once to the beholder. Mr. Ericson was present and spoke informally of the picture, of its composition and color, making a finer appreciation of it possible. This morning's meeting was planned by the Arts and Crafts committee of the Women's Council, and the guests expressed their gratitude for the opportunity of seeing the picture and meeting the artist.

FINE ARTIST

To Be Heard Here With San Carlo Company.

There is widespread interest in the city in the engagement of the San Carlo company at the Lyceum next week, and one of the most interesting of the artists of the company is Alice Nielsen, who has been most enthusiastically received by the public and the critics. One of the critics in summing up the season of opera presented in Chicago by this company, said of her: "However, Alice Nielsen carried honors easily throughout the week and proved herself such a very remarkable and versatile artist that it is a matter of wonderment that such a combination of accomplished singer and actress had not been annexed by the Corned forces long ago. But this company has allowed one or two to slip through and with triumphs for other managers, and one of the two is Alice Nielsen, who at each performance has so gained upon herself, has proved so surely her claim to be classed with the few authoritative operatic singers. Henry Russell may have greater names in his company."

ALICE NIELSEN, Prima Donna Soprano With San Carlo Opera Company.

What Retail Markets Offer.

Duluth grown orchids, $1 each. Grape fruit, 15 cents each. Winter Nellie pears, 40 cents a dozen. Celery root, 6 cents each. Parsnips, 30 cents a peck. Leaf lard, 12 1/2 cents a pound. Beef tongues, 65 cents each. Smoked tongues, 75 cents each. Cottage cheese, 12 1/2 cents a pound. The demand for Duluth grown orchids at $1 each about equals the supply. There is hardly a flower in the shop but exceeds in beauty the orchid, but it is exclusive and is more or less in demand. The last is an accusation which can scarcely be brought against the offering in another market. Pigs' snouts and tails, clean, scraped looking things, occupy a quite prominent place in many of the market windows. They retail at 15 cents a pound and no one class is especially crazy about them, but some folks during the day, express a desire and by evening the snouts and tails have all disappeared. Which is more than be said of the orchids.

Matinee Musicale.

The regular meeting of the Matinee Musicale was held this afternoon at Steinway hall. The compositions of modern composers were presented on the program, which was arranged by Miss Josephine Carey and Miss Ruth Markell. Three piano numbers played by Miss Sybilla Hartman opened the program. The composers represented were Sjalowski and Arensky. George L. Tyler, who appeared before the club for the first time this year, sang two Technokovsky numbers, "Fourquol" an "Serenade de Don Juan," and was heard with much pleasure. The program closed with a trio in D minor by Arensky, and played by Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, piano; Fred G. Bradbury, violin, and Mrs. Marie Gust Erd, cello. The accompanist was Miss Elizabeth Morton.

METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.
ST. PAUL AROUSED

Over Loss of Engagement of San Carlo Grand Opera Company.

St. Paul and Minneapolis are in quite a fret over the rentals being charged for the Auditoriums in those Twin Cities, and the San Carlo Grand Opera company—which comes to Duluth for three nights, beginning next Monday—seems to have stirred up some of the agitation.

The company cut St. Paul off its route because of an exorbitant rental asked for the Auditorium there. But in Minneapolis, the opera people were able to make satisfactory terms. On the other hand, the State Hardware association has switched its convention from Minneapolis to St. Paul, because of the high rental asked for the Minneapolis Auditorium. In St. Paul better terms were secured.

The Twin City papers have been devoting considerable space to the discussion of the situation. The St. Paul Dispatch, although grateful for a circumstance which gives them the hardware convention, is also wrought up over the loss of a grand opera engagement to that city, through the refusal of the San Carlo company to pay a high rental. The Dispatch asks for an equalization of Auditorium rentals, whereby the St. Paul Auditorium may be the scene of the city's musical events, as well as the city's gatherings. And the San Carlo company is getting considerable free advertising out of it.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE

Will be Used by Boats Plying the Great Lakes.

Cleveland Wants Here to Establish a Station.

Wireless telephones are to be an important adjunct to the shipping business on the Great Lakes during the coming season, and J. H. Lucas of Cleveland, is now in Duluth to establish a wireless station here.

Mr. Lucas is a representative of the Radio Telephone company, which employs the de Forest wireless system now in use in many places, and a part of the equipment of the big battleship fleet and torpedo flotilla on their cruise around the world.

Many of the freighters which ply the Great Lakes during the season of navigation are to be equipped with the wireless telephone, and the agents of the companies can then get in communication with the vessels at any time.

It is the plan of the company not only to utilize the wireless telephone in the shipping trade, but in general business as well, and the station to be established near Duluth will start the ball rolling in this part of the country.

WOMAN WHO HAS TWO AFFINITIES

Lands in Police Station When Soul Mates Fight Duel.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Oscar Tring and Prof. Herron have been out-trigged and out-Herron—and by a woman.

The University of Chicago professor and the clerical sociologist sent a shiver through the social firmament when they advanced their "soul affinity" ideas, but Mrs. Grace Franks of South St. Marie goes them one better. She has found her soul mate.

"This talk about affinities is right," said Mrs. Franks, "but it is ridiculous to talk about having only one 'soul mate.' I've had two, but you must not let your affinities mix."

Because Mrs. Franks' affinities came together, the police of the Desplaines street station became interested.

Mrs. Franks is a prosier in the Harrison street police station annex. Todd Naylor, soul mate No. 2, is a patient in the county jail, and Percy McDonald, soul mate No. 1, is confined in the Maxwell street police station.

The two men fought a knife duel for the possession of the woman, who is claimed to be the better half of both. The police interfered. Neither of the men believes in the affinity ideas.

Mrs. Franks gave a graphic description of her life since she adopted affinity principles. She is 21 years of age and attractive.

"I was married when I was 16," she said, "and soon afterward became acquainted with McDonald. From the first I knew he was well, what professors called a 'soul mate.' I left my husband and went with him to Minneapolis. He was employed there for several years, when my second 'soul mate' appeared. I had believed there could be but one. But when he said 'come,' I went with him. We came to Chicago to live."

Before we were settled here McDonald dropped in from apparently nowhere. All I remember after that was that someone was snubbed and the police came and arrested all of us," said McDonald, in his cell. "I married her three years ago, and the two little children

EXTRA APPROPRIATION

Will Not Be Made This Year for Ballooning.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The desire of the signal corps of the army for an increased appropriation to be used in ballooning tests, is not to be fulfilled this year, according to chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs.

President Roosevelt took this matter up with Mr. Hull today, his suggestion being that the committee make an investigation into the subject of army ballooning. With the view to an increased appropriation. On leaving the White House, Mr. Hull stated that the conclusion had been reached that the proper investigation could not be well made at this session. Incidentally, Mr. Hull said that a new balloon had been invented by some wealthy and prominent New York men, the claim for which will be that it could be navigated sixty miles an hour, without reference to the winds. He understood that it was the intention of the inventors to give the government the benefit of this balloon, without cost. The usual appropriation for experiments by the signal corps, which also is to include experiments in ballooning, will be made as heretofore.

POWERFUL BOMBS

Connected With Wires Would Have Blown Up Czar's Palace.

London, Feb. 10.—The Paris correspondent of the Central News says, word has reached the French capital of the discovery by the empress of Russia of a terrorist warning in the czarovitch's bed, stating the czar and czarvitch have been sentenced to death.

Secret police agents found a network of electric wires ingeniously concealed and connected with seventeen powerful bombs placed at distant points in the palace.

A single operator would have been able to blow up the entire palace. The discovery of the plot, it is said, has greatly frightened the czar. He is again in an exceedingly nervous state, brooding over the double assassination of the king and crown prince of Portugal.

CHANGE IN PRIESTS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 10.—The Rev. A. J. Burrows, president of Marquette university for the past seven years, has been transferred to the presidency of St. Ignace college, Chicago, the change to take effect tomorrow. Father Burrows will be succeeded by the Rev. James McCabe, s. j., former vice president of the university. The order making the change comes from St. Louis, Mo., the headquarters of the Missouri province of the Society of Jesus.

MONEY FOR THE POOR.

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 10.—John W. Bookwalter, millionaire, and former Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, today cabled $2,500 to Mayor Burnett, from Nice, Italy. The money is to be used for the poor people of this city who are out of work.

WARNING TO PARENTS

The weather conditions are again favorable to coasting and we wish to speak a word of warning with particular reference to this class of winter sports.

On all streets, where there are street car tracks, and on all the avenues, which cross the tracks, there is CONSTANT DANGER to those indulging in the exhilarating sport of coasting.

Men and women, as well as boys and girls, have lost their lives, or have been seriously injured by coasting down the hills and dashing into moving or standing cars.

Parents, why jeopardize the lives of your children by permitting them to coast where the danger is so great and when there are so many other places in the city where they may indulge in the sport with perfect safety?

Why not assist us in preventing accidents?

The African Negro

Has Beautiful Pearly Teeth, Clean, White and Perfect, Without a Flaw, Even in Old Age.

Living Near to Nature, His Digestion is Perfect.

Dr. Livingstone, and later Henry Stanley, both of whom spent much time in the exploration of Africa, in their memoirs mention the fact that members of all the tribes that they came in contact with possessed beautiful, white, pearly, sound teeth, and that on investigation they found that this was due to the fact that the digestive organs of the negro had never been impaired, and that they were able at all times to take care of the coarse foods that were taken into the stomach. The negroes' food is of the plainest kind and is seldom if ever cooked. It is eaten as it is found, with but little preparation.

The cause of unsound and imperfect teeth found among civilized people is due to two important facts—the prevalence of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles, and the food we eat. In the foods that we eat there is a lack of phosphates and other materials necessary to make repairs and supply the waste in the teeth.

Then again, people in civilized countries are free from dyspepsia, which interferes with the whole system and causes trouble everywhere. To have sound teeth, cure your dyspepsia and eat proper foods, and you will have little trouble with them.

A package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be kept in the house at all times. They cure dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, and put the stomach and intestines in a healthy condition.

The Tablets contain a powerful ingredient which assists the stomach in the process of digestion, and puts it in a healthy condition.

There are many bodily ills due entirely to stomach troubles. If you are ill ask yourself if your trouble may not be caused by indigestion.

This may be the cause of the whole difficulty, and to cure it means to have perfect health.

You can get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drugstore, for they are as staple as any drug in the store. They are 50 cents per package.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, from Address P. A. Stuart Co., 130 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

AGED LABORER SHOT DOWN, SELF DEFENSE IS PLEA

Henry Bolot Claims Old Man Attacked Him With Hatchet.

Victim's Wife Corroborates Story Told by the Prisoner.

Jealousy of his young wife is given as the cause of a murderous attack made by Magloire Charbonneau upon Henry Bolot, a boarder in his home at 3825 Halifax street, shortly before midnight Saturday. Bolot in self-defense, shot and instantly killed Charbonneau. Bolot is 47 years of age and is employed as a foreman at the Elliott Packing company's plant, while Charbonneau is a laborer, 55 years old.

Bolot, who with his 10-year-old daughter, boarded at the Charbonneau home, gave a statement to the police. He says the shot was fired in self-defense, and that he would have been killed with a hatchet, if he had not had the revolver.

Bolot was asleep. Bolot claims to have been asleep and asleep when aroused by heated words between Charbonneau and his wife. As he had kept the revolver under his pillow, he picked it up and fired into the room, and the old man fell back into the arms of his wife.

The homicide station, calling up the West Duluth police station and telling what he had done. There was a delay in making the arrest, and Bolot had already gone to bed. The police were unable to ascertain what motive Charbonneau would have for wanting to kill Bolot. The latter seems nearly distracted over the incident, and he wishes he had been killed instead of the other man.

I never meant to kill him, and have not the slightest idea why he came after me with the hatchet," said the prisoner yesterday. "He had been acting queerly of late, but I never dreamed he would kill me. I had some trouble over a little lumber about a year ago and at that time he was very angry with me. He said he would kill me, and we apparently have been the best of friends since then. I was afraid of him, but I was not afraid of his wife."

"When I returned home from lodge meeting about 10:30 Saturday night, Charbonneau was sitting in the kitchen smoking. I passed him without speaking. He did not show any sign of recognition. I retired at once, and went to bed. I was sleeping about half an hour, when suddenly I was awakened by the loud threats of the old man. He was holding his wife by the arm, and she was holding his arm at the door, and crying,

"He had notified the station and was patiently awaiting the arrival of officers. Bolot is a widow, with two daughters, 10 years old. The two have been boarding at Charbonneau's for several years. WILL VISIT COENCL.
West Duluth Citizens Wrought Up Over Saloon Cases.

A delegation of West Duluth men will be present at the meeting of the city council tonight, to see what will be done with the saloon licenses of Theodore Epper and James Mulligan, the saloonkeepers, in whose places the disgraced affair of over a week ago took place.

From the general sentiment that is being voiced by nearly every man of any standing in West Duluth, it is gathered that they do not wish the least leniency to be shown the two saloonkeepers who allowed such things to take place in their barrooms, and who are claimed to have sold the liquor to the minors.

Struck by Street Car.
Henry McAlpine, 194 Elinor street, yesterday narrowly escaped being crushed beneath the wheels of an east-bound West Third street car.

He and a companion were crossing the tracks to board a car that was just bearing down upon them at Grand and Forty-ninth avenue west. Neither of them seemed to realize that the car was so close to them. Though it just missed his friend, McAlpine tried to cross the tracks after his friend. The car struck McAlpine and threw him to one side. No bones were broken, but he was severely bruised and shaken up.

Republicans Celebrate.
R. D. Haven, J. J. Moe, J. E. Foubister and L. A. Barnes were the principal speakers, Saturday night, at the celebration of the club for the support they had given the candidates during the campaign.

The club will continue to hold meetings on the first Saturday night of each month until the more active work of the presidential campaign starts, when they will hold meetings every week on Saturday night.

Plans for a big Republican banquet, to be held some time next summer, were announced by A. J. Meldahl.

lake shipments of this article have decreased about 42 per cent since 1901—the first year for which the bureau has a complete record of the lumber shipments by lake.

The Eastward grain movement for the season included 53,345,355 bushels of wheat, compared with 47,728,773 bushels shipped during the season, the main shipping ports, in the order of importance being Duluth, Superior and Chicago, which are credited in the aggregate with over 93 per cent of the total wheat shipments by lake. The corn shipments, 44,355,990 bushels, about 91 per cent of which originated in Chicago, were somewhat larger than the shipments of 43,540 bushels.

The shipments of oats, 20,630,133 bushels, mainly from Manitoba, Duluth and Chicago, were 23 per cent below the 1906 total, while the barley shipments, 13,544,074 bushels, mainly from Superior and Milwaukee, show a 25 per cent decrease as compared with the 1906 figures.

The importance of Buffalo as a receiving port for grain shipped from the upper lakes is seen from the fact that the 87 per cent of all the wheat, 84 per cent of all the corn, 82 per cent of all the oats, and 83 per cent of all the barley, received by lake, is credited to that port; the other important grain receiving points on the Great Lakes being Erie, Ogdensburg and Ludington.

The four shipments from Duluth-Superior, Chicago and Milwaukee, mainly 1,314,481 net tons (or 10 barrels each), were slightly below the shipments reported for the preceding season and were directed chiefly to Buffalo and, to a smaller extent, to other Lake Erie ports.

The tonnage for the season, 1,300,284 net tons, shows a considerable decrease compared with the total of the preceding year, 1,507,510 net tons. Through the gradual exhaustion of the lumber supply in the territory contiguous to the Great Lakes is seen from the fact that the

A FINE TRIP.
C. d'Autremont and Son Leave for South and West.

A pleasure trip deserving of the name is planned by C. d'Autremont and his son, Charles, the latter 19 years of age, who left yesterday for the South.

Father and son will first stop at New Orleans, and from there will sail to Tampico bay, Mexico, where they will fish for tarpon. From there they will go to Old Mexico, visit Vera Cruz, before returning to New Orleans.

From New Orleans they will go to Bismarck and Canton, where Mr. d'Autremont is extensively interested in mining, and then they will go to Los Angeles and fish for tuna and yellow tails in the vicinity of the Catalina islands. Northern California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for trout and salmon fishing, will be the next points visited. Later they will go to Banff, in the Canadian Rockies, and do some mountain and glacier climbing, returning to Duluth in May.

DEATH ENDS SUFFERING.
Plasterer, Burned in Explosion, Succumbs to His Injuries.

Death brought relief yesterday morning to Magnus Nordin, the plasterer, who suffered terrible burns Saturday afternoon, by the explosion of a gasoline blow-torch burner, with which he was working. From the outset it was seen that Nordin could not live.

When assistance came to him after the accident, his clothing had been nearly burned off. The explosion had scattered oil all over his body, and his clothing became ignited. Nordin was working in a house on West Second street when the explosion took place, and afterwards was removed to St. Mary's hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

The dead man was 24 years of age, and resided at 708 East Second street. The funeral is being held this afternoon at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street.

'PHONE TO FLOODWOOD.
Floodwood, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The telephone line has been completed between Floodwood and Duluth, and everything is ready for the organization of a local exchange. A meeting will be called at once, and arrangements made to perfect the organization.

FINDS HIS WIFE DEAD.
Farmer Makes Awful Discovery on Returning Home.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Axel Berg, a farmer, living about eight miles east of Brainerd, arrived home Saturday night from a trip to this place, he found his wife lying dead on a couch. Mrs. Berg had an attack of apoplexy a couple of years ago, and a second seizure caused death.

Barney Mattson, for a long time a resident of Brainerd, died at his home Saturday night after an illness of several weeks.

The funeral of Miss Ella Parker of this city, whose remains were brought from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, for burial, took place Sunday afternoon and was largely attended, she having been born and raised in this city, where she was a great favorite.

NAVY YIELDS TO CUPID.
Lieut. Brooks Finally Allowed to Quit and Join Bride.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Cupid has triumphed over the big stick. He has unseated the president of the United States and commander of the second biggest navy in the world.

When Lieut. Le Roy Brooks, Jr., fresh from duty in Chinese waters, took a bride, under the impression that he would have two years' service here unimpeded, had his honeymoon interrupted at Cincinnati by an order to sail for the West Virginia coast of the battleship fleet, he tried to resign. But a threat of court-martial for disobedience of orders forbade the lieutenant from the side of his bride. He joined the ship and made the trip as soon as he landed at San Francisco he mailed another application to the navy department for release. The papers reached the president Saturday and were approved on the ground that a dissatisfied officer might as well retire.

Brooks was appointed to the naval academy in 1888, and reached the grade of ensign last May.

CRISIS IN STORING.
Changes May Cause Overthrow of Loveland Government in Norway.

Christiania, Feb. 10.—Changes have recently occurred in the party organization in the storing which may possibly entail the overthrow of the government.

Friday night a two-thirds majority of the left union seceded, upon which the remaining minority left the meeting. The majority then formed themselves into a new association bearing the same name with the express proviso that there will be no cooperation with other parties. The new association now numbers fifty-three members. These, with the Socialists, who number ten, would suffice to overthrow the government, but they are not sufficiently strong as yet to form a new government alone. Hopes are entertained that they will gain some fresh adherents. The official leader of the left is M. K. Nilsen, while M. Berntsen, late chairman of the left union, has been placed on the committee.

It is expected that this month will see a clearing of the political atmosphere which will settle the fate of the Loveland government.

EVERYTHING SEEMS TO BE GOING SECRETARY TAFT'S WAY IN THE STATE OF OHIO

Supreme Court Decides His Organization in Cuyahoga Valid.

Primaries Are Being Held in Thirty-Six Counties of State.

Managers Expect Harmonious Convention for Taft on March 3.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 11.—The supreme court today declared that the Rodway committee of Cuyahoga county, which is controlled by the supporters of Secretary Taft is the valid county organization in that county, and today's primaries were held under the management of that organization.

The committee, which was sustained by the supreme court today, previously had been declared regular by the Republican state central committee, by the secretary of state and by two of the lower courts. The friends of Senator Foraker contended, however, that the board of elections had final authority by implication to decide which was the rightful committee, and that it had recognized the Harvey, or Foraker committee, that later the board, under direction from the secretary of state, and not because it had altered its opinion, recognized the Taft committee. They accordingly asked that the board be enjoined from exercising its executive power contrary to the way in which it had exercised its judicial functions.

The supreme court, in affirming decisions given previously by the circuit court, and common pleas court of Cuyahoga county, declares that the board of elections is without authority to ignore the committee recognized by the state central committee, and that the committee named must be adopted. Judges Crew, Summers, Spear and Davis concurred in the decision. Chief Justice Schenck and Judge Price did not participate in the case.

STRAINED RELATIONS

Between Russia and Finland to be Taken Up by Duma.

Absence of Control by Premier to be Main Attack.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—The relations between Russia and the grand duchy of Finland, which long have been a subject of serious discussion in the higher administrative circles of the empire and the grand duchy, will now be raised in the duma by the Octoberists, who have decided to attack as a salient point the absence of control by M. Stolypin, the Russian premier, over the reports of the Finnish secretary of state to the emperor.

The Octoberists in caucus have drafted an interpellation addressed to Premier Stolypin in which it is set forth that, according to the fundamental laws of the empire, ministers reporting to the emperor must first submit their reports to the cabinet. The Octoberists maintain that the fundamental laws are applicable to the Russian empire, and it is a fact that up to the present time the Finnish secretary, who ranks as a minister, has not observed this provision. Premier Stolypin will be asked what steps have been taken to put an end to this abnormal condition.

Second Interpellation.
A second interpellation will ask why no measure have been taken, in accordance with instructions issued by the emperor, to connect the railroad systems of Finland and Russia, a step which is imperatively necessary for the security of the empire in order to make possible the rapid mobilization of troops in case of the hostile invasion of Finland.

Both these questions will be made urgent in order to forestall any action on the part of the Reactionaries, who purpose to raise this matter in a much sharper form.

They are preparing to demand that the ownership of the Viborg district be restored to Russia and that measures to crush the national aspirations of Finland be adopted. The duma has asked Foreign Minister Isvolsky to make a declaration before it on the subject of the government's foreign policy. This is in sharp contrast to the attitude maintained by the preceding legislative bodies, which busied themselves exclusively with domestic affairs.

COMPLAINTS VISIONARY

Report of Grand Jury on Charges Against Indian Agent.

Counter Charges Against Magazine Writer Also Fail.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 11.—The federal grand jury, that has been investigating the affairs of the Crow Indian agency, made its final report yesterday. The charges made by Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, the eastern magazine writer, are characterized in the report as "altogether visionary and entirely incapable of substantiation."

Counter charges had been made by federal authorities against Mrs. Gray, who was accused of illegally securing money from the Indians. These charges evidently failed to impress the grand jury, for Mrs. Gray was not indicted. The Indian agent was completely exonerated. The report says in part:

"Every opportunity has been afforded for the presentation of evidence, while, on the other hand, we have sought to be equally fair and impartial in recording a hearing to those who have been accused. For some reason, Mr. Brosius, the agent of the Indian rights association, at whose instance the charges against the Indian agent of the Crow reservation were presented to the grand jury did not appear before us to establish any of the charges so presented to him, although assurance notices had been given that he would appear."

Anxious to Get at Facts.

INDICTMENTS KNOCKED OUT

State Supreme Court Releases Bridge Trust of Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 11.—The supreme court today caused a sensation by knocking out all the indictments against the bridge trust in Ohio.

The indictments were brought in Erie county and charged violation of the anti-trust laws, and it is a fact that up to the present time the Finnish secretary, who ranks as a minister, has not observed this provision. Premier Stolypin will be asked what steps have been taken to put an end to this abnormal condition.

The indictments are held to be illegal on the grounds of duplicity and indefiniteness in that they simply charge that the parties were engaged in a conspiracy in restraint of trade in March 1902 to March 1902 without stating definite times of violation of the anti-trust laws and because the laws make each day's violation a separate offense and hence the basis of a separate indictment.

The King Bridge company, the Massillon bridge company, the Bellefonte bridge company, the Mount Vernon bridge company of Columbia, Brackett Bridge company and the Canton Bridge company were indicted in March 1902, in a trust conspiracy from March 10, 1903 to March 9, 1904.

Overruled by Common Pleas Court.
The common pleas court overruled all motions to quash and demurrers based on duplicity and indefiniteness of the indictments and all the defendants were convicted. Their cases were carried to the circuit court and later the Canton Bridge company and the Massillon Bridge company withdrew their petitions in error and paid the fines imposed. The case was then taken to the circuit court which reversed the convictions in the common pleas court. The case was then taken to the supreme court.

SON CREMATED WHILE FATHER SAVES CATTLE

Oxford, Pa., Feb. 11.—While his son was being cremated in a burning barn at Pleasant Grove, the father and a number of neighbors were risking their lives to save horses and cows which could not get out of the stable.

The boy, Joel L. Pusey, 8 years old, had taken some matches from the house and kindled a fire with them in the barn. Almost immediately the hay caught fire and before the lad knew it he was surrounded by flames.

It was some time before the fire was checked and the father and several neighbors hurried to rescue the cattle, never realizing that the boy was inside. The barn, with its contents, was destroyed. Not until the flames had been extinguished was the boy missed. After a search his charred remains were found.

WERE WITHIN THEIR RIGHTS

Injunction Against Marine Engineers' Union is Dismissed.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 11.—Judge McLemore has dissolved the injunction obtained in his court some time ago by the Luckenbach Towing company of Brooklyn, N. Y., by which the Norfolk Marine Engineers' union, its officers and members, were restrained from interfering with the employees on the Luckenbach tug in an effort to bring on an engineers' strike.

Judge McLemore ruled that no injunction could lie until violence against the plaintiffs, or their property was attempted by the defendants and that members of the Engineers' union were within their rights in endeavoring by argument or other fair means to have employees of the plaintiff quit their employment.

INDICTMENT QUASHED.
Salem, Mass., Feb. 11.—The indictment against Speaker John N. Cole of the Massachusetts house of representatives, charging him with violating the statutes by soliciting transportation below regular rates, was quashed today.

ABOUT TO CLOSE PAPER MERGER

Arrangements for Financing Deal Believed to Have Been Completed.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 11.—The gigantic print paper mill merger again has come to light with the arrival of John G. Harriman of New York. The engineer of the elaborate paper deal is as reticent as ever on the subject, but it is said that since he left here for New York, the last arrangements have been made for swinging the financial part of the deal. Local manufacturers believe that the merger would have culminated several months ago, had it not been for the condition of the money market, and are now looking under the impression that Eastern capitalists have completed arrangements for the proposed combine.

Mr. Harriman will leave for the northwestern part of the state some time this week, and it is supposed, will hold a conference with the owners of the Minnesota mills at Duluth.

SKI RIDERS AND CROWDS OF SPECTATORS FLOCK TO DULUTH FOR TOURNAMENT

"THIS SIDE UP" WILL NO LONGER BE A R. R. JOKE

New York, Feb. 11.—That railroad companies in New York state must observe the injunction "this side up" when it is placed on a freight package has been decided by the court of appeals. The decision comes in a suit brought by Stephen M. Hoye against the Pennsylvania railroad for $350, the value of a number of electric batteries which were damaged in transit because the railroad paid no attention to the printed warning on the box. When he went to the railroad company for a settlement, Mr. Hoye says he was told that railroad men had long ceased to pay any attention to such an injunction and that it was considered a joke to them. The suit has been in the courts for four years.

OTTO KELSEY, Insurance Superintendent of New York, Whom Governor Hughes Has Again Asked the Legislature to Remove.

REMOVAL OF KELSEY

As Superintendent of Insurance Again Asked by Hughes.

Bases Second Request on Report of Commissioner Fleming.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Governor Hughes today renewed to the senate his recommendation of last year that Otto Kelsey be removed from the office of state superintendent of insurance, on the ground of incompetency. Last year the senate refused, by a vote of 27 to 24, to remove Supt. Kelsey.

Governor Hughes bases his renewal of the recommendation upon the report of Matthew C. Fleming, the governor's special commissioner, who recently investigated the insurance department and transmitted with his message a copy of Mr. Fleming's report.

On motion of Senator Raines, the message, without comment, was unanimously ordered printed, and "for the present to lie on the table."

While admitting the magnitude of the work of the insurance department, and that its task has recently increased, the governor says that "side by side with this departmental activities, there grew up wasteful and corrupt methods, which scandalized the country and brought the supervision of the department with regard to the important interests of the holders of life insurance policies into contempt."

"From the insurance investigation of 1905," says the governor, "it appeared that the energy and honesty of the department had been efficient, in the true sense, most of the scandals which were revealed could not have existed."

EAGLE POINT IS SIGHTED

Missing Steamship Seen 270 Miles From Sandy Hook.

New York, Feb. 11.—The British steamer Eagle Point, which has been thirty days enroute from London for Philadelphia, was sighted yesterday, 270 miles east-southeast of Sandy Hook, by the steamer Vanderland, which arrived today. The Eagle Point was last spoken on Jan. 25, when her captain reported that the steamer's shaft was broken. Insurance rates on the vessel have been increased and some alarm for her safety has prevailed among shipping men.

The Eagle Point was 520 miles east of New Foundland on Jan. 25, and since then has covered about 1,000 miles on her voyage, or at the rate of about sixty miles per day.

DEPOSED PRIEST APPEALS TO THE SUPREME COURT.

Lincoln, Feb. 11.—Father William Murphy, who for a number of years has been in litigation with Bishop Thomas of the Lincoln diocese, over his right to reside as a priest in the Catholic church, yesterday appealed to the supreme court from a judgment of the district court of seating him outside the diocese from the parishes of Seward and Ogish. Father Murphy is still in possession of the church property of the two towns and the trustees are his partisans, refusing to give up the keys to the church.

The case was long ago excommunicated by Bishop Bonum and the case has twice been before the church authorities at Rome.

FIRE AT EAST ST. LOUIS.
East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 11.—Fourteen empty adjoining flats on Bond avenue were destroyed by fire today, entailing a loss of $20,000. Ten other flats were saved and in them the firemen report having found eighteen jars of gasoline, bundles of excelsior and matches.

The First Day's Program Opens With Parade to Hill.

Warm Weather Has Not Melted Snow on the Hill.

Unique Procession and Hockey Game Also on Program.

With a parade, starting from the headquarters of the Duluth Ski club in the Winthrop block, Fourth avenue west and First street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the biggest and best tournament in the history of the National Ski association opened today. The procession went to Chester hill, where the amateurs will hold their contests.

All day yesterday, last night and today, the trains arriving at the union station brought tournament visitors and scores of ski riders into Duluth. The brilliant performers, who participated in the tournament, at Coleraine, Sunday, were the vanguard of the ski riding arrivals. Other riders arrived last night and today and it is expected a number of the professionals, who will take part in tomorrow's events, will not come until tonight.

Many visitors. From all over the Northwest, the visitors are coming to see the spectacle on Chester hill. To many of them, ski riding is an unknown sport. They will come for their first view of it, and they will be satisfied. The entries for the big meet are complete and they include the greatest riders in the United States.

It is expected that the present American record for the longest standing jump will be easily broken on Chester hill tomorrow. The warm weather of today may make the slide somewhat sticky, but the hill is fairly well sheltered from the sun, and this afternoon's events will put the slide in good shape for the professional riders tomorrow. Some of the riders have been making from 115 to 120 feet in practice (Continued on page 10, fourth column.)

ACTRESS LOSES STRING OF OPALS

Apartment of Ethel Barrymore in New York Robbed.

New York, Feb. 11.—The apartments occupied by Miss Ethel Barrymore were robbed Sunday night, according to reports made to the police. The burglars secured $75, a string of opals and a number of trinkets, which Miss Barrymore prized as mementoes of her mother, Georgie Drew Barrymore. It was evident that the rooms had been thoroughly searched, presumably for the actress's jewels, but no others were found for the reason, Miss Barrymore says, she never had any.

SECURITIES ARE STOLEN

Box Containing $50,000 Missing From an Office in Minneapolis.

Was Taken From the Desk of Daniel C. Hopkins.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A tin box, the contents of which are valued at $50,000 and personal property of Daniel C. Hopkins, vice president of the Hopkins Land company, has disappeared from his office in the Metropolitan Life Insurance building.

The police are trying to solve the mystery and seem to be baffled. They say the case is one of the most difficult in the department ever has attempted.

Mr. Hopkins believes the bonds and securities were stolen from his desk Friday morning. The papers were locked in a safe deposit box, which was left on Mr. Hopkins' desk for a moment while he stepped into a rear room. Since then the papers have not been seen by their owner. Mr. Hopkins says he has absolutely no recollection as to whether the box still was on the desk when he returned.

ARE TIRED OF CANADA

Settlers in Dominion Seeking Lands in Northern Minnesota.

Are Desirous of Getting Lands Covered With Timber.

H. V. Eya, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, is in receipt of a communication from George Welch, commissioner of immigration for the state of Minnesota, to the effect that settlers in the Canadian Northwest are tired of living in Canada, and want to come to Minnesota if lands can be obtained here. The letter follows:

"The state board of immigration is in receipt of a number of communications from the Canadian Northwest in which the writers are asking for information about homestead lands in Minnesota. They say they have no money, and consequently are unable to buy lands. They inform me that their crops have been entirely destroyed for two consecutive years.

"I believe the people of our state should be acquainted with these conditions, and therefore I take the liberty of writing you. I feel no hesitation in saying that if the homesteader of today was acquainted with the opportunities that are offered in the Northern sections of Minnesota, that district would receive a settlement unparalleled in history.

"In the communications that come to this office I find a large percentage of the writers desirous of settling on lands on which there is a large quantity of native timber."

GREEN BEER SUPPLIED HIM

Morris Harley Sues a Milwaukee Brewery for Damages.

Morris Harley, proprietor of the Aerial Beer company, 311 Michigan street, is suing the Milwaukee-Vaughan Brewing company, at Milwaukee, for $5,000 for supplying him with poor beer to bottle.

Harley claims that the Milwaukee company shipped him a carload of green beer, in barrels. Not knowing that it was green, he bottled over half of it and delivered it to his customers.

"It wasn't long," said Mr. Harley, "before the beer began to be returned to me, with many complaints. It was green beer, and hence had spoiled in the bottle. My customers claimed I was trying to cheat them, and refused to buy any more of me. It ruined my reputation and cost me a lot of money trying to square myself, so I sued the Milwaukee company for what I thought it was worth, to me, $5,000. They, in turn, are suing me for the price of the stuff they sent me, for I have never sold them, nor returned the goods. There is no use in returning beer that cannot be used."

THE SPORT SPREADING

National Ski President Says It is Becoming More Popular.

Women of the Eastern States Are Taking It Up.

Carl Tefelson, president of the National Ski association, says that the sport of skiing is spreading all over the country. Mr. Tefelson has received inquiries from almost every eastern state, where they are enthusiastically taking up the ancient Norwegian sport. One of his most recent inquiries was from a woman's club in Connecticut. They want to know the kind of skis to use and other details of the sport. He believes that it will be only a question of time before cash prizes will be supplanted by trophies. He believes that in the not very distant future each club participating in the national meet will be in a position to pay the way of the ski riders, pay their salaries should they be obliged to lose any money by making the trip, and in that way permit the men to content for medals and trophies instead of the cash prizes that are given at the present time.

He believes that the commercial clubs of the cities and towns where the tournaments are held should take a greater interest in the sport. He points out that the holding of the meet in a city is a source of immediate gain to the merchants, hotel men and others, and believes that it should come under the head of benefits to a city.

The present ski is the outgrowth of several patterns of ski used by the ancient Norwegians, says Mr. Tefelson. In Norway they use a ski used in various parts of the country. In the hilly country they use the short ski and in the flat country the longer and broader ski. The ski used in the tournaments is a combination of all these ideas. America, he says, is becoming more and more interested in the sport, and with the growth of interest this country will soon compare with Northern Europe in the general popularity of its riders.

It is the general opinion that Coleman will secure the next national tournament. It will be held at the business meeting this evening, but a canvass of the delegates has shown that the range town is favored. Coleman has given the tourneys such excellent support in the past that the delegates are inclined to favor its request over all others.

DOUGHNUTS GOING UP

Clerk at the St. Louis Pays a Dollar for One.

Tilton Lewis, the day clerk at the St. Louis, this morning gave up one silver dollar for a dried up and flinty-like doughnut. The Klondike price was paid unwillingly by the young man, as the relic of the frying pan came encased in a neat little box, all done up in ribbon and gilt edged paper. Even the house dog, Babe, refused to eat the specimen of amateur cooking, so they are going to use it as a paper weight. This morning a messenger brought the neat little parcel, which was marked collect. The clerk never kicked over the price but brushed over the sin. He retired to the little rear room while he opened the box. He was too wise to give away the joke, but one of the telephone operators got wise to the contents of the parcel, and now it is up to the clerk to do a little bawling.

FLEES FROM THE BETHEL

Bulgarian Girl Makes Her Escape From the Home.

Leaves Her Twin Babies to Avoid Being Deported.

Valeria Froalman, the young Bulgarian woman, who was to have been deported yesterday, escaped from the Bethel home late yesterday afternoon before being taken into custody by the local immigration authorities, and nothing is now known of her whereabouts. She deserted her twin babies, 4 months of age. They are now at the Bethel, together with the baggage and wearing apparel of the mother. Inspector Heath was to have left for St. John, N. B., on the evening train, in company with the girl, her children and the mother. Shortly before train-leaving time Miss Froalman made her escape from the Bethel, by either climbing through a window or getting through the back door unobserved. She had said all along that she would not return to Bulgaria, and when the order for deportation arrived her movements were closely watched, to see that she did not get away. Despite all precautions, she escaped the vigilance of the Bethel employees, and with the assistance of friends, got away without being detected. It is believed that she is in hiding in the home of some of her countrymen. Whether any attempt will be made by friends to get possession of the babies remains to be seen. For the time being they will be cared for at the Bethel.

The girl arrived at Halifax, N. B., Feb. 10, 1907, in company with A. Decary, a man, who, it is claimed, accomplished her ruin, and who is said to be the father of her children. She was deserted in Duluth by her faithless lover shortly before giving birth to the twins. Nothing is now known of his whereabouts. She was taken to the Bethel in December, and remained there until yesterday. She is only 19 years of age, and is quite attractive in appearance.

The crowd of ski enthusiasts, and an unusually large number of transient guests have filled all of the hotels to the crowded point. The visiting ski riders and those who have come to Duluth to watch the tournament, are scattered at the four hotels, and they have engaged about all the available room.

Ski is stacked around the lobbies of the various hotels, and the ruddy faces and staid forms of the riders are in evidence at every turn. There is also a large number of out of town visitors in the city.

SEND ONE RINK TO WINNIPEG
D. W. Stocking to Skip the Representatives of Duluth Club.

Duluth sent but one rink to the big Western Canada bonspiel at Winnipeg this week, D. W. Stocking skipping it. The other men are John Tressie, G. H. Feetham and Walter Hall.

The Duluth men are not looking for any great successes, but they hope to get into the running in some of the events. Stocking's rink made an excellent showing in the Northwestern bonspiel here and is a fair representative of the Duluth club.

The Western Canada bonspiel will bring the greatest curling in that section of the Dominion together. It is a gala affair for Winnipeg each year, and brings to the Manitoba metropolis the thousands of visitors from the country districts.

The bonspiel will open tomorrow morning, but some of the preliminary events are being played off today. The Duluth rink will play all of the events and should cut some figure. St. Paul is also well represented at Winnipeg.

He had been taken home in an intoxicated condition by some friends and put to bed. He was alone in the house, his wife being at the store, when smoke was seen issuing from the window. The fire had gained such headway that the house was destroyed.

HOUGHTON CONFIDENT

Copper Country Hockey Players to Meet the Northern Seven.

Amateur Hockey is Booming in the Copper Country.

The Houghton hockey team of the Copper Country Amateur league arrived in Duluth this morning over the South Shore road, to meet the Northern Seven team at the ball park rink in a game for the championship of the Northwest. Manager Herman Kehl, Trainer Corbelle and eight players make up the Houghton team, and all are over-flowing with confidence in their ability to win out from the Duluth champions.

The Northerners have made arrangements to care for the team. The warm weather, while softening the ice to some extent, is better than the zero variety for a game in the open air, as far as spectators are concerned, and it is expected the crowd tonight will be large and enthusiastic in its support of the Northerners for the championship honors.

The Houghton team is a husky-looking lot, with a speedy forward line and a heavy defense. The center forward, a heavy, with hard, accurate shooting, the center pair, Wortley and Krellitz, are about the swiftest in the Copper country, and they are depended upon to elude the Duluth forwards and not pick a sufficient number of times to pull out a victory.

The soft ice will handicap us some, as we have played on nothing this year but the surface of a surface, said Capt. Tommy Smith this morning. "We are hopeful of success, however, as we have as speedy a forward line as any one would care to see in amateur hockey. We got away badly in the league race and are still in second place, but we look for a boost in the season before the season is out. Stan Cook has a fine team, though, and if we beat them it will be playing great hockey."

Amateur hockey is making a big hit in the Copper country, where professionalism reigned so long, according to the Houghton team. The Northerners are drawing big crowds and getting just as enthusiastic support as the Duluth team. ## A PETITION FOR PEACE

Disinterested Parties Try to Settle Open Shop Fight.

Local Unions Receiving Much Money From Outside Points.

A petition appealing to both sides for a settlement in the open shop fight is being circulated in Duluth, and is being quite liberally signed by business and professional men and others. The paper recommends that a conference committee be selected to see what can be done about bringing the trouble to an end, and establishing peace between organized labor and the contractors.

Labor leaders say they do not know who is responsible for the petition, and the contractors seem to be equally ignorant. It is claimed that it was started and is being circulated by disinterested parties, who have absolutely no connection with either side, and it is believed the ministers of the city have something to do with it. The petition explains that neither capital or labor has anything to do with the circulation of the paper, and that disinterested parties are alone responsible for it. An immediate adjustment of existing difficulties is asked for.

The labor leaders, all along have been protesting their willingness to have a board of arbitration take up the matter, provided such board were made up of disinterested persons, who look only to the welfare of Duluth. Whether the circulation of the petition will be productive of any good results remains to be seen. Quite general interest is being manifested in the matter, for many of the business men seem to be of the opinion that business is being injured as a result of the controversy, and apparently are anxious that a settlement be reached.

Aside from the petition, there is nothing particularly new in the lock-out situation. Outside unions are coming to the support of the locals in going shape, and money contributions are being received daily. This morning's mail was particularly productive, and each of the unions that business is being injured as a result of the controversy, and apparently are anxious that a settlement be reached.

Arrangements are under way to receive contributions for the relief of the strikers, and a meeting for that purpose will be held next Sunday evening at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street.

DURING SLEEP

Nature Repairs the Human Engine.

The activities of the day cause more or less waste of tissues in the human engine, which is repaired at night during sleep.

The man or woman who can sleep well at night, is sure of the necessary repairs, other things being right, to make each day a time of usefulness and living a real joy.

But let insomnia, get hold of you, and the struggle begins, of trying to work with a machine out of repair.

A doctor's experience with the case of a woman who was unable to sleep, is interesting. She says:

"I used to be a coffee drinker and so nervous I could not sleep at night before about 12 o'clock, unless I would take some medicine. I was under the doctor's care for about two years and my weight got down to 82 lbs."

"The doctor said I would have to quit drinking coffee. Telling my father, he said he would wonder for him. I am past 43 and before my health would jump and flutter at times, miss a beat, then beat so fast I could hardly breathe in enough air and I would feel smothered."

"My tongue would get so stiff I could not talk and I could not hold my head down. Since I have been drinking Postum, in place of coffee, I can sleep sound any time I lie down, and I feel I owe everything to Postum Food Co."

Grand Larceny Trial Comes to End for Second Time.

The grand larceny case of the State against William Carlson has been for the second time argued to a jury.

Arguments were made by Assistant County Attorney Stevenson, this morning, and by C. B. Miller for the defense, this afternoon.

Carlson is charged with the theft of two suit cases, containing the clothes of Lee Keiser, a locomotive engineer, who was on his way to get a job at the Kinney mine, last summer.

This morning Mrs. Carlson claimed that the clothes Keiser identified as his own, and which were found in Carlson's possession, were her husband's.

She claimed that he purchased the clothing at a store at Bovey, and that the underclothing had been left by various boarders when they left.

Carlson was produced three witnesses at the second trial, who testified that Carlson was in the vicinity of the place where the theft was committed, this testimony, and sought to establish his residence in Nashvauk at the time.

New Suits

If you want to know the really new trend of Fashion in suits for Spring, come here tomorrow and see these beautiful examples of the tailor's art, which we have just opened up. As is uniformly true of this store, you will find only accepted and safe styles, nothing experimental, uncertain or designed merely for the showy effect it may present in a show window.

Next to the art displayed in the tailoring, novelty in fabric is the most striking feature of this showing. None but imported suitings are used in our suits, no matter at how little they are priced, and there were never such beautiful and soft tans, blues, browns or grays used as is found in these fabrics.

Some are for Misses, of blue and brown serge, one model being on the Prince Chap order plainly tailored, and the other fancifully trimmed with buttons and braid. The women's suits present many new features, which a visit will impress better than a mere word of description.

Paris Vogue In Waists

To obtain a true idea as to the variety and immensity of our waist stocks for Spring, you must come here and see them with your own eyes. But we can tell you here a few of the new features.

The high-class tendency in waists of the lingerie type is to introduce color; that is, touches of color in the embroidery or trimming of the white waists, as well as the use of printed and woven cotton, linen and washable materials, showing lines of color on white, and of these we show at least a dozen styles, beginning as low as $2.75 and running thence to as high as $22.50.

Waists in sheer handkerchief linen profusely trimmed with the new file, Cluny and German Val, laces are especially beautiful this season. These are mostly in three-quarter sleeves and can be had at almost any price.

The tailor-made silk waist is also well represented, both in black and colors at $5.00, $6.75 and $7.50.

Tailor-Made Skirts

Are now to be had in a wide variety in our Skirt Section. Our line for Spring upholds our Sterling reputation, and stands pre-eminent for style and quality.

The "Gored Flare" and "Tunic" effects are distinctly different from anything shown heretofore, as well as the "Pleated" and "Kilt" styles.

Materials? Everything from Panamas to Voiles, fancies, and white.

100 new Panama skirts, cluster pleats, two folds around the bottom, blue, brown and black, $8.00 values, at $6.00.

BODY NOT YET IDENTIFIED

Unknown Man Killed by Train in Northern Pacific Yards.

Without an article of any kind being in the clothes, which might give a clue to his name or family, all efforts to identify the body of an unknown man, who was killed by a Northern Pacific train, in the yards at Twelfth avenue west, about 10 o'clock last night, have failed.

The badly mangled body of the unknown man lies in Durkan & Crawford's morgue, where it will remain for a few days in the hope that a chance visitor may recognize the disfigured features. The victim was evidently about 35 years of age, smooth shaven and dressed in the garb of a laborer of the better class. In his pocket was a pocketbook, empty and torn, and a card, which indicated that he had been in the city for a few days.

The remains of the man were discovered by a yardman at the Northern Pacific yards last night, and Coroner McCuen was notified. He investigated and could find nobody who had seen the accident. The body was mangled, and had evidently been dragged for some distance by the train.

Omega Oil

A SPRAIN never was and never will be cured by a liniment. The only thing that cures a sprain or bruise is Nature herself.

But Omega Oil will stop the pain while Nature is doing the curing.

The Oil helps Nature make a quicker cure because it keeps the sufferer from worrying. It makes the patient quiet, and that's the main thing.

POLICE NOT SATISFIED

Story of Insane Jealousy of Charbonneau Not Believed.

Investigate Conditions in Home Previous to the Shooting.

The examination of Henry Bolot Thursday afternoon for the murder of Magistrate Charbonneau Saturday night in Charbonneau's home on Halifax street, is expected to bring out some new points in the case. The police are loath to believe that Charbonneau deliberately planned the murder of Bolot and gave himself away by talking in the room, unless he was violently insane and the stories of Bolot and Mrs. Charbonneau do not tend to establish that fact.

Investigations are going on quietly and the police are saying nothing. They are looking into affairs in the Charbonneau home for months past in an effort to discover some cause of serious friction between Bolot and the murdered man. The story of Bolot tends to show that Charbonneau was exceedingly jealous of his wife, while the woman denies all knowledge of jealousy on the part of her husband.

If Charbonneau's brooding deranged his mind, so that he suddenly became violently insane Saturday night, there is a possibility that the story of Bolot and Mrs. Charbonneau is the unvarnished truth, but until some points on which they differ are cleared up the police are skeptical.

RETURN PARTY

Given by West Duluth Young Men is Great Success.

The dancing party, at which the young men of the N. M. A. club were hosts last evening, is enthusiastically proclaimed as the most successful and attractive affair of this season in West Duluth, with, of course, the exception of the leap year dance given by the young ladies of the O. M. M. club. It was in the young ladies' honor the N. M. A. dance was given last night, in return for the good time the young men had at the O. M. M. dance.

The party was danced at Wade's hall, which was prettily decorated. Punch was served at one end of the hall, Elliott's orchestra played for the dancing.

The N. M. A. was organized shortly after the very successful dance given by the O. M. M. club. It was formed solely for the purpose of repaying the young ladies.

Many conjectures have been made as to the meaning of N. M. A., but no one was sure of what the letters really stood for until last night, when it was officially announced that it was "Never Marry Anyone." Some one has suggested that O. M. M. stands for "Old Minnesota Mads," but that is merely a guess.

Curling Scores.

The curling games for the West Duluth Commercial club trophy are nearly over, and the lists have been narrowed down so that there will be only three more matches to be played after the close of tonight, which will finish the eighth. The trophy will probably be awarded Saturday night.

Following the installation there was a musical program. Mrs. Fetzner, Miss Florence Sailer and Miss Erickson singing solos. Mrs. Scott, Mrs. DeMar, Mrs. LaCasse and Mrs. Erickson were presented with gifts.

Mrs. LaCasse returned to her home in Minneapolis after the installation.

Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Benedict Van Saturday evening. The evening was spent in games, music, dancing and cards.

The Last Great Fire

Did not cause so much suffering to the homeless as many a case of eczema causes its miserable victim. Hospital treatment did not help me. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and given thousands of times, in relieving the agonizing itching and burning of eczema-tortured people.

In a Bed of Fire—"I lived in a bed of fire for years, owing to blood poison, all over my body, itching intensely. Hospital treatment did not help me. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and continued taking it until I was entirely cured." Mrs. J. T. WILLIAMS, Carbonate, Pa.

Tied the Hands—"We had to tie the hands of our two-year-old son on account of eczema on his face and limbs. No medicine helped until we used Hood's Sarsaparilla which soon completely cured." Mrs. A. VAN WYCK, 123 Montgomery St., Paterson, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsatabls, 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

MISTAKE BY A DRUGGIST

Makes Patient Ill and Causes Doctor to Lose Mind.

Sagana Lake, N. Y., Feb. 11.—When Dr. Walter M. Warren, a long specialist, well known here and at Lake Placid, where he made his home, disappeared last summer, it was announced that his health had failed and that he had gone away to recuperate. It has since been learned that Dr. Warren is a patient in the St. Lawrence state hospital for the insane at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and that he was taken there by mistake. When the medicine arrived the invalid took a teaspoonful of it, according to directions. It made him dizzy, ill, and he took no more. Upon Dr. Warren's next visit he spoke of the matter and complained of the action the remedy had taken on him.

Took a Tablespoonful.—"Nonsense," said the physician. "It could not have been that. It must have been something else. See, I can take a tablespoonful myself and you took only a teaspoonful. It is a very simple remedy."

Pouring out a tablespoonful, the doctor is said to have swallowed the stuff. Almost immediately he became ill, and the truth dawned upon him that there had been some mistake in the dosage. Other physicians were hurriedly summoned, and he recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home.

It was discovered that the doctor had taken a spoonful of the medicine that had caused the trouble contained a powerful poison. Remedies were given, but the doctor's condition was as well as ever. Instead his physical condition gradually grew worse, and his friends were further shocked to find mental troubles developing. As the days passed this brain affection became more pronounced, and at last it was deemed necessary to have the doctor removed to the state hospital at Ogdensburg.

Dr. Warren was graduated from the medical school of the University of Michigan in 1895.

NO INCREASE

In Postoffice Employees' Salaries Will be Recommended.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The house committee on postoffices and postal roads yesterday agreed virtually to recommend adversely all bills and department estimates increasing the salaries of the employees for the next fiscal year. The committee has no reference to classification increases regularly provided for. The committee feels that the estimated postal deficit of $10,000,000 for the next fiscal year will be largely increased by falling revenues, and in view of this fact and the subsequent increases granted last year has practically decided that an increase of salaries cannot be recommended at this time. The committee will report adversely the bill providing for a reduction to 1 cent of the first class postage rate. Such a reduction would, it is estimated, cut down the postal revenues by as much as 30 per cent and enlarge the prospective deficit to $50,000,000.

METHODISTS CHAMPION CAUSE OF DR. JACOB FORCE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 11.—Methodist ministers of Minneapolis have espoused the cause of Dr. Jacob Force, the insurance official, who is serving a term of three years and four months in the state penitentiary at Stillwater. At the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist ministers at the Hennepin Avenue church it was decided to circulate a petition asking for Dr. Force's pardon. The sentiment among the ministers is that the ends of justice have been served.

CROMWELL WINS OUT

Was Successful in the Second Ward Aldermanic Lottery.

His Opponent Has Right to Appeal to Courts.

James L. Cromwell will be the next alderman for the Second ward unless a recount of the votes is demanded through the courts by George Bloedel, who received the same number of votes as Mr. Cromwell.

Mr. Cromwell was the winner of the lot drawn last evening at the council meeting. According to the provisions of the charter, ten slips of paper were secured, the name of each candidate being written on one of them. The ten slips were then placed in a box and shaken up. Thomas F. Trevillion, alderman elect from the Fourth ward, was selected to draw out the slip bearing the name of James L. Cromwell, who was declared elected by the council.

Mr. Bloedel has the right to resort to the courts and demand a recount if he so desires, and it was the understanding before the draw that he would do so.

Many Sleepless Nights. Owing to a Persistent Cough, Relief Found at Last.

"For several years past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial result. In November last the cough again put in an appearance, and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared, and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

TAFT SPEAKS AT KANSAS CITY

Secretary of War Given Remarkable Ovation at Convention Hall.

Kansas City, Feb. 11.—William H. Taft, secretary of war, was given a memorable ovation by 15,000 people in Convention hall last night, where he was the guest of honor at the most elaborate banquet ever attempted in this city, given by the Association of Young Republicans of Missouri, and attended by 1,500 persons, many of whom came from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and distant Missouri cities.

The demonstration accorded the secretary when he entered the great banquet hall, and again when he arose to speak, has never been surpassed by the welcome given any man in the history of this city. Each of the 1,500 banquets paid $25 for the privilege of attending, but the balconies of the hall were free to the public.

Long before the speaking began a standing room in the hall was at a premium. Secretary Taft's speech was a general one, touching on the Republican party and especially of the policies brought to the fore by the administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

Speaking of the recent panic and the president's late message, the secretary said: "The message contains an answer to the charges made against the administration. It is responsible for the industrial depression and the sharpness and emphasis with which this unfounded attack is met, have been the result of the president's late message, the secretary said he, and on the faith of it has been elected to power, many issues have unexpectedly arise in the course of an administration not controlled by the party's desired principles. The disposition in such issues must depend on the ability and courage of the party leader. A party may divide on a new issue until by a process of education the sounder view prevails, and that party becomes united again in the enforcement of the new principle. As a party shows itself homogeneous, able to grasp the truth with respect to new issues, able to discard unimportant differences of opinion sensitive with respect to the successful maintenance of

GIRLS WHO WORK

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., advises all sick women to write her for advice.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Vessel Inspectors Stewart and Van Liew Monday afternoon gave out their decision that neither crew was blame for the collision of the steamer Hubert and Lake Shore in the St. Clair river, Jan. 31, 1937. William E. Walker, the defaulting bank president of New Britain, Conn., will go back to the United States to be tried, according to a statement made at the foreign office in Mexico City, Monday. That Walker could gain his freedom at any time is declared by the foreign office to be false.

Monday evening, a 35-year-old, X. Y. shot and killed the woman to whom he was said to have been married, Theresa Kasa, 27 years old, and also killed his own life.

His wife's husband was absent from home and their two children were at school. Mrs. Charles McGonigle was murdered by an unknown person, and her body was buried in a fire started by the murderer and which consumed her home, five miles southwest of Richmond, Mo., Monday.

Prize March, 25 years old, for whom European authorities have searched for eight years to bring him back before a tribunal to answer charges of arson, was arrested at Rochester, Pa., Monday night by a detective. He is accused of setting fire to several buildings in Germany in which several persons lost their lives.

After two attempts to break two Oregon Short Line express trains Sunday night, train wreckers succeeded in derailing a freight. Two suspects are in custody. All three attempts were made at lonely spots near Silver Bow Junction, Mont. This would be welcome news, however, as the line has been on the track for several days and was easily swept aside.

The 1,700 employees of the Corbin Manufacturing company, Providence, R. I., who have been working on short time since Thanksgiving, were notified that beginning Monday the full schedule would be operation.

Joseph March, a bookmaker, operating at the New Orleans race tracks, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife at their boarding house Monday afternoon. He then killed himself. Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the act. March and his wife are said to have come to New Orleans from New York.

A TEST OF STRENGTH

For Taft Will Come Within the Next Two Weeks.

Senator Crane is Conducting the Anti-Administration Fight.

New York, Feb. 11.—A Washington special is as follows: Secretary Taft and the administration forces are facing the crucial test of their strength. During the next fortnight the president and his friends will be called upon to exert every influence at their command to prevent the anti-administration forces from obtaining a footing which would be sure to prove a serious menace to Secretary Taft's candidacy.

That the president will fight, and fight hard, is realized by his enemies. They have turned the management of the anti-Taft administration campaign over to Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts. Senator Crane, who directed the anti-Taft fight in Florida, is preparing to follow that contest with another in Texas.

While he realizes that the sentiment in favor of Secretary Taft is dominant in these states, as it proved in Florida, he purposes to have a handful of men in every state convention, who will be ready to bolt and elect contesting delegates to the national convention. Should Secretary Taft control the delegates from all of the states west of the Mississippi river and the solid South, he would be nominated on the first ballot.

The reactionaries and the money power in Wall street, however, have realized this from the start, and have been planning to elect contesting delegates from a dozen or fifteen states. They control the national committee, as shown at its last meeting, when the administration forces were routed in selecting a convention city, and it is their plan to have the anti-Taft delegates put upon the temporary roll of this convention.

May Unseat Them All. Under the rules for Republican national conventions, the temporary delegates vote on contests from every state except the one in which they are directly interested, and under this rule Senator Crane believes he will be able to unseat every Taft delegate from the South.

It became known today that the Florida row was planned and carried out by Representative Butler Ames of Massachusetts. He is one of the wealthiest men in congress, and owns a large estate in Florida. He went to his winter place last week and fixed up the scheme by which a minority of the delegates bolted and elected anti-Taft delegates. It was Representative Ames who sent the telegrams which were received by representatives of Cannon, Fairbanks, Knox and Hughes on Thursday.

This plan is to be followed in North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and other southern states. In most of these states the president has the rank and file of the party back of him, and the organization leaders are, of course, Federal officeholders. At the same time the Republican vote is made up largely of disgraced and anti-administration Republicans believe they will have no trouble in starting rival machines by getting hold of men who have been disappointed in obtaining appointments and controlling them with promises of patronage.

Footnote in Texas. The next convention is to be held in Texas. There was no doubt that Secretary Taft would get the thirty-six delegates without a contest, and that they would be instructed for him. Information received by Secretary Taft's managers today, however, indicated that Senator Crane had agents at work here, and had already planned to have a percentage of the delegates bolt and elect a contesting delegation.

The president has awakened to the situation and his friends are awaiting his next move. They realize that the administration is at a serious disadvantage, since the reactionaries are bound to raise the cry of federal patronage.

The reactionaries have a majority of delegates in all of the Southern conventions, but insist that these are officeholders who fear to oppose the wishes of the administration. They declare further that Republicans who do not hold office favor their plan of electing uninstructed delegates, and that their wishes should be regarded as the will of the organization because they are not under the influence of the president.

Both the administration leaders and the reactionaries believe that the whole range of the Chicago convention hinges on this fight for control of the South. If the president wins, Taft is sure of the nomination. Should Senator Crane's plans materialize he will be able to elect delegates from the states having favorite sons to prevent Secretary Taft's nomination on the first ballot, and might be able to defeat him in the end. Senator Crane is ambitious. He desires to become the Mark Hanna of the next administration, and is playing for a stake which he believes to be worth the work and energy he is putting into it.

THE DOTAGE OF AUSTRIA'S RULER

Is to be Enlivened by a Pretty Morganatic Wife.

Vienna, Feb. 11.—When Kathie Schratz returns from the Riviera in the spring, Emperor Francis Joseph may recognize her as his morganatic wife, so says rumor, and adds that to facilitate the elevation of the former court actress, a title will be conferred upon her, and she will live in state at her new palace of Koenigsvarter.

Mme. Schratz paid nearly 1,000,000 francs for the beautiful mansion, paid out of her own pocket, to save appearances, but the deal was carried through by the imperial minister of finance, and it is an open secret that

PALMER IS EASY MARK

Tommy Burns Puts Englishman Away in Four Rounds.

Newcastle Man Was Beaten Before He Entered the Ring.

London, Feb. 11.—Tommy Burns, the American heavyweight pugilist, last night knocked out Joe Palmer of Newcastle, the English champion, in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a twenty-round contest for the heavyweight championship. Some 2,000 persons saw the fight, which took place at Wonderland, a big music hall on the East side, but it was a one-sided affair from the going until the middle of the fourth round, when Palmer, on his knees, was finally counted out.

The referee, might have given a decision in the first minute as Palmer was a beaten man from the moment he entered the ring. Burns climbed under the ropes smiling and showing his customary confidence, while Palmer displayed great nervousness. Without any preliminary sparring Burns went after him and the first round had hardly begun before the Englishman was on his knees. He took the count twice during the rest of the round was badly engaged in covering himself. This was repeated in each round, Palmer being hopelessly outclassed and apparently without ability either to deliver or to receive a blow.

In the final round, he was sent to the floor several times, and at last was literally able to drag himself to his knees, where he remained with his elbows on the floor until the count of ten had been called off.

Joe Palmer, who had been backed by a syndicate headed by Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, to fight Burns in Dublin on St. Patrick's day, was a special attraction at the ringside last night. His only comment was:

"Palmer fights like an old woman, while Burns is a master of the art, he was in splendid condition. The fight was for a side and 75 percent of the gate receipts. The odds were 6 to 4 on Burns, but there was very little betting. There were no takers for bets offered by Palmer that he would stay six rounds."

SPORTS OF THE DAY

GLEASON GETS MATCH

Packey McFarland and Welch to Meet on the Coast.

Twenty-Round Bout in San Francisco Ball Park.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—San Francisco gets Packey McFarland, Jack Gleason, who has the ball park in Frisco and options on a couple of halls, has made Packey and Fred Welch so flattering an offer that both are in raptures, and both will start for the coast within the next few days. Welch has signed at Milwaukee, but as he is signed to box McFarland, and Packey had not yet given his signature, it is hard to figure how Fred can do anything but follow Packey West.

Gleason wants the bout between the stock yards youth and Welch for Feb. 28, distance twenty rounds, weight 133 at 3 o'clock. While Packey would be glad to box at Milwaukee, there are several inducements drawing him to the coast besides the Welch match. He will be on the coast that he will ultimately meet Nelson and, at some future date, Joe Gans, and it is all to his advantage to get out there and become popular with the people. The money in San Francisco will be quite big, and besides, there is the Britt-Nelson bout to look at. Packey may change his mind about going down to Los Angeles Feb. 25, however, when his own mill is due Feb. 28, and he finds out how vast the distances are in California.

It is rather a puzzle as to what Milwaukee will do. The club has Welch under cover, but what good antagonist can be secured for him in place of Packey? Welch might fight some one in Milwaukee Feb. 28, but he would get to the coast in fair time for a battle with McFarland, but it is far more likely that he will be allowed to hike eastward right away, and that some tempting mill between the Briton and the south-sider.

Beyond all doubt, McFarland and his mentor, young Harry Gilmore, also figured the distance in the length of the bout. In twenty rounds Packey should be able to get the bit, and the little mare had no trouble showing her heels to him and getting home with the honors.

Piet King was entered, but he failed to appear. He was the speediest of the night and was drawn immediately. Capt. C. showed only average form and second place in the last heat was his best performance.

O. F. Fails to Show His Speed and is Beaten.

Maggie Medium, with Randall holding the reins, showed the field the way home in the Henderson cup race on the ice track at the foot of Twentieth avenue west yesterday afternoon, taking both heats. O. He trotted and fought the bit, and the little mare had no trouble showing her heels to him and getting home with the honors.

BEST GAME OF SEASON

Y. M. C. A. Basketball Five-Will Meet Blaine Friday Night.

Good List of Entries for Second Indoor Athletic Meet.

One of the biggest basketball games of the year will be played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night of this week when the Blaine high school team of Superior will play the Y. M. C. A. five for the second time this season. The contest is expected to bring out a record breaking attendance and the best exhibition of basketball for the year.

The Blaine team is the strongest in Northern Wisconsin, and by its defeat of the Y. M. C. A. five in the last game made a strong bid for the Northwestern title. The contest on the last occasion was a fierce one, both teams playing a brilliant game. On their own floor and with the familiar conditions, the Y. M. C. A. boys hope to turn the tables, and, if they do, they will be on an equal basis with Blaine for the Head of the Lakes honor.

The second of three indoor athletic meets for the season will be held at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Thursday night of this week. In the first meet, Ed Mapp and Archie Brown were tied on points for first honors. The gold and silver medals will go to the men holding the highest number of points at the end of three meets and the competition is keen among the athletes.

The entries for the meet this week are not as numerous as for the former meet, many of those who competed on that occasion having dropped out. The men entered are regular attendants at classes and are in good physical shape. They have been practicing hard for the coming meet, and the exhibitions will be good. The program has been varied, so as to make the three meets a test of general athletic ability, and the winners of the most points must be good athletes in all departments.

Tonight Horak's 5:15 class team will meet the noon class team of the Y. M. C. A. basketball league. The Horak team stands at the head of the list and is making a strong bid for the honors in the league race. They have been coming up fast in the last two weeks and will figure in the final spurt. The class and noon class will play between the halves Friday night, and that game will have a great deal to do with the outcome of the league race. The noon class standing next to the night class in all departments, and fighting strongly for second place.

AHLROTH IS HOME AGAIN

Duluth Skater is Satisfied With Successes in the East.

Won Indoor Skating Championship of Canada at Montreal.

Carl Ahlroth, decorator at the Oak Hall clothing company, and one of the two representatives of the Western Skating association in the international races at Saranac Lake, Montreal, Pittsburg and Cleveland, returned home yesterday, after a successful tour of the East. The other Western representative was Charles Anderson of Chicago.

Ahlroth's most notable performance on the trip was his winning of the indoor championship at the Montreal meet, where he won first in the one-half mile and two-mile events. At Saranac Lake, he took two firsts and one third prize. After leaving Montreal and crossing the border again, Ahlroth fell down and failed to land another first.

In winning the first heat of the one-mile event at Pittsburg, the Duluth skater broke the world's mile record, formerly held by Morris Wood. On the same night, however, Edward Lamby, the Saranac Lake skater, went in and broke Ahlroth's record, so the Duluth boy failed to hold his mark.

Ahlroth landed third in the five-mile event at Pittsburg, all three Western skaters being placed in it. Anderson, who finished first, broke the world's record for the distance. At Cleveland, the Duluth boy succeeded in getting but two third prizes.

The Eastern races certainly brought a fine body of skaters together, and I am well satisfied with my own victories, everything considered," said Ahlroth this morning. "I never raced in such a brilliant field before, and that counted against me, so I think I held my own. Lamby took Saranac Lake, N. Y., who won most of the events at Pittsburg, is undoubtedly the best amateur skater in the world today, and I have good form on the ice, almost as good as the professionals."

OARSMEN ARE AT WORK

Training for Next Year's Crews Has Already Begun.

New Recruits Are Being Eagerly Sought by Committee.

The oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club are already beginning to get down to work, and during the next two weeks it is hoped that a squad of from fifty to seventy-five men can be secured to go into active training for the crews this spring.

The rowing committee of the club is composed of Joseph Horak, Edward Mapp and J. E. Rockwell. This committee was appointed for the purpose of securing new recruits to the rowing squad, and they are already looking up available material.

Every facility is being offered this year by the club to any young man in Duluth who cares to enter the rowing game. The club has made arrangements with the Y. M. C. A. by the payment of a certain sum, whereby all candidates for the crew can have the privileges of the gymnasium for the next two months free of charge. Those who are not already members of the association and who wish to use the gymnasium for the two months, can do so without any extra expense.

Some time during the present month a four-oared rowing machine will be installed in the gymnasium, and the candidates will then be put through their paces on the machine every evening, under the watchful eyes of some of the older oarsmen.

There is no reason why the rowing game should not boom in Duluth this year. The club has a big squad of experienced oarsmen carried over from last year, who are still available for the junior crews. Many of the older men also promise to get back into the game, but if a full representation is sent to Winnipeg, from thirty to forty men will be needed, so that there is every chance for a new man to make one of the crews at least.

The rowing committee is compiling a list of the available men and during the next week or ten days they hope to secure at least sixty names of promising candidates, who will go into the sport enthusiastically, and work for positions on the crews.

If this can be done, there is every likelihood that the Duluth club will win some winning crews to Winnipeg this year.

DARING AUTOMOBILISTS START FROM NEW YORK CITY IN RACE WHICH WILL BE ENDED IN PARIS

Cars of Four Nations Are Represented in Novel Contest.

Some of the Machines Look Like Old Prairie Schooners.

Thousands of People Witness the Start From Times Square.

New York, Feb. 12.—The six automobiles starting in the New York to Paris race, started from the Times square, thirty-second street and Broadway, at 11:15 a. m. today, cheered by a throng of several thousand people. Accompanied by more than 200 meters of all descriptions, the racing machines made their way up Broadway and Riverside drive to the city limits, where they turned north on the road to Albany. From that city the route to San Francisco, which is the objective point of the first stage of the trip, lies across New York state to Buffalo, thence through Cleveland and Toledo to Chicago, to Omaha, Cheyenne, Ogden, Reno, Goldfield, San Luis Obispo and San Francisco. Mayor McClellan was to have given the word to start, but was delayed, and Colgate Hoyt of the Automobile Club of America, took his place.

All traffic in the neighborhood of the Times square was stopped a half hour before the start. Automobiles clogged the intersecting streets and lined the

BRYAN TO MAKE FIVE SPEECHES

On Different Subjects While He is in City of Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 12.—William J. Bryan arrived here today from his Canadian tour. At Niagara Falls he delivered an address under the auspices of the Democratic committee. Beginning this afternoon Mr. Bryan will deliver five addresses here on as many different subjects, a general address to women; a religious address to the clergy; a political address to the general public; a patriotic address to a private club and a fraternal address to a fraternal organization, of which he is a member. He will also accept a visit from the Democratic leaders at his hotel and later will attend a reception by the Democratic county committee.

NOT FAIRLY DISTRIBUTED

Truth About the Money of Country, Says Senator Rayner.

Addresses the Senate in Opposition to the Aldrich Bill.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Senator Rayner today addressed the senate on the Aldrich currency bill. Mr. Rayner said he realized that the bill will pass, and declared that its opponents have the consolation of knowing that "it is simply and solely an emergency measure." After outlining what he considered to be faults with the currency system of this government he said:

"The truth about the situation is that the money in this country is not equitably and fairly distributed and that it is concentrated at points that dominate the banking interests of the land and that the people who need the money are unable to procure it when the necessity arises for its use and are sacrificed to a greedy and avaricious class of financiers who are concentrated around the financial centers of the country. We will never have any permanent relief until we strike at the root of the evil and reform our entire banking system from its foundations for the interest of the American people against the special interests."

While opposing the Aldrich bill, Mr. Rayner went on record also against a credit currency, an asset currency and a central bank of issue. He said that the reserve scheme as now operated works dishonestly and disastressously upon the rights of the American people and that the deposits of money in country banks with the jagath shakedown and later will attend a reserve cities contribute to make the worst system in the civilized world.

INCREASED SALARIES

For Secretaries in Government Departments Are Recommended.

Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill Reported.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was reported to the house yesterday by Representative Bingham of Pennsylvania. It will be taken up immediately after the disposal of the Indian appropriation bill.

It carries a total appropriation of $23,337,023, a reduction of $1,873,642 from the aggregate of the estimates submitted by the legislative, executive and judicial departments. Provision is made for the payment of 14,818 salaries, or 341 less than the number estimated for the department, and twenty-five more than were provided for in the present fiscal year. The figures, 14,818 do not include enumeration of the specific salaries incident to the operation of the government.

PEDESTRIANS AND VEHICLES

To Have Free Passage Over New St. Louis River Bridge.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator La Follette called up and secured the passage through the senate today of the bill to authorize the Interstate Transfer Railway company to construct a bridge across the St. Louis river, connecting the cities of Superior and Duluth. This bill passed the senate.

In the senate, however, Senator La Follette attached an amendment which provided that the bridge shall be so constructed as to allow for the passage of pedestrians and vehicles and that such pedestrians and vehicles shall be forever entitled to free passage over the bridge.

WOMAN KILLED AT CINCINNATI

Mrs. Madeline Booth of St. Paul Murdered in That City.

St. Paul, Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Madeline Booth, said to have once lived in St. Paul, was found Monday afternoon in the home of Dr. A. Hoppe, Cincinnati, Ohio, in a badly mutilated condition, according to a dispatch which has been received by the Minneapolis police officials.

The nature of the wounds would indicate that the murderer used an ax on his victim. For this reason the act is supposed to have been done by a maniac, but no clue as to the identity or whereabouts of the assassin has yet been discovered by the Cincinnati police.

Letters found in the possession of the dead woman point to the fact that she was a bigamist. One of the letters was from her first husband, said to be J. R. Booth of Saskatchewan, Can., and in it he says that he is aware that the woman had a second husband in St. Paul and that she lived here with him last summer.

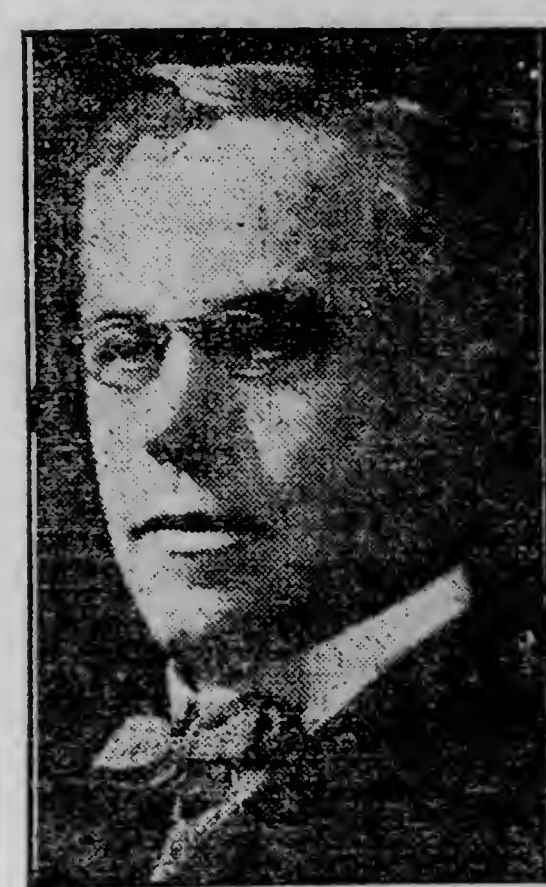

The second husband's name is said to be T. J. Devler. It is asserted that he was arrested about a year ago, but managed to make his escape after a struggle, and then went to Texas. The records of the St. Paul and Minneapolis police departments do not contain any such name.

MISSIONARIES TALK TO PRESBYTERIANS.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—Four missionaries, representing China, Slam, the Mohammedan world and South America, delivered addresses at today's session of the Presbyterian Men's Foreign Missionary conference. They spoke on "The Call of the World." Then followed addresses on the subject, "The Responses Which We Are Making to God's Challenge to the Church as Interpreted by Men Who Have Recently Visited the Field."

The speakers included Daniel Rogers Noyes, St. Paul.

MEXICANS ATTEMPT TO KILL OFF EVERY AMERICAN AT SONORA MINE

Blow Boarding House and Other Buildings With Dynamite, A DOZEN MEN BADLY HURT

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 12.—An attempt to kill every American at the Santa Rosa mine, in Sonora, twenty miles south of Douglas, was made on Saturday last, when Mexican employees placed sticks of dynamite under a boarding house, the company store and the foreman's and superintendent's residences. The fuses attached to the dynamite were timed for the explosions to follow each other in quick succession. The hour selected was during the evening meal, when all the American miners were in the boarding house, and the foreman and superintendent in their respective residences.

The first explosion was at the boarding house. It was demolished. Fifteen men eating were blown through the roof, sustaining broken legs and arms, but there were no fatalities. The store was completely demolished. Thomas Agin, the foreman, and his wife were in their home, but the dynamite failed to ignite. The superintendent's office was demolished, but he was out of the building and escaped. Governor Torney has been notified, and rangers, under commander Kottelitzky are already on the scene. Eighteen Mexicans are under arrest at the mine.

The attempt to destroy the Americans is believed to be the work of sympathizers with the revolutionists, at present under arrest at Los Angeles, who believe the prisoners are being persecuted by Americans. There had been no trouble at the mine previously, and no other cause is conceivable.

SUFFRAGETTES GO TO JAIL. London, Feb. 12.—Nearly fifty women suffragettes, who yesterday made a raid on the house of commons, were arraigned in police court today and sentenced to pay a fine or one month's imprisonment. All but two of the women preferred to go to jail rather than pay the fine.

THINKS SOUL WORTH $5,000. Kansas Man Sues Pastor Who Is Refusing Him "Salvation."

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 12.—Martin Bergman considers a soul's salvation worth $5,000, and has brought suit against Rev. H. C. Senne because the pastor refused to accept him as a member of his church. In the petition, Bergman asserts he is a firm believer in the doctrines and creeds of the church; that it is necessary to his salvation and peace and the quiet of himself and family that he be received in and treated as a member of the church and entitled to take part in the communion. The pastor refused on the ground that he had conducted himself so as to be unworthy of recognition as a member of the church.

ROB BANK OF $23,000

Burglars Make a Big Haul at Rich Hill, Mo.

Citizens Open Fire on Robbers, But No One is Hurt.

Rich Hill, Mo., Feb. 12.—Securing $23,000 in cash after dynamiting and totally wrecking the $9,000 building of the Farmers' & Manufacturers' bank in this city, five bandits, heavily armed, terrorized the citizens here early today and, after exchanging shots with the sheriff's posse, escaped. No one was injured by either the shots or the explosion. A terrific explosion caused by the dynamiting of the vault of the bank awakened the town and the population hurried to the two story brick bank building in the center of the city.

Many persons arrived in time to see the robbers riding away. Some of the citizens opened fire on the fleeing bandits. The robbers returned the fire. Cashier Jamieson said the robbers took all the available cash in the bank building, which was completely wrecked. Many neighboring buildings were partially wrecked by the explosion.

The report from the hill was favorable. The hill is sheltered and it is still in condition for use. The tournament could have been held today were it not for the fact that the thousands of spectators would have to wade through several inches of slush for a distance of a mile or so to reach the grounds. The directors believed it would be better policy to postpone the event for this reason.

The directors considered several courses of action, and tried to choose the one that would be best for all concerned. It is believed that the slide will be in perfect condition by tomorrow if the weather man lives up to his promises.

As soon as it was known that the ski tournament would be postponed until tomorrow, the directors of the Ski club called up the different business houses which had agreed to close for the event, and without exception they agreed to postpone their closing until tomorrow.

The various stores and wholesale houses will, therefore, remain open as usual this afternoon, but tomorrow afternoon will close at 1 o'clock, in order to allow their employees to attend the tournament.

SENTENCE COMMUTED. Monte Carlo, Feb. 12.—The death sentence against Mrs. Violet Goold, who, with her husband, Vere St. Legor Goold, was convicted of the murder of Emma Levin here last summer, has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

INDIAN GIRLS' SCHOOL BURNS Institution at Desmet, Idaho, Totally Destroyed by Fire.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 12.—A dispatch to the Oregonian, from Spokane, Wash., says: While the entire school was school and dormitory attached at Desmet, Idaho, on the Coeur d'Alene reservation, twelve miles from Tekoa, Wash., were totally destroyed by fire.

The fire originated in the third story, in the girls' dormitory, from the falling of a stove pipe, it is thought. Not even the personal effects and books of the Indian girls were saved. The inmates of the white girls' dormitory secured their personal property, furniture and two pianos. The loss is estimated at $5,000, partially covered by insurance.

BODY CUT IN TWO. Farmer Falls Off Train Soon After Boarding It.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Dunes, a farmer living at Nathan, fell from a Wisconsin & Michigan passenger train soon after it left Nathan and was cut in two. He lost his balance while passing from the day coach to the smoker, the train giving a lurch which sent him under the wheels. He leaves a wife and several children.

BIG LUMBER DEAL ABOUT COMPLETED. Seattle, Wash., Feb. 12.—More than 160,000 acres of virgin timber land is involved in a deal now approaching completion in British Columbia, between a syndicate of Eastern capitalists, headed by A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the owners of the property.

The land is situated on the north end of Vancouver island, and on a number of the Queen Charlotte islands.

KILLED BY TRAIN. Ashland, Wis., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hans Lee of Sixon was run down by a Northwestern train as he was returning from Hurley, Monday and injured so badly that he soon died. He leaves a family.

Big Event Will be Held Twenty-Four Hours Late.

Weather Man Promises Ideal Conditions by That Time.

Business Men Will Also Postpone Their Half Holiday.

At a meeting of the directors of the National Ski association, held this morning at 10 o'clock in the ski club's headquarters, it was decided to postpone the tournament until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The directors thoroughly discussed the situation, having reports from both the hill and the weather man to act upon.

The weather man promised weather conditions for tomorrow which would be next to ideal. The rain storm, which is at present centered over the lake region, promises to turn to snow this afternoon. In the vicinity of Moorhead it is already snowing, and the lower temperatures are moving eastward. There should be a fairly heavy fall of snow this afternoon and tonight, followed by colder weather tomorrow.

This is just the kind of weather the ski riders have been waiting for. The report from the hill was favorable. The hill is sheltered and it is still in condition for use. The tournament could have been held today were it not for the fact that the thousands of spectators would have to wade through several inches of slush for a distance of a mile or so to reach the grounds. The directors believed it would be better policy to postpone the event for this reason.

STAR MOLE IN STREAM

Queer Little Animal is Taken From Lester River.

Proves Object of Great Curiosity at Fish Hatchery.

Arthur German did not know what he had captured when he fished a queer little animal from Lester river yesterday afternoon, and a thorough inventory of its peculiarities at the fish hatchery, a short time afterwards, developed the fact that it was a star mole, very seldom seen in this part of the country.

Young German saw the strange little thing swimming in the river, near shore. He hit it with a stick and had no difficulty then in picking it out of the stream. Its contour was strange to him, so he took his catch to the fish hatchery, to see if those present at that establishment could tag it with a name.

There, after deliberation, it was pronounced a sure-enough star mole. This is the first one that has been seen here for a long time. Some years ago, one was discovered at Hunter's Park. It was killed, stuffed and presented to the high school museum.

The blow which the mole found yesterday received in the process of capture, proved too much for it. It died shortly after it was taken to the fish hatchery.

Ordinarily, the star mole is supposed to infest sand piles, but the tastes of this one were distinctly aquatic. It was about three inches long and its skin equal to that of an egg.

The mole was blind, for nature never provided for any eyes in its body. Nature was also derelict in the matter of providing the star mole with a mouth, two holes in its snout being the nearest thing to that possessed. On its sucker-like snout was a star, which distinguishes the star mole from the common water shrew. So, the star mole is smaller than the ordinary animal of that family.

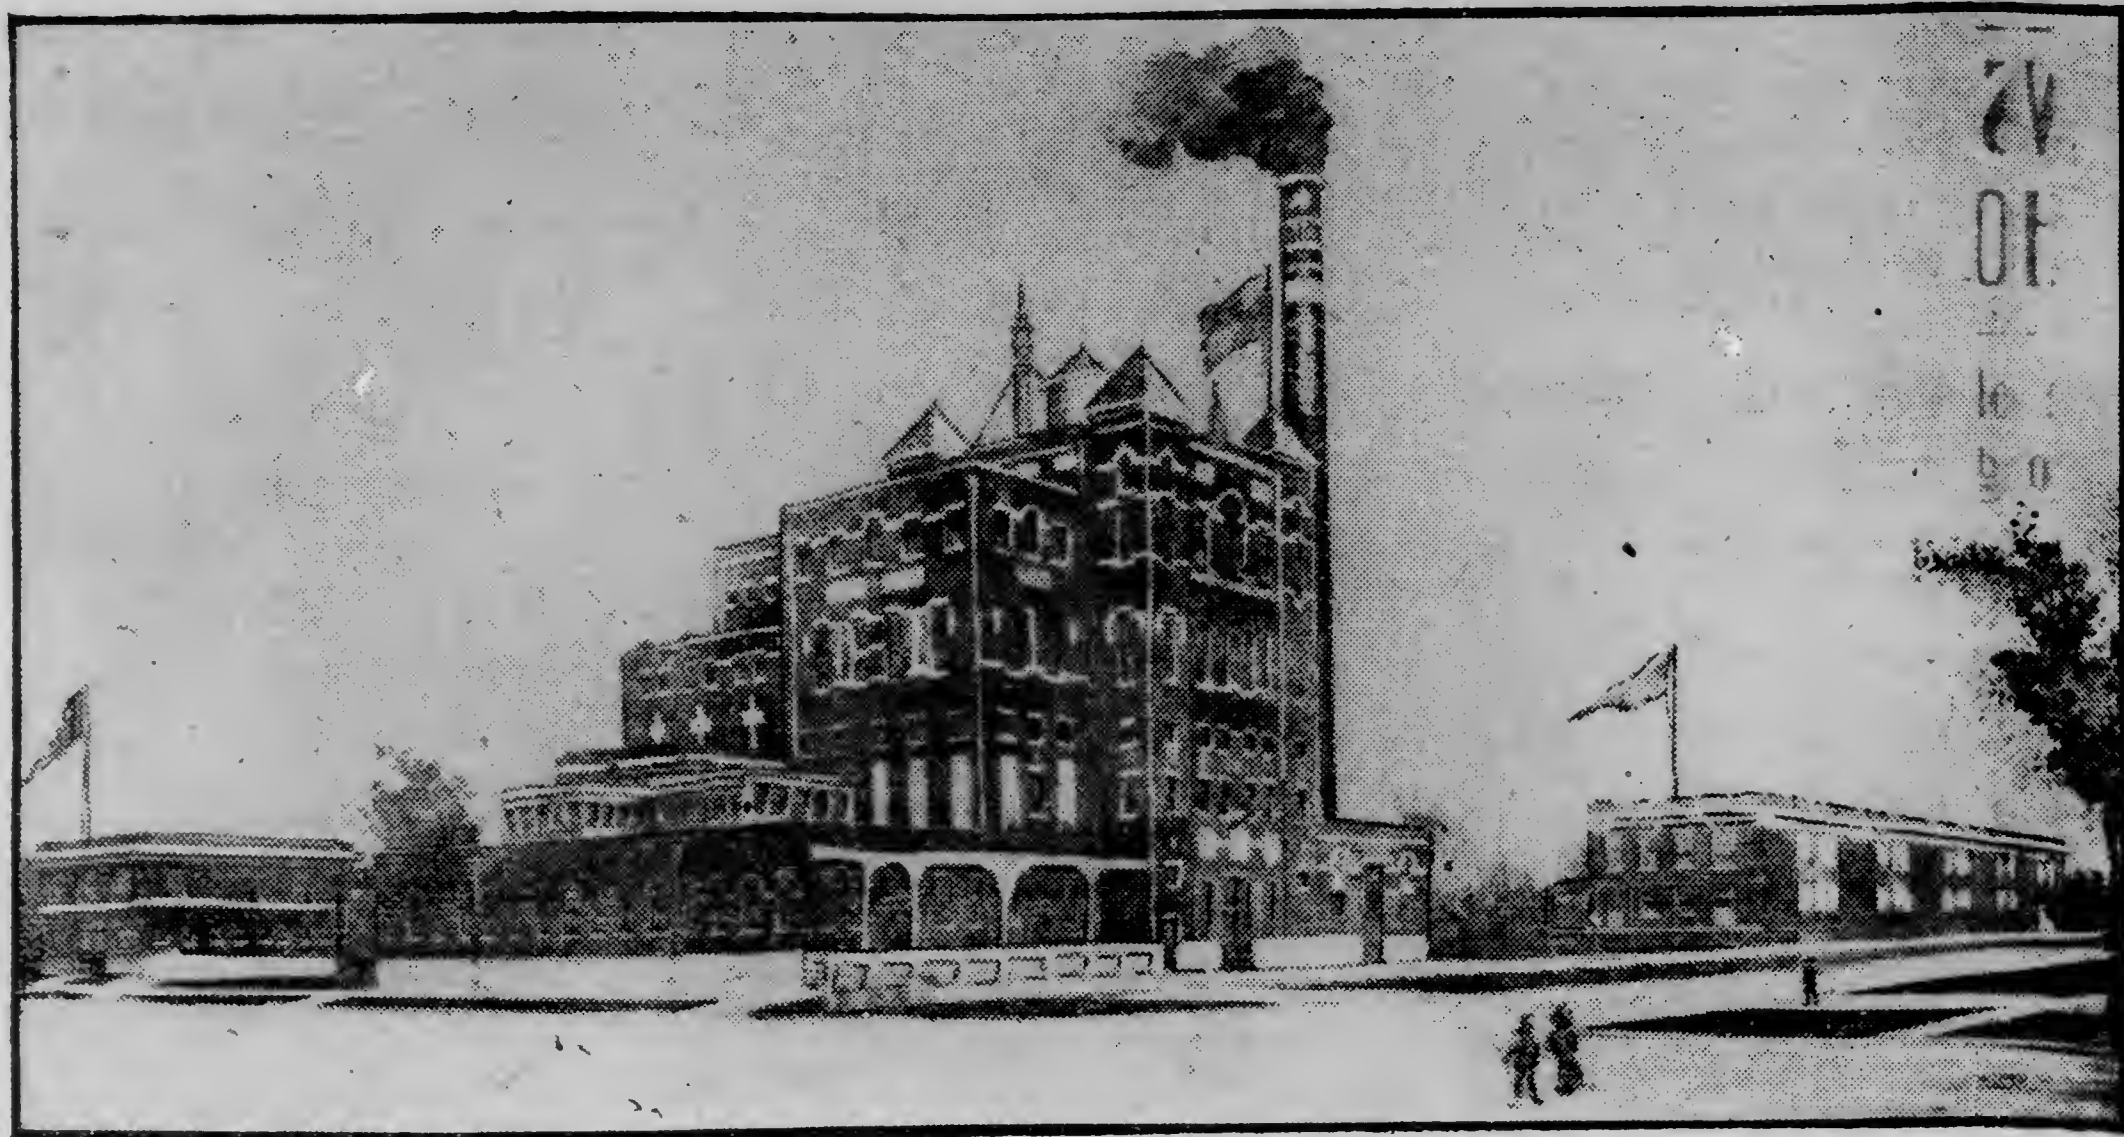

Included in the star mole's pedal equipment are two webbed front feet, not unlike those of a duck, and two hind feet like those of a rat. This specimen also boasted of a tail like a rat.

The mole proved an object of much curiosity at the fish hatchery.

People's Brewing Company's $140,000 Plant, Yearly Capacity 100,000 Bbls.

DULUTH'S brewing and malting business is leaping to the front as one of the foremost interests of the Northwest. In 1906 there were brewed 161,107 barrels of lager beer, the revenue tax paid footed up to the princely sum of $134,664.00. These figures do not include the foreign beers manufactured in St. Louis, Milwaukee, La Crosse and the Twin Cities, each of which have agencies here. It will be seen by these figures that there is plenty of room, and to spare, for the latest candidate for public approval, the People's Brewing company, from a financial and trade point of view. This is universally recognized by the investing public, who have purchased the stock of this splendid brewery, the most modern building and equipment at the Head of the Lakes. The product of the brewery is all contracted for in advance, as a majority of its stockholders are retail dealers, who will push the introduction and sale of the People's lager beer in preference to all others, which assures an extensive trade, and a profit-sharing income on every share of stock sold. The great increase in the price of the real estate holdings of the company has nearly doubled in value since its purchase, making each share of stock worth much more than its original face value, aside from the net earning capacity of the brewery.

The People's Brewing company is incorporated for $300,000, issued in shares of $100.00 each. The shares put upon the market have had a ready sale among those who desired a safe and sure investment.

On July 3, 1906, a contract was let for erecting a brewery, costing $140,000. The buildings are completed, the machinery in place and it is all but ready to start brewing the famous People's lager beer. The buildings cover a whole block at Oneida, between Forty-second and Forty-third avenue west, overlooking Duluth's magnificent harbor, in the very heart of the industrial zone and the best of railroad facilities for receiving and shipping their products.

The buildings of the People's Brewing company are all constructed of brick, with Bedford stone trimmings, steel and concrete making them substantial and very attractive to the eye, as shown by the above photographic view. The dimensions of each department of this model brewery are as follows: Brewing house, 125x160 feet, five stories high, fitted up with the latest equipments known to the art of up-to-date brewing, including kettles with capacity of 175 barrels; malt house, capacity of 500 bushels; power house, 30x62 feet fitted up with two 150 horse-power boilers and two 40 kw. generators for lighting and operating the elevators connecting each floor, and furnishing the motor power for the entire plant; two 40-ton ice machines for cooling the beer are now built and ready to operate.

The additional plants of the bottling house 75x150 feet, two stories and basement, to be operated by rotary bottle fillers, Twentieth Century soakers, with electrical power, capacity 100 barrels, every ten hours and the stables, 40x75 feet, two stories, with living apartments for drivers and hostlers will be built as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

The superior quality and excellency of the People's Brewing Company's product has been given special and careful study by the management, and as a result they have succeeded in securing the services of the celebrated brew-master, Mr. E. A. Koehnig, who has a wide reputation as an expert in the brewing of lager beer. For fifteen years he was brewmaster of the Royal Bavarian Hof Brew House, at Munich, Germany, then came to Chicago, where he took the regular course in brewing, graduating from the Polytechnic Institute of that city. We next find Mr. Koehnig employed as brewmaster in the famous breweries at San Francisco and Vallejo, California, and Persia, Illinois, which is certainly a guarantee that the brew of the People's will not be excelled by any in the country, as his thirty years' experience as an expert brewmaster is not excelled by any in the art of beer making.

The officers and directors of the People's Brewing company are as follows: Frank G. Sandstead, president; Michael Gleason, vice president; Martin Smith, treasurer; J. B. Dunphy, secretary; directors, Patrick Doran, Henry Tomfohr, A. W. Anderson, Thomas Doyle, Jno. D. Dunphy, Frank G. Sandstead, Martin Smith, Michael Gleason and Charles Forest. It will consume a full half day's trip for a casual inspection of the People's Brewing company's plant, and at that the visitor would only get a passing glimpse of its vast proportions. It is rated one of the finest in the Northwest.

lately routed the power line for them, and the same will be improved and harnessed this spring. They have a strong air compressor and power drills, and are actively pushing ahead on the three drifts here mentioned.

"There has never been a time or place in the veins of these claims where one could not get values."

"The Queen & Crescent group, comprising sixteen claims lying seven miles north of Salmon have lately been purchased by the Copper Queen Mining & Smelting company of Duluth, Minn. George H. Crosby of Duluth is the president and general manager, and Emerson Hill the resident manager. While not in the least excitable over the shining prospect, Mr. Hill nevertheless feels that the mine is made and that its addition to the gold output of Idaho and America will be no mean figure."

SHOT HIS MOTHER.
St. Louis, Feb. 12.—David Kolich, aged 27, who had just returned home after an extended service in the United States navy, today shot and probably fatally wounded his aged mother, Kolich surrendered to the police. He says the shooting was accidental, which statement his mother confirmed.

J. S. LANE'S EDITORIAL

"Authentic" word received this week from the Queen & Crescent group, furnishes us with the most cheering view of Lenni county's mining future that has been known for many a day. The three drifts in this group of claims are all in ore of bonanza richness, far surpassing the most roseate hopes of the owners. Recent developments prove beyond doubt that the assurances here are not only persistent in the depth, but in the better, ten to one better, than they ever were in the workings nearer the surface.

"The long crosscut started last year to cut the Queen vein at depth was driven 1,038 feet before the vein was reached. Here it was found at a face depth of more than 300 feet to be twelve feet wide. The management started drifting on the vein both north and south, and has made good headway in both directions, until now the two breasts of ore, north and south, are 115 feet apart. The ore has changed radically in character as well as value, and is glorious to the beholders.

"It is in red oxide of iron, with very little sulphide. A sample just made of the north drift, taken from the breast eleven feet wide, averaged $123 to the ton in gold and silver, while a similar sample of a 10-foot breast in the south drift went $101 to the ton. It is a marvelous statement, and the favorable turn in both reducible character and cash value is the grandest result the stockholders could look for.

"The south drift is now 300 feet in vertical depth, and the north drift is 400 feet below the surface.

"The width of this vein is not now definitely known as they are following only one wall, but it is believed to measure from 14 to 18 feet between walls. The north drift is gaining depth rapidly and will be 700 feet under the surface at no distant day.

"Supplemental to the foregoing colossal showing, another strike was recently made which of itself would cause a stampede in some countries. The miners working on what is now known as the Nellie vein have encountered thirty inches of gold ore which averages $50 to the ton. This is at a depth of 300 feet below the surface. Previous to these strikes $14 rock was considered good in these veins, and the owners have never dreamed that such golden results would be attained.

"The mines are equipped with a good ten stamp mill, ten washers and chutes. These are soon to be moved to the mouth of the long tunnel, where the accessibility of the ore will be more advantageous and economical. There is also a water right out of Wallace creek, with 750 feet of head, and sufficient energy to drive all the machinery. Surveyor A. C. Merritt has

SUPERIOR NEWS FREE BRIDGE PROVIDED

No Tax on Pedestrians
Using Proposed New Structure.

All Objections of Superior People Have Been Removed.

A telegram was received from Washington, yesterday, giving the text of an amendment to the proposed bill for the Interstate Transfer bridge across the St. Louis river at Spirit Lake, in which the things sought by Superior citizens have been granted. All opposition to the bill has been withdrawn, and Senator La Follette has been requested to expedite the passage of the bill. It is expected that it will be passed by both houses of congress, and be signed by the president this week. The amendment gives free passage over the bridge for pedestrians and vehicles, except street cars, and at a largely attended meeting of the Commercial club last evening the bridge matter was discussed in all its phases. President Cooke read the following telegram from S. L. Perrin, who is in Washington in the interests of the bridge:

"We have agreed to amend bill expressly providing for free use of bridge by pedestrians and vehicles. Make this absolutely clear at meeting tonight and wire me soon as action is had. Cannot provide for free street cars."

"Be sure that it is distinctly understood that free street car service cannot be granted. It has not been asked by street railway and is not expected, and cannot be given."

The Commercial club, after the discussion and receipt of the telegrams, passed the following resolution: "Resolved, That it is the unanimous opinion of the Superior Commercial club that the bill authorizing the Interstate Transfer Railway company to bridge the St. Louis river ought to pass immediately with an amendment giving free transit to foot passengers, wagons and other vehicles, and that the plans and specifications on file with the war department should not be changed in such a way as to impair the free facilities of such travel or street railway transportation."

A committee from the club visited the council, and that body passed a similar resolution.

Later in the evening the following telegram was received from Senator La Follette, setting forth in more detail the amendment to the bridge bill: "The bridge bill be satisfactory if the following proviso is added: 'Provided that said bridge shall be constructed with two through tracks, one of which shall provide for the passage of wagons and vehicles, for all kinds of travel, and one shall have two passage ways for the exclusive use of pedestrians, passage way to be not less than three and one-half feet in width and to be separated from the roadway or railway on said deck by suitable guard rails and the use thereof shall be forever free and without toll or compensation therefor to all pedestrians and vehicles, but not free for electric railroad cars and locomotives or street cars.'"

The following telegram in reply was then sent Senator La Follette: "Commercial club of Superior unanimously endorse amendment proposed by you in telegram to Mr. Foley. Is satisfactory and urge its adoption and also extend unanimous vote of thanks for your valuable services. (Signed) E. C. Cooke, president."

Lost Money at Poker.
Charles Shea was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with running a gambling joint at 1715 Eighth street. The complaint was sworn to by Andrew Hawkins, a Billings Park milkman, who claims that his son Albert, aged 24 years, lost $33 while playing at the Shea place last Saturday. It is claimed that the young man sat in a game all Saturday evening and went home broke Sunday morning, when he told his father how he had lost about $33. Shea claims to know nothing about Hawkins' loss. He has been granted a continuance until Tuesday and was released on a bond of $100.

Alleged Forger Arrested.
Walter Rines was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with forgery. His accuser is John Kneeland, a saloonkeeper, who claims that he cashed a worthless check of $25 for Rines some time ago. He cashed the check because Joseph Posich, who was with Rines claimed that the latter was all right. Posich was arrested shortly after the occurrence, but was released. Yesterday Posich saw Rines on the street and, engaging the latter in conversation led him to an officer and gave him over to the authorities. Rines was intoxicated at the time of his arrest.

Ostrom Has Narrow Escape.
Peter Ostrom, a character well known in police circles had a narrow escape from death in front of a street car yesterday, while in a drunken condition. Ostrom stumbled in front of the car at Seventh street and Tower avenue, but the prompt action of the motorman caused the car to come to a stop as it was about to hit the fallen man. Ostrom was locked up on the charge of vagrancy.

Barnsdale Waives Examination.
Dr. John Barnsdale, who was arraigned in the afternoon on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Anna Helen Ninas, a young woman, who died in a Duluth hospital last week, as a result of septic poisoning following an alleged criminal operation, waived examination and asked for a continuance for two weeks. He furnished bail in the amount of $1,000. Peter and Chris Sorenson, milk dealers, furnished the bond. Dr. Barnsdale has retained E. F. McCausland and R. E. Kennedy to defend him. The report that Dr. Barnsdale is a member of the Douglas County Medical society is claimed to be an error.

Disapproves Ward Division.

SENDS REPORT ON DRAINAGE

Secretary Garfield Enlightens Congress on Work of Department.
Washington, Feb. 12.—Secretary of Interior Garfield has, in response to a congressional resolution, sent to the senate a very interesting report on national drainage.

The report contains a condensation of all the information on American morasses and drainage matters possessed by the land classifying bureaus of the interior department. It seems that while Linley's appointments of Clarence Norquist as deputy city clerk and of Joseph Chisholm as sealer of weights and measures were confirmed, contrary to expectation there was no opposition to the measure providing for an increase of salary for various city employees.

SHOULD BE EXAMINED

The Real Estate Owners Should Read Carefully Delinquent Tax List.

List of Descriptions Larger, But Amount Involved is Less.

Although the delinquent tax list of St. Louis county, which was published in The Herald yesterday afternoon, shows a few more descriptions, perhaps, than in former years, there is really a smaller percentage of delinquency as regards dollars and cents. This means that the real estate taxes for 1906 were better paid up than in 1905.

The larger list of descriptions is explained by the fact that there are great many acres of county lands platted in 1906. Where taxes in former years were, perhaps, delinquent on acres, in 1906 they were delinquent on platted lots, the descriptions being of necessity more numerous.

The list published yesterday contained the 1906 realty taxes due Jan. 1, 1907, and delinquent in 1908.

The first penalty, that of 10 per cent on the whole amount of the tax, attached in 1907, and an additional 5 per cent penalty attached the first Monday in January, 1908, making a 15 per cent penalty which will have to be paid in addition to the total amount of the tax.

Under the law, each property owner, whose real estate is delinquent in the published list, must file in the office of the clerk of the district court on or before the twentieth day after the publication an answer in writing setting forth the objection or defense that may be claimed to the tax or any part of it. In default of such defense judgment will be entered against such parcel of land for the full amount appearing on the tax list against it and for all penalties, interests and costs.

Unless the taxes, penalties and interest are paid by the party owning the delinquent real estate, it will be sold at tax sale this spring and will be bid in by the state for the amount of the taxes due.

The tax list shows fewer descriptions of Duluth real estate delinquent than in 1905 and preceding years, while there is a small increase in descriptions of outside lands.

While the delinquent tax list may seem rather dry reading to some people it is of interest to a great many, particularly owners of real estate in the county, who may find that some of their holdings are included in the list. It sometimes happens that the owner of real estate overlooks the matter of paying his real estate taxes, as he gets no notice of the same until the spring of personal property taxes, or forgets to pay them. It happens, too, that some taxpayers get the impression that they have paid their real estate taxes and have no means of learning

COPPER QUEEN HAS GOOD NEWS

Bonanza Strike Made in Lower Workings of New Property.

The last issue of the Lenni Herald, a weekly paper, published at Salmon, Idaho, contained an account of a rich find of ore in the Queen & Crescent group of mines, which have been lately purchased by the Copper Queen Mining & Smelting company, in which so many Duluthians are interested. The article follows:

"Authentic" word received this week from the Queen & Crescent group, furnishes us with the most cheering view of Lenni county's mining future that has been known for many a day. The three drifts in this group of claims are all in ore of bonanza richness, far surpassing the most roseate hopes of the owners. Recent developments prove beyond doubt that the assurances here are not only persistent in the depth, but in the better, ten to one better, than they ever were in the workings nearer the surface.

"The long crosscut started last year to cut the Queen vein at depth was driven 1,038 feet before the vein was reached. Here it was found at a face depth of more than 300 feet to be twelve feet wide. The management started drifting on the vein both north and south, and has made good headway in both directions, until now the two breasts of ore, north and south, are 115 feet apart. The ore has changed radically in character as well as value, and is glorious to the beholders.

"It is in red oxide of iron, with very little sulphide. A sample just made of the north drift, taken from the breast eleven feet wide, averaged $123 to the ton in gold and silver, while a similar sample of a 10-foot breast in the south drift went $101 to the ton. It is a marvelous statement, and the favorable turn in both reducible character and cash value is the grandest result the stockholders could look for.

"The south drift is now 300 feet in vertical depth, and the north drift is 400 feet below the surface.

"The width of this vein is not now definitely known as they are following only one wall, but it is believed to measure from 14 to 18 feet between walls. The north drift is gaining depth rapidly and will be 700 feet under the surface at no distant day.

"Supplemental to the foregoing colossal showing, another strike was recently made which of itself would cause a stampede in some countries. The miners working on what is now known as the Nellie vein have encountered thirty inches of gold ore which averages $50 to the ton. This is at a depth of 300 feet below the surface. Previous to these strikes $14 rock was considered good in these veins, and the owners have never dreamed that such golden results would be attained.

"The mines are equipped with a good ten stamp mill, ten washers and chutes. These are soon to be moved to the mouth of the long tunnel, where the accessibility of the ore will be more advantageous and economical. There is also a water right out of Wallace creek, with 750 feet of head, and sufficient energy to drive all the machinery. Surveyor A. C. Merritt has

Has a well prepared article on
NEW RAILROADS

And says in part:
"While electric railway building at the present time is unprecedented throughout the country and almost every state in the Union has numerous interurban lines under construction or projected for the near future, the chief piece of electric railway construction is the TWIN CITY & LAKE SUPERIOR railway, a 129-mile, third-rail electric line from Minneapolis to Duluth. Surveys have been completed for the entire line, and since Jan. 1, 1907, thirty-eight miles of grading has been done, and work upon the remainder of the distance will be started early this spring. The road will have a double track."

The SVENSKA FOLKETS TIDNING of Feb. 5, says editorially:
"After having further investigated the affairs of the TWIN CITY & LAKE SUPERIOR RAILWAY COMPANY we feel that we are now justified by the facts, as we found them, in adding the following paragraph to the article we printed editorially in our issue of last week:
"The purchase of TWIN CITY & LAKE SUPERIOR RAILWAY COMPANY stock is, in our judgment, a good investment, as we firmly believe the company to be thoroughly reliable in every way and fully capable of carrying their project to a successful conclusion."

say in connection with our trip here yesterday. "We came to Duluth merely for the purpose of looking over the properties here, and to see the progress made in reconstructing the Northern Pacific bridge across the bay, as well as to see how other improvements were being made. The improvements will be made at the Head of the Lakes from time to time, but in this respect no more can be discussed at the present time.

"But the public is by this time well aware, the recent financial stringency affected the business of the railroads, and we felt the need of a program. We saw as well as the big roads in other parts of the country. January, generally is a light month, but business is not so light as it is in other months. The situation is quite satisfactory from the railroad point of view just now, so far as the traffic of freight, mail and passenger departments is concerned.

"Under other conditions have been about as nearly ideal as could be desired this winter, viewed from the operating departments of the roads. The one thing that has of course done much to keep things running smoothly, if we had such a winter as this year, would be the occasional congestions of traffic at certain points in the West would have been, but this, of course, depends upon the weather during the winter, and the right conditions in this respect make things easier all along the line. Cold and snow often place a great handicap on the railroads. The handicap really is greater than most people think it is.

"The officials seem well satisfied with conditions as they find them in Duluth. Chiefly they are satisfied with the progress made on the bridge connecting Duluth and Superior, but it will not be completed for some time yet, for the rebuilding of the structure is a big and very expensive project.

"Mr. Hannafoord expects to remain in Duluth until tomorrow.

called him the "Big Doctor," not on a scale of size, but on a scale of power. He had been driving in a great hurry when he had been called that afternoon. He had not had time to get the message until it was 9 o'clock and the square was already in one of his spells at any rate. He was a Thursday along, and he repeated like, warning with his teeth. "an" his horse shied at something in the alongside of the road and he "Big Doctor" jumped up, growling "an berkin'."

She jumped out of the room, and it was a woman, "an" she was nigh froze. She hadn't time to stop anywhere; you know the houses between there and the square are mostly set pretty far back from the road. She went down the street, and she went like a spook again along to the square. He didn't know it. "was Manly Bennett, a minute, and the doctor worked over her and the 'square all night, it was this mornin' little Ben Bennett she come to see me to see if I could do anything I did come to, for like, her was on the road. So she went over her, and she knowed 'an' she had a gone.

"Wimmen is queer creatures," me told her, "an' you better be careful, or you'll set up 'an' worry. Don't know's I mean one."

The little Ben Bennett got up and walked across the room. Then he came back and said to her, "like."

"like," he said, conclusively, "you're dead."

"Well," drawled like, thoughtfully, "mebbe I like. Like mebbe I be 'an' just to be sure, I'll go and see you out such a night," said Joe Martin, eyes suspiciously moist. "Ye know I'm a doctor."

Mandy looked over at her husband with bright, excited eyes. "Well," said, "I'd do it again—for Lige."

REPRESENTATIVE CHAMP CLARK GIVES HOUSE HIS VIEWS OF THE PRESIDENT

Speaks of Message, Financial Disturbance and the Tariff.

Says President's Life Has Been Series of Spectacular Fights.

But He Waxes Stronger and Stronger by Waging His Battles.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, occupied the attention of the house of representatives today, for over an hour, in the address upon the president's recent special message to congress, the financial disturbance of last fall, and the tariff question. It was a characteristic talk and aroused the interest of the house to a high degree.

In opening Mr. Clark asserted that a reasonable view should be taken in matters touching the president, "that it had not been done as a rule." "He is such a benighted personage," he declared, "that his slightest word is a challenge to combat." The president he said, could not express his views upon any question under heaven, even upon a subject so prosaic and threadbare as the prospective state of the weather without precipitating a row, his extreme adherents swearing that there never had been "such a weather prophet on earth since Adam and Eve were driven from the garden of Eden with flaming swords from Paradise and his extreme enemies vociferating that he knows no more about the weather than does a ground hog.

President's Life.—"The president's whole life," said Mr. Clark, "has been one long succession of spectacular fights. No man had been more viciously assailed by men of his own party and none more lavishly lauded by some of the opposing party," but he said, "the truth is that this extraordinary man has waxed stronger and stronger by waging his battles." Even defeat, he declared, had made him a larger and more commanding figure.

"So," he said, "amid the swirl of things, the deluge of words, the shouting of the champions, the groans of the vanquished, the groans of the crippled

BONSPIEL ON AT WINNIPEG

Weather Man Smiles on Curlers and Events Are Begun.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—A cold sharp night made ideal ice in the city rinks for the opening games which were played at 9 o'clock this morning. Skating is not in vogue here, but is playing in the 1 o'clock draw in the Dinglewell event, meeting of the Medicine Hat at the Granite rink.

With only three American rinks in attendance it would have been impossible to hold the international, so Bob Dunbar wired St. Paul yesterday and received assurance that another rink would be sent from the Twin Cities. This morning Dunbar of St. Paul beat Wright of the Winnipeg Medical club, getting into the sixties.

The Minnesota rink of Russell, twin winners of the Empire trophy, arrived yesterday. They have a strong bunch of curlers, and are likely to try to again land the big trophy, and if they do, they will become possessors of it.

ON LONG VOYAGE.

Lake Steamer is Making Trip From Detroit to San Francisco.

New York, Feb. 13.—(On her way from Detroit to San Francisco by water, the 760-ton freight steamship Lucy Neff arrived at this port yesterday, and after coaling and provisioning for the next leg of her ocean journey, will proceed. To reach the Pacific coast city from Detroit, a land journey of not much over 2,000 miles, the Neff is traveling 12,000 miles by the all-water route through the Great Lakes, the Welland canal, the St. Lawrence river, down the Atlantic coast and up the Pacific. From now on she will follow the route taken by the battleship fleet. She left Detroit June 20, and her trip was considerably lengthened by laying up at Hatt, Me., where she arrived late in the summer, for extensive repairs. She carries a crew of twenty men, and is loaded with lumber.

AULT ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Robert J. Ault, 37 years of age, manager of the Chicago branch of the Ault-Woodward company of Cincinnati, was found unconscious in a blood-soaked bed in a Turkish bath house at 131 Clark street, early today. His throat had been cut. A small pocket knife, the blade stained with blood, was found beside him. Ault had acted strangely the previous evening, and it is believed he attempted to end his own life. He was taken to the county hospital where physicians said he cannot recover.

COLORED PERSONS

Engaged in Early Morning Cutting Affray in Minneapolis.

Two Men Badly Wounded and Are Likely to Die.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Johnson and Alfred Young, colored, are in the city hospital likely to die as the result of an early morning cutting affray. Johnson is the more seriously injured, and his condition is critical.

Johnson was in the saloon of D. F. Mitchell, 123 Washington avenue, this morning, when Young, accompanied by two colored women, entered. The party had been to an all-night dance, and Johnson demonstrated with a knife. Young entered in the argument, and soon both drew knives. Young the police the woman grabbed her and began bounding Johnson. When the latter fell to the floor unconscious, bleeding from severe gashes about the head, Young, assisted by the woman, tried to escape. They were picked up by the police a short distance from the saloon.

The two women were charged with disorderly conduct, and the two men hurried to the hospital.

GASOLINE IN ALASKA.

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 13.—The Naggot has made an investigation of the supply of gasoline in Alaska along the route of the New York-Park automobile race. The newspaper finds that there is plenty of the liquid fuel to supply the six machines for the entire trip to the north. Caches of gasoline have been made all along the trails the machine will take.

MARINE FOSSIL FOUND.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator Tillman today presented a petition to the senate from Alfred O. Crozier, a manufacturer of Wilmington, Del., protesting against the passage of the Aldrich currency bill. It was read and will be printed in the Congressional record. The petition strongly objects to that feature of the bill which removes the restriction of existing law against the retirement of the present bank note and the contemplated emergency currency.

"Such a law," says Mr. Crozier, "would start agitation that might take from national banks the right under which they now profitably issue and loan to the people nearly $500,000,000 of bank note currency and perhaps jeopardize the gold standard itself."

"If such a law," says Mr. Crozier, "would start agitation that might take from national banks the right under which they now profitably issue and loan to the people nearly $500,000,000 of bank note currency and perhaps jeopardize the gold standard itself."

Panic Provisional.—"The panic," Mr. Crozier said, "appeared 'provisionally' just before this session of congress, when it was planned to re-enact the emergency currency bill. It was the demand for emergency currency, he says, which they did not explain why the country was put on so well for a dozen years without panic or change in the currency laws. Many believe the panic was caused by such promoters to pitch the emergency currency bill upon the people, to pass the currency legislation they desire, to punish the administration for enforcing the currency law, and to reduce values of labor and prices of securities and property for their lawless purposes and profit."

"The failure of the Knickerbocker Trust company precipitated the runs on banks and panic. Sudden refusal by one Wall Street bank further to close for that trust company, and wild exploitation of that fact in the newspapers, wrecked the trust company. The powerful master of Wall street, who is said to dominate that bank, set in the gallery of the United States senate and modeled approval as the distinguished authority of the Aldrich bill spoke in advocacy of the measure."

"LITTLE INTERPRETER" IS BURNED TO DEATH.

New York, Feb. 13.—There is much mourning on the lower East side over the death of 18-year-old Fannie Schorndor, known throughout the ghetto as "The little interpreter." Hundreds of men and women went to Fannie daily to have translated letters, or to have her write for them answers to advertisements for workers. She spoke and wrote both English and Hebrew fluently. She was building a fire in the room where she lived with her mother, yesterday, when her dress caught fire. The fire could be extinguished with which to buy liquor, from the meter and in so doing sacrificed their lives.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

Taft: "This Old Door Mat Wasn't As Hard to Dust As I Thought It Would Be."

Philadelphia, Feb. 13.—Martin Brady and John Bartlett were asphyxiated here yesterday in what the police believe was an attempt to obtain enough money to buy whisky.

The two men were found lying in the cellar of Brady's home by a gas meter inspector.

Brady had a "quarter-in-the-slot" gas meter in his arms. It had been wrenched from its fastenings. Mrs. Brady had been away from home for several days and her husband invited Bartlett to spend a few days with him. The police believe that the two men tried to extract money, with which to buy liquor, from the meter and in so doing sacrificed their lives.

Kansas City, Feb. 13.—Judge William H. Wallace of the criminal court of this city, who recently has been making a vigorous campaign for Sunday observance, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Missouri. His platform declares for "the state wide and permanent enforcement of the Sunday and liquor laws."

Judge Wallace's crusade resulted in the indictment of hundreds of actors, actresses and theatrical managers and attaches for the violation of the law making it a misdemeanor to perform unnecessary labor on Sunday, and he has placed them under bonds, amounting in the aggregate close to one hundred thousand dollars. Tuesday he ordered four prominent theatrical managers to jail because they failed to furnish proper bonds, and they were only kept from going behind the bars by securing a writ of habeas corpus.

CONCERNING A WOMAN.

Yesterday's weather may have had its advantages for some purposes, but if there ever was a time when sheer snow balls could be made it was not within the memory of that part of humanity who scarce can remember back to last week, and in whose sight a year stretches out into an endless eternity. The snow, truly, was not of the kind that made compact, white round missiles, but it made fine, "spun" ones, and when they did hit anything that offered any resistance—the side of an unexpected head being preferable to all other things—with what a resounding and luscious "plop" did they alight. There was no school, to add to the infinite delight of the part of the population which had nothing else to do but make snow balls and throw them. They kept life interesting for the many other people, however, and not the least active were the nervous nannies who endeavored to stop the practice.

Along almost any street the following scene was enacted many times a day, and will continue to be enacted until that time when mothers learn from women who have no children how to say "No" firmly once and stick to it. The present method in vogue is to call from the door in querulous tones:

"Johnny! I want you to quit throwing snow balls."

"Yes'm," says Johnny, as he squeezes another into shape.

"Johnny, did you hear me?"

"Yes'm," said Johnny, as he lifted one leg and balanced himself, dodging the balls from across the street.

"Well, I want you to stop it."

"Yes'm," said Johnny, keeping his eye glued continuously on his enemies across the way.

"Johnny!"

A wild yell of triumph from Johnny, who has sent one unaimingly to alight near the same portion of anatomy as that made famous by the children which received a blow from a cruel implement, is her only answer.

"Johnny!" agonizingly.

A chuckle of delight tells her of a Johnny far distant from her in thought.

"John," sharply.

"What is it?" equally sharply from John.

"John, please remember you are talking to your mother."

"Well, I ain't doing anything," in a whining tone.

"Well, I want you to stop it."

"But I ain't throwin' at them."

"Well, if there are any windows broken in this neighborhood, you'll be the one to blame. I don't know how it is, but you always are."

"Well, I ain't throwin' at the windows."

"That won't keep the snowballs from going through the windows. Johnny, do you hear me?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, I want you to stop it."

"Aw, shucks! Can't a fellow have any fun," from a petulant Johnny.

"Yes, certainly a fellow can. But I want you to stop throwing snow balls. There are plenty of other things you can do."

John makes two more snow balls.

"John!"

"Yes'm."

"I want you to STOP throwing snow balls."

"Yes'm," John makes another.

"John! Did you hear me?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, I want you to stop."

"Yes'm."

"John!"

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"Telly" by Mack Leone Plaque.

METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.

NOTED TENOR.

Senor Florencio Constantino One of the World's Noted Singers.

Florencio Constantino, one of the world's greatest tenors, will appear here with the San Carlo Grand Opera company at the Lyceum.

Senor Florencio Constantino was born in the city of Bilbao, on the northern coast of Spain. While a boy he showed musical talent, but his father insisted upon his entering the navy. However, the extraordinary beauty of the young man's voice was instrumental in obtaining his release from naval service, so that he might make a career on the stage.

The natural beauty of his voice, the courtliness of his bearing, and his forceful acting, easily made him prominent. An engagement at Buenos Ayres was followed by other successes in the Royal opera house at Madrid, at Covent Garden, where he alternated with Caruso, and at the Imperial opera house of St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Berlin. In Paris no tenor ever created such future as did Constantino. In all the European capitals his prestige is general and the verdict is universal that in beauty of voice and power of acting, he is supreme.

He received a brilliant offer from Mr. Grau in 1905 to appear at the Metropolitan, but his binding contract then existing with the Theater Royal of Madrid prevented America from hearing this great tenor at that time.

In order to secure him for the present engagement, Mr. Russell had to pay a fine of 20,000 francs to the authorities of the Madrid opera house to effect his release. The first trans-Atlantic tour of the San Carlo Grand Opera company last year was a series of triumphs for this great artist.

The Burlesquers.

Garden and Somers, the musical artists at the Metropolitan this week, recently had the unpleasant experience of having their dressing room robbed while they were on the stage making close harmony. It happened in Chicago when the Gay Troupers were playing there. The thieves had left considerable money and his watch in the dressing room, believing them safe for the time being in the pockets of his street trousers. But when they had reached their act, Garden and Somers discovered that they had been touched. The thief evidently had his- tronic leanings, for he stole, among other and more valuable things, a quantity of grease paint.

THREE GREAT NECESSITIES

For Future Success of Business Stated by M. E. Ingalls.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 13.—Melville E. Ingalls, president of the Merchants National bank of that city, and chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad, made the address of the evening at the semi-annual banquet of the Bankers' club of Detroit last night. Former Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who, early in the evening made an address in Ypsilanti, thirty-five miles away, hurried into the city in a special car and made a brief talk to the bankers.

"Business Needs" was the topic of Mr. Ingalls' address, and he declared that the three greatest necessities for the future success of business in this country are the repeal of the Sherman law, an addition to our banking laws, and "peace, less talk, less legislation, less shrieking and less abuse." He said in part:

"There are three things which seem to me to be very essential for the future success of business. First, a repeal of the Sherman law and in its stead some better scheme of regulating corporations; second, an addition to our banking laws; third, peace—less talk, less legislation, less shrieking and abuse."

"With these three things, two of them acts of legislation and the third a return to sane conditions by the great public, we may look for a rapid improvement of our business conditions. I believe the best thing to help the recovery from the panic which started in its acute form four months ago, would be the repeal of the Sherman law so-called. It never has done any good. I am aware of. On the other hand, its mild enforcement so far has produced nothing but trouble. The threat of its enforcement has stopped and injured business and now if it is rigidly enforced, as it is proposed to do, it will paralyze all commerce and trade and every business that requires an agreement in order to live. Even the labor unions are now feeling the weight of its hand. Publicity the Remedy. "Understand me, by this I do not mean that I am willing to let the corporations have their sweet will

VETERAN N. Y. FIRE FIGHTER MEETS DEATH BY DROWNING WHILE LEADING HIS MEN

Deputy Chief Kruger Loses His Life in a Basement.

Fell Into Water and Died Before He Could be Rescued.

Had Been With New York Department for 36 Years.

New York, Feb. 14.—Deputy Chief Charles W. Kruger, known for many years as "the grand old man of the fire department," lost his life today while leading his men in a desperate fight against flames in a basement. While working his way cautiously through a cellar filled with smoke and gases, Kruger plunged through a trap door into a sub-basement filled with water. He was dead when taken out, but in the few minutes which elapsed between the time the old man fell and his body was drawn out, more than a score of men had risked their own lives in an effort to save that of their leader.

"I knew it would happen this way," said one of Kruger's men when the chief's body was being carried away. "I have been to many fires with him. He was always in the lead. He never said: 'Boys, go into that place or this place.' He always led us himself. He said: 'Boys, follow me, and that's just what he said this time when he led us into that basement. Boys, follow me.' It was just what many of his men expected. We have often said that the old man would be killed at a fire leading his men."

Member of Department 36 Years.

Kruger was 57 years old and had been a member of the department for thirty-six years. Several years ago Kruger was acting chief of the department for a time while Chief Croker was temporarily under suspension.

The fire in which the deputy chief lost his life started at 217 Canal street, and before it had been subdued it swept that building from basement to roof, spread to two buildings adjoining, razed the tenements from several tenement houses in Water street and threatened the corner of the Most Precious Blood. It was after the flames in the upper part of the building had been brought under control.

HE STOLE FOR ANOTHER WOMAN

Contractor, Charged With Burglary, Confesses to Dual Life.

Alton, Ill., Feb. 14.—Bound over to the grand jury on two charges of burglary and larceny, Henry Schuele, a contractor, in confessing to a dual life, says he paid for everything provided for his wife and children, but stole to supply the needs of another woman. Schuele's reputation in Alton has been above reproach, and until the case came from his own lips few believed the charges against him.

According to his own statement, when he completed a building, Schuele would keep a duplicate key and this made burglary so easy, he declares, that he could not resist the temptation to steal. He had erected some of the finest buildings in Alton, and wealthy men were his clients. He used to allow any one to go on his bond, as he says he prefers to be in jail rather than face his family and his friends, who never knew he was leading a double life.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Has the corner grocery man out your way dusted off his egg case and nailed up a welcome sign reading:

"Twenty-five Cents a Dozen." If not he is a nature fiend, according to the wholesale dealers, whose fire has been aroused by reports that grocery men all over the city are asking from 35 to 40 cents a dozen for eggs. The wholesalers complain that there is a conspiracy against the Kansas hen which is likely to hurt her prestige with the housewife. They maintain that she is strictly on the job and that eggs should be sold to the consumer for 25 cents a dozen.

Fresh eggs are now pouring into Chicago at the rate of twenty cartloads a day, and the corner groceryman is paying about 25 cents a dozen for eggs, according to dealers. The prevailing high price to consumers, however, has placed an embargo on the sale, and brokers are shipping Kansas eggs to New York and Boston because of the sluggish demand resulting from the 3-cent price. The Chicagoans take their bacon without eggs in the morning when the price begins to soar, and this is what the wholesalers are objecting to.

The Chicago butter and egg board is up in arms against the high-priced retailer and insists that he keeps the price up every spring, three or four weeks after fresh stock begins to arrive in abundance.

OF BENEFIT TO FARMERS

Would be Scott's Scheme to Establish Experimental Farms.

To Show Best Methods of Raising the Various Crops.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Representative Scott of Kansas, chairman of the house committee on agriculture, has conceived a novel plan, which he believes, if adopted, will enable the farmers of the country to produce better and far larger crops than heretofore.

Mr. Scott's proposition involves the establishment of 100 experimental farms of one acre each in every county in a group of four Western agricultural states for the purpose of giving the farmers a practical demonstration of the best methods of growing different kinds of crops.

Farmers to Furnish Land.

It is proposed that the lands for this purpose shall be furnished by the farmers themselves and that they do the work of cultivation under the direction of the experts of the department of agriculture. No additional appropriation from congress will be required to test Mr. Scott's plan. It is explained, as the agricultural department now has the requisite number of experts to carry out the plan.

Mr. Scott declares that enough money is now being practically wasted by the department of agriculture in sending out farm bulletins and government crops to carry out his scheme. He says that much valuable information has been developed by the experts in these publications, but their contents are so little understood by the farmers that they do not derive the knowledge from them that they should as to the best cultural methods to grow corn, wheat, hay and other regular crops.

BUFFALO HAS $250,000 FIRE

Job Printing Plant of the Courier Office Burns.

Buffalo, Feb. 14.—Fire broke out early today in the plant of the Buffalo Courier company, the general print shop, not the newspaper, and before it was brought under control, an immense amount of damage to paper stock and completed work, such as circus posters, of which a great amount was in the warehouse, was done. The cause is not known, but the fire was under great headway when discovered, flames licking out of all windows in the rear of the building facing on an alley.

The firemen had difficulty because of falling floors and presses, but they confined the blaze to the extension in which it started. Other parts of the building and adjoining buildings were damaged. It is estimated that the damage to the building and stock will amount to $250,000.

FREAK HOTEL BILL KILLED.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 14.—The house yesterday killed the hotel bill, which provided nine-foot sheets on beds, and provided a penalty for the use of cracked cups.

BELIEVED TO BE INSANE.

Harrisburg, Feb. 14.—Believing that he had an important business engagement with President Roosevelt at Washington, Walter White, strange from Madison, S. D., was taken from a Pennsylvania railroad train Wednesday night and committed to the Dauphin County prison. White claims he met a party of friends in Chicago and went to the hotel to meet them, but from getting to Washington to see the president.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Inadequate to Properly Define "Reasonable Doubt," Says Judge.

Declares Unscrupulous Lawyers Work Upon Minds of Jurors.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 14.—In concurring with the other justices of the supreme court in deciding the grand jury case of the State against Jack Delea, Judge Smith, yesterday, delivered an opinion, in which he said it seemed that the English language was inadequate properly to define "reasonable doubt," and that some courts are not satisfied with the accepted definition.

He then asked how a jury of laymen could be guided or aided by it. He said they were words which did not require explanation, and the more numerous the efforts made so to do, the greater became the confusion.

Lawyers Juggle With Words.

He declared it was a matter of common knowledge that unscrupulous lawyers seized upon it, repeated and reiterated it to jurors until they were led to believe the words had some deep occult meaning. He declared this system of putting men practiced toward jurors should be abandoned, as unquestionably it led not a few of them to believe that the law, instead of being founded on common sense, dealt in nothing but technicalities. He closed as follows:

"I maintain, therefore, that we should give our trial judges credit for the integrity, learning, discretion and consideration for their oaths of office that they in reality possess, and that our jurors should be treated as men of intelligence and not as children."

The opinion has created a sensation not only in legal circles, but throughout the state as well. In view of the fact that within recent months not a few criminals have been released on what are regarded as mere technicalities.

RUSSIA AND GREAT BRITAIN

May Enter Joint Agreement on Situation in Morocco.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 14.—It is expected here that Russia and Great Britain will enter upon an agreement for joint action with regard to the situation in Macedonia, and that these two powers will be supported by France, and perhaps by Italy. If such a coalition is made, the reason for it undoubtedly will be the latest development at Constantinople—the fact that Germany intends to abandon the allies and adopt the counter proposals of the sultan, which are, in the opinion of the view, tantamount to a reform at all, and which are regarded as creating a situation rivaling the Moroccan entanglement in international importance. Only by such a four-power league, according to the Russian press, can the necessary reforms in Macedonia be carried through. Dispatches received here from London indicate that a similar view is gaining ground there.

APPALLING ABUSES SHOWN BY PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE ARE DUE TO REPUBLICANS

MUST GIVE PROTECTION

To Law Abiding Citizens of Alaska, Wires Bonaparte.

Marshal is Instructed to Enforce Law to the Letter.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 14.—A special cable to the Post-Intelligencer from Fairbanks, Alaska, says: Marshal Perry, yesterday, received the following from the department of justice: "Military force ordered to Fairbanks. Meantime your duty to protect law-abiding citizens, without tenderness to law breakers. Department expects you to use all necessary energy to preserve order and maintain law in any attempt at intimidation. Those molesting Russians must be arrested, using such force as necessary to accomplish purpose."

"BONAPARTE." Everything was quiet yesterday. Special deputies were organized into bands of ten, under captains. Saloons are still closed. May be allowed to reopen, today during continuance of good order. Men arriving yesterday report no molestation on trail. SWEDISH MAIL DELAYED.

Complaint Made to Royal Postoffice of Agreement With America.

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 14.—Complaints from commercial institutions and business firms against the existing package and mail methods between America and Sweden have been published and also presented to the royal postoffice. A private individual in New York has a contract with the Swedish postal authorities to deliver all packages going between the two countries. This system gives the brokers in Copenhagen a chance to make extra charges for brokerage with the result that transportation rates are charged at a high rate. It also causes delay, as the packages are gathered and sent only once a week.

"UNWRITTEN LAW" FAILS.

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 14.—Glynn Gant, who has been on trial in the circuit court here for the killing of Henry Dickerman, was yesterday found guilty and sentenced to 14 years imprisonment. Gant based his defense on the "unwritten law." But Wednesday his supposed wife took the stand and denied that she had ever been married to Gant, although she admitted having lived with him for almost two years. Gant followed one night and saw her meet Dickerman. In the fight that followed Dickerman was stabbed to death.

SEWED HUSBAND UP IN BLANKET

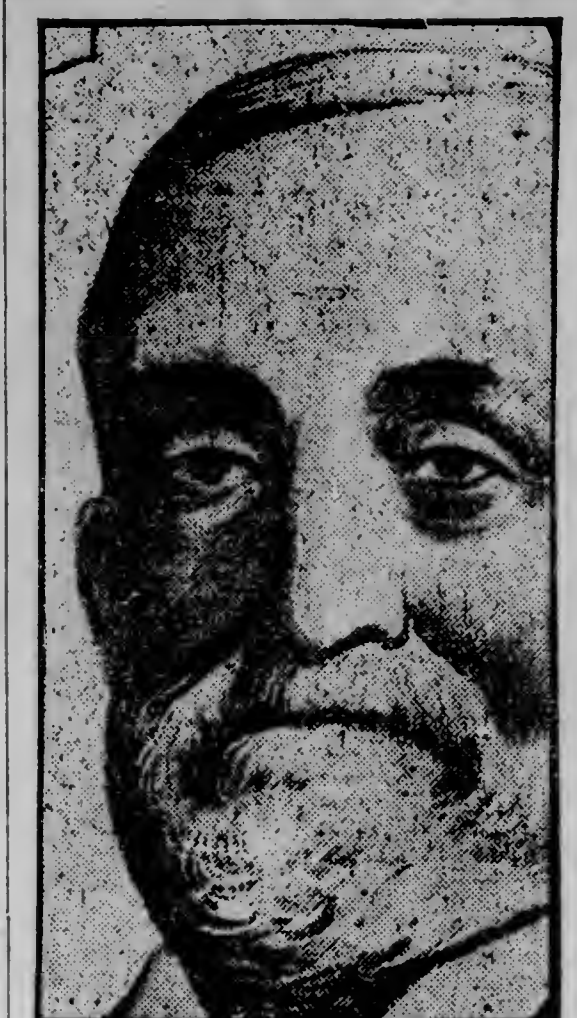

And Horsewhipped Him Until He Signed the Pledge.

Gowrie, Iowa, Feb. 14.—In an effort to cure her husband of drunkenness, and as revenge for abuse she had received from him, Mrs. Ivan Ogrey, while he slept from the effects of drink, sewed his head and master up in a pair of blankets and gave him a severe horse whipping. He is now comatose and unconscious, and it is feared that he will die as a result of the beating and certain promises he made to her.

According to his wife, Ogrey has been in the habit of coming home from town drunk and boisterous. She states that she warned him of her intention to punish him if he persisted, but he laughed at her. On Tuesday he went to town, coming home in his usual condition. After some words, he is said to have given his wife several severe blows across the back, she finally running to the barn to make her escape from him.

Ogrey soon relapsed into a drunken stupor and was taken to his room and put to bed by the farm hand. Mrs. Ogrey soon followed, and, taking some canvas warp, she sewed her husband securely into the blankets in such a manner that it was impossible for him to move hand or foot.

Going then to the barn, she secured a heavy whip with which she was so enthusiastic that the pain soon brought Ogrey to consciousness and made him rise for mercy. His pleadings for clemency, however, were unheeded by the woman, until, insisted on her husband's thorough submission. She extracted promises from him of a complete reformation, made him sign a pledge and agree to confine himself to the farm for a period of six months. The whole affair was seen by the hired man and the agreement was put into writing, he acting as witness. Mrs. Ogrey is a highly respected woman in the neighborhood where she resides. She has been married two and a half years.

DISALLOW NATAL ACT

Dominion Government Objects to Action of British Columbia.

Ottawa Advises Japs That All Rights Will be Protected.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 14.—A dispatch from Vancouver, B. C., to the Post-Intelligencer says: The fight between the Dominion and Provincial governments on the question of Japanese exclusion reached a crisis yesterday, when the federal government announced that it would immediately disallow the Natal act just passed by the legislature of British Columbia. This act provides an educational test for all immigrants. It must remain in force ten days before cancellation.

In the meantime the federal government lawyers in Vancouver have been instructed to secure the admittance of all Japanese held by the provincial government, to the extent of applying for habeas corpus proceedings in the courts.

The Ottawa government has also advised the emperor that the rights of Japanese coming to British Columbia will be fully protected. If the Provincial government fails to keep out the Japanese by reason of federal interference, they may make another demonstration against the Orientals.

Say Wisconsin Democrats in Platform of State Convention.

People Can No Longer Doubt Perfidy of Party's System.

William J. Bryan Warmly Endorsed as Presidential Candidate.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 14.—When the Democratic state convention to select delegates-at-large to the national convention at Denver met this forenoon to resume its deliberations, the committee on permanent organization reported its selection of Evan A. Evans of Baraboo as permanent chairman. Mr. Evans made a lengthy speech touching upon various national issues, and criticizing the Republican party throughout, charging that party with many abuses and practices. He concluded by paying a glowing tribute to William Jennings Bryan, in whom he said "you see Democracy personified, see Democracy's her best hope."

At the conclusion of Mr. Evans' speech the committee on resolutions presented its unanimous report as follows:

Platform Presented.

The Democratic party of the state of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, reaffirms its allegiance to the time-honored principles of Jeffersonian Democracy, and declares its undying hostility to the sham and hypocrisy of Republican national administrations.

It charges that the appalling abuses disclosed in recent messages of the president are the direct results of the long continued reign of the Republican party in national affairs. The people can no longer doubt the inherent perfidy of the system of government fostered and maintained by the Republican party, since the Republican president himself has furnished the evidence against it. ## RECEIVER IS IN CHARGE OF ROAD

Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Will be Run for Creditors.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14.—James P. Goodrich, who was appointed receiver for the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad company, by the federal court at Indianapolis yesterday, assumed charge of the property here today. H. L. Starr, general counsel of the road, said today that the receivership had been brought about after a conference between officials and bondholders, to provide protection to investors that is always guaranteed by such a course.

"The road owed money," said Mr. Starr, "and some of its creditors assumed a hostile attitude. It was deemed advisable and to the advantage of all interests concerned, to turn the affairs and their management over to a receiver. Under ordinary conditions it might be possible to foreclose what the outcome will be, but at present this cannot be done with any degree of safety."

The men soon came to blows. Finally Hatten drew a revolver and shot and killed Bean.

Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 14.—Because of interference with plans for marrying his sister, Henry Bean, a prosperous young farmer, living at Prichard, was shot through the head and instantly killed, yesterday, by Virgil Hatten.

By a vote of 133 to 13, the citizens of Superior, assembled in a mass meeting, last evening, passed a resolution requesting the city council to permit the Soo and the Wisconsin Central roads, to cross Belknap street at grade. The resolution maintains that the crossing of the street at an elevation or a depression of the tracks is impracticable from an engineering point of view, and will delay the construction of the lines if the city insists on either of these forms of crossings. Officials of the Soo line promised that if the road can have a grade crossing, a force of men will be put on the work as soon as possible, and the company will have trains running into Superior this coming fall.

Maher had about reached the back end of the train and was just stepping from one car to another when the coupling gave way and he fell between the cars. ## IS PROPOSED TO TREASURE

Senator Clay Gives Reasons Why Aldrich Bill is Bad.

Plan Will Give No Relief to the South and West.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Senator Clay of Georgia spoke on the Aldrich currency bill today. He reviewed the banking system of the country carefully, and analyzed the plan under consideration, and declared it was wrong and vicious, and would give no relief to the South and West. He contended that it simply enlarged the power of the national banks, and that congress was relinquishing the sovereign right to issue and circulate money, which it ought never to do. The bill, he said, would give the national government to issue $50,000,000 of treasury notes, and to use them in paying the expenses of the government, that they might find their way into all the channels of trade, was advocated by him.

Clay said there are now in circulation $250,000,000 of treasury notes, not costing the government anything, and performing all the functions of money, and that this amount could be easily increased $500,000,000 without in any way disturbing our finances, and could not possibly result in depreciation of currency.

No Benefit to South and West.
 State bonds, city bonds, and municipal bonds of the south and west, he contended, were now being held by Eastern capitalists, and that the South and West could not secure any additional circulation by making these bonds a basis of circulation. He declared that the class of railroad bonds mentioned in the bill would not be sold in the South and West, and that the bill would be a provision in the Aldrich bill. The bill, he said, was drawn in favor of the rich and powerful, and would tend to control the money issue, and it was not in the interest of the American people. He declared he would vote against the bill.

People Prefer Paper Money.
 Senator Clay contended that the people prefer paper money, and that there was no need of the bill. He said that the people would not have the bill passed, and that the bill would be a failure. He said that the bill would be a failure, and that the people would not have the bill passed.

Physician, Warned He Was Developing Homicidal Insanity, Takes Poison

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 14.—The suicide in Malone a few days ago of Dr. Stacy Dwight Williamson, one of the leading physicians of that community, has revealed one of the strangest tragedies ever recorded in Northern New York. The details of the suicide, unfolded today, revealed that Dr. Williamson, prompted by expert medical opinion that he was rapidly developing homicidal insanity, and that in an unguarded moment he might attack his two small children or young wife, manly, will, dressed himself for the grave, and swallowed a quantity of morphine, which caused his death.

Dr. Williamson had a very lucrative practice, was a leader in golf and automobile circles in Malone, and, with his wife, moved in exclusive social circles. He was of a jovial disposition until a year ago, when he was seized with a fit of melancholy, during which he confided to his wife that his mother and another relative had died of homicidal insanity, and he expressed the fear that he, too, would meet such a fate.

CANDIDATE FOR THE FOOL-KILLER

Smart Alec Disarranges Street Car Schedule for Fun.

If a score or more inebriated passengers on a big car bound for the Ski club grounds yesterday afternoon could have placed their hands on some would-be joker, who kept ringing the motor-man's bell for every crossing, there would have been one less victim for the fool-killer. The affair happened just at the time when the crowds going to the grounds are the largest and the cars were filled to their capacity. The "joker" who managed to keep his identity concealed, rang the bell and stopped the car at every crossing from Third avenue to Fifteenth avenue east. The result was that there was a break of ten minutes caused in the two and one-half minute schedule the company had arranged for the accommodation of the people.

The cars were sent up the hill on the East Fourth street run as fast as they could be with safety on the grades, and there was an almost solid block of cars between Third and Fourth avenues west during the rush hours, as the cars were sent up the hill. Street railway men say that the crowd commenced moving toward the ski grounds as early as 11:30 a. m. All the big cars that could be spared were pressed into the East Fourth street service yesterday, and the company could have used many more to good advantage if they had been available in case another tournament is held Sunday, as now planned, the street railway company has arranged to run cars to run cars as frequently as it can with safety on the heavy grades on Third avenue west. It is expected that many people will walk down Fifth street to the ski grounds, and that this will relieve some of the strain on the Fourth street service after the tournament comes to an end.

OLE FEIRING IS AROUSED

Crack Ski Rider Will Try to Regain Lost Prestige.

National Ski Tournament Will be Duplicated Sunday Afternoon.

The big national tournament, which was pulled off on the Chester hill slide yesterday, will be duplicated Sunday afternoon, when the Duluth Ski club will pull off a special tournament, in an effort to break the new American record of 116 feet, established by John Evenson yesterday. A message was received from Eau Claire this morning to the effect that the tournament there which was scheduled for Sunday, has been called off, and it is a comparatively easy matter to induce the riders to remain over here until after Sunday's affair.

All of the crack riders have remained in Duluth and will be in Sunday's events. There will be fully forty of them, and it is believed the jumping will surpass that of yesterday. Weather conditions are that it will be cold tomorrow, probably snow, and Sunday, the same conditions will prevail. The officers of the Ski club are not particular about the snow, but if the weather remains cold, the tournament will be a great one and records will certainly go flying, as the conditions will be much better than those of yesterday.

The principal interest in Sunday's tournament will center in the efforts of Ole Feiring to reestablish himself in the good graces of the public and the front rank of ski riders. Feiring's work yesterday was miserable. His skis were in bad shape and he lays nearly all of it on to that fact. He says he will be back in shape Sunday with a good pair of skis and the man who beats him, must jump more than 116 feet.

Feiring is thoroughly aroused over his loss of prestige, and he is going back to try to regain it. Many people still have faith in Feiring. They believe he is the premier rider of America and a bet was laid today, which indicates that they are willing to back their judgment. Wallace H. Wells of the Northern Hardware company and Manager Michael of the St. Louis hotel have posted $50 on Feiring and Evenson respectively. Mr. Wells believes that Feiring is the better man of the two, and the contest between the two great riders in Sunday's contest will be interesting.

Olaf Junnum, also, believes that he can beat Evenson's record of 116 feet and he expects to be in better form even than he was yesterday. Junnum is a fine rider and one of the hardest men the Duluth riders will be forced to combat. Other riders from Colorado, Red Wing and Minneapolis have remained over, as well as Adams, Meloy, the Hibbing crack. The ski club has put up about $75 in prizes and the riders will go after money and new records on a much improved hill.

The events will start at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

WARM WEATHER
May Keep Curlers From Completing All Trophy Events.

The members of the Western Curling club are becoming worried over the continued warm weather and the fact that the contests for the West Duluth Commercial club trophy are not completed and cannot be until colder weather puts the ice in condition for playing.

The events have been under way for nearly a month, and there are still three more games to be played between the rinks of Philatrault and Hewitt and Donald and Method, and the finals between the winners of those two games.

There are still the contests for the Union Match company cup and the Hurst medals, and only a little over a month left of winter to play the season.

As soon as the weather permits, the curlers will try to rush the contests through by playing six matches a day, so as to complete all the events before spring, if possible.

BIDS WERE VERY CLOSE

Contract for West End Station Will Go to Jacob Jacobson.

Only $4 Difference Between Bids of Two Contractors.

Jacob Jacobson, a West end contractor, will very likely receive the contract for the construction of the new sub-station for the police department at the West end. His bid of $7,195 was the lowest of ten bids for the construction of the station opened by the board of public works at its meeting this morning.

There was quite a scramble among the contractors for the job and bidding was fairly close. Between the lowest bidder and Emil Zauf of West Duluth, there was a difference of but $4.

Emil Zauf's bid being $7,199. Other bids were J. F. Schleunes, $7,511; Hugh Fawcett, $7,912; J. A. Johnson, $8,581; E. H. Lovvick, $8,848; Richard Hanson, $10,369; Appleby Bros., Berquist Bros. and Otto Johnson also submitted bids, but they were not accompanied by certified checks and were not considered.

The specifications call for the completion of the station ready for occupancy. Work will begin immediately upon the letting of the contract and it will be rushed to completion. The board will recommend that the contract be awarded to the lowest bidder, and it will come before the council next Monday night for confirmation.

M. Fitzgerald's bid of $1,946 was the lowest submitted this morning for the construction of a sanitary sewer on West Seventh street from a point 300 feet east of Eighth avenue west to Eighth avenue west, with an outlet on Eighth avenue to the Third street sewer.

Other bidders were Adam McAdams, $1,983.42; George H. King, $2,022.30; E. Engle, $2,240.60; Frank Carlson, $2,291. The contract for the sewer will also come before the council Monday night, and work will be begun as soon as it is let.

BLIND FROM SMALLPOX

Case of Peter H. Peterson is Strange in Present Day.

Man Discharged From Detention Hospital is Almost Totally Blind.

A case very similar to thousands in the old days, before vaccination was introduced as a preventative for smallpox, has come to light in Peter H. Peterson, who is almost totally blind as the result of a moderately severe case of the dread disease. Peterson is suffering from keratitis, without ulceration, a very unusual affliction in this of modern science. He is able to see objects within the four walls of a room, but he may never be able to read, and it will be months before he will be able to work.

Peterson contracted smallpox in a lumber camp, and came to Duluth, where he was placed in the detention hospital. In the second week of the disease, the irritation of the eyes was noticed, and a local oculist called. He was discharged from the detention hospital about Christmas, almost totally blind, and, although he has improved somewhat since, he must undergo an operation, and will, even then, never recover the full use of his eyes.

Peterson is 28 years of age, and was never vaccinated. His case, although rather severe in comparison with other cases in the current mild epidemic, was moderate, considering his never having been vaccinated, and the after-effects are more serious than the disease itself.

Before the introduction of vaccination as a means of combating smallpox, blindness was a common result of the disease. At one time in France 35 per cent of the total blindness was caused by smallpox, and after vaccination was introduced, only 7 per cent of the blindness grew out of that disease. Similar results were shown in other countries.

Peterson's case is attracting considerable attention from the medical fraternity, on account of the infrequency of such cases in the present day. During the mild epidemic, which has prevailed for the last four years, insignificant irritation of the eyes has sometimes followed cases of smallpox, but the oculist, who is attending Peterson, said this morning that he knows of only five cases in the past four years which have been serious in the degree that Peterson's is.

BIG TIDE OF IMMIGRATION

Canada Expects Rush to Her Borders in the Spring.

James Daw, a land owner and rancher from Strom, Alberta, who is at the St. Louis today, states that Canadians are looking for a great tide of immigration during the coming spring. Immigration fell off last year, says Mr. Daw, but it is expected that some records will be broken when the immigration season opens.

Mr. Daw says that settlers and homesteaders are rapidly changing Calgary and Alberta from a purely ranching country to a farming and agricultural community. It was not so long ago that these two provinces were almost entirely devoted to large cattle interests, the cattle feeding on the unfenced grazing lands and running over the broad prairies. Now you see farms under cultivation, where a few years ago nothing but the broad sweep of the prairie met the eye.

They are using the best cattle for breeding purposes up in Alberta, says Mr. Daw. They prefer the shorthorn, although the Hereford is liked by a good many of the breeders. They market some of their cattle at Winnipeg, although the bulk of the beef for foreign exportation is sent to Montreal.

Winnipeg, says Mr. Daw, is developing its market, as the local, or home demand for beef, is increasing each year. Canada does a large export business, and the cattle raisers of Alberta and other western provinces are contributing their support to one of the growing industries of the Dominion.

CONTRABAND RIFLES

Were Being Smuggled Into Albania for Use Against Turks.

Bari, Albania, Feb. 14.—A few days ago a well dressed young man, who spoke with a foreign accent, and gave his name as Tommaso Stanoia, stating that he was an Albanian, advised a forwarding agency that he was expecting some cases containing some old iron chains, which he desired to send on to Albania. At the customs house the cases were examined, and suspicions were aroused on account of their extraordinary weight. They were opened and found to contain Mauser rifles of the latest pattern. Stanoia was forthwith arrested.

It was first presumed that the weapons were intended for the malcontents in Montenegro, but the prisoner declared that they were actually destined to aid the Albanian revolutionaries against Turkey. He further stated that he was at the head of a great plot, and was organizing a popular rising. The rifles were to be sent to Montenegro, whence they would be introduced into Albania by contrabandists.

Now it has been discovered that recently a number of heavy cases have been reaching Stanoia, who has made the least concealment with regard to the use for which the arms were intended, declaring that he was acting from patriotic motives in trying to free Albania from the yoke of the sultan.

A great impression has been caused at Bari by the arrest of Stanoia, as the young Albanian had recently married a lady belonging to the district.

BALLET DANCING

Added to the Accomplishment of This Athletic Noblessewoman.

London, Feb. 14.—Lady Constance Stewart-Richardson, younger sister of the countess of Cromartie, had added ballet dancing to the list of her accomplishments, which she gained before her marriage to Sir Edward Austin, and when she was still Lady Constance Mackenzie, and was regarded as the most athletic young woman in the United Kingdom.

She was born in 1882, and even in her early teens was known as a fine shot and a bold rider. She has hunted and shot big game in the Rocky mountains, is a special horsewoman having ridden across Scotland, and is an enthusiastic fisherman, and has the landing record for salmon, and at present holds the swimming championship of the London Bath club, a select organization of the city.

Lady Constance's courtship was a romance, her marriage a sensation. Recently she has been taking lessons of the ballet mistress at Covent Garden, who actually says she has a genius for tetrachloride art.

A FAMOUS STREET

New York's Fashionable Thoroughfare and Hotel St. Regis.

A RECENT INNOVATION

For half a century Fifth Avenue has been the select residential thoroughfare of New York, the most fashionable city street in America. Formerly private residences, many of them the homes of millionaires, lined this beautiful street, but in recent years a few palatial hotels have entered this select circle, and society has set its seal of approval upon these creations for public comfort and entertainment by a liberal patronage.

At the social center of this famous thoroughfare, and only four blocks from Central Park, stands the St. Regis, a hotel of elegance and refinement. It is the chosen permanent home of many people, who once lived in nearby residences, and also the temporary home of many hundreds of transient visitors to the metropolis.

The St. Regis was conceived and constructed with the idea of perfect conformity with its select environment, and those who share its hospitality are certain to find the utmost comfort and enjoyment, with entire freedom from discordant elements and distracting influences. Within its portals you may enjoy the best that money can buy, and much which your money cannot buy. Yet, with all that these facts imply, the St. Regis is not above the means of the average person, and it particularly attracts transient patronage. Its charges do not exceed those of first-class hotels generally, in fact, in proportion to the comforts provided, they are even less. A large, well-furnished room may be had for $4, or one with bath in connection for $5 a day; or a parlor, bedroom and bath for $12 and upward, while the restaurant charges are at standard rates.

Such being the case, why not choose the St. Regis as your home when in New York?

SCANDALS IN GERMANY

More Court Scandals Predicted and Prominent Officers Involved.

Charges Similar to Those Against Counts Hohenau and Lynar.

Berlin, Feb. 14.—According to the Neue Gesellschaftliche Correspondenz, a news agency enjoying confidential relations with Prince Bismarck, a number of sensational new military scandals have come to light of a character similar to the charges on which Counts Hohenau and Lynar are undergoing a court-martial at Potsdam. Investigation is pending. It says, in regard to two officers on the active list and several others, who have been placed on the "disposition list," with full honors, including the right to wear uniforms and draw pensions. A number of the latter left active service several years ago. The names of the officers concerned will not for the present be disclosed. These proceedings are taken, it is added, in consequence of the order which the emperor gave his commanding generals on New Year's day to purge the army ruthlessly of all elements which are morally abnormal.

Grizzly Tragedy.
A grizzly tragedy has come to light at Leipzig. Since Nov. 17 nothing has been seen of a bookkeeper named Paul Gieseler, who had a business in the Gieselerstrasse. A young woman named Minna Bock, who lived with him at first, informed the inquiring neighbors and relatives that he was traveling in Italy. But later this course of action was contradicted statement that he was in a Vienna hospital. Investigations in the Austrian capital failed to reveal any trace of the missing man, and heightened the already aroused suspicion. He then decided to attempt forcible entrance to his dwelling. Before he could he had got the door open, the Bock jumped from the window and took to her heels.

The place was searched on Sunday by the police, who found Gieseler's corpse hidden beneath the tidily arranged covering of a bed. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and was discolored almost to blackness, but it still bore unmistakable signs of violence. It was evident that the man had been killed. She had made out with $200, but has since been arrested.

Dangers of Tobogganing.
An awful example of the dangers which accompany tobogganing, unless it is carried out under skilled guidance, was furnished recently in Taunus, on the run between Schindeln and Soden. A toboggan with six occupants was descending the course, but failed to take a sharp turn and rushed with tremendous velocity against a large tree. Four of the unfortunate crew were flung head first and with fearful violence against the trunk of the tree, with the result that two of them were killed outright, and the third was so severely injured that he died on the way to the hospital. The fourth was carried away unconscious with a fractured skull, and expired the next day.

Museum of Cookery.
Considerable food accident and widespread is the habit of eating, it is thought, still now no one should be without a museum of cookery. The deficiency is, however, to be supplied at Frankfurt-on-Main. The idea is being carried out by the International Association of Cooks, and its execution will cost $5,000. The museum is to contain a historical section, in which, by the aid of models, the visitors will be given some idea of what an alderman's banquet was like in ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome. Further exhibits will show the creation of immortal masters, such as Carême, Dupleix and Bernier, and the most modern achievements of the culinary art. Other sections will be devoted to the chemical, architectural and literary sides of the subject.

There will also be models of famous kitchens, past, present and to come. Collections of cooking implements of all ages and nations. One of the most useful features of the institution will be a room demonstrating what can be done in the army, hospital and charitable catering. Here the visitor will be able to learn how tasty and nourishing meals can be prepared for large numbers of persons at a minimum of expense.

Strange Trance.
An astonishing trance case has come to light here, and was cited by Prof. Culver at the pathological lecture on sleep. A clerk, aged 46, a healthy, normal man, suddenly fell asleep in June, 1906. At present he is awake, but unsuccessful and he was placed in bed, where he is still. The sleeper since then has never opened his eyes. He breathes regularly and swallows his food mechanically, but is incapable to the severest attempts to arouse him.

Unemployed in Berlin.
It is pointed out by the Lokalanzeiger that Count Kant's estimate of the unemployed in Greater Berlin at 25,000 was for last month. The figure is now put at 40,000. The central executive of trades unions in conjunction with the Socialist party, arranging mass meetings of the unemployed in all parts of Germany, with the object of demonstrating to the public eye the amount of distress which at present exists and arranging for relief. At a meeting held at Cologne the chief burgomaster promised to dismiss the Germans in the employment of the municipality in order to provide work for distressed Germans.

Postcards by the Kaiser.
Three picture postcards by the hand of the emperor have just been published in a series, planned by the late Queen Carola of Saxony, in aid of the consumptive poor. One is a reproduction of a picture of a sea battle painted in 1865. Then there are two scenic designs for the Burggraf of Nuremberg tower, in romance style, signed "William, R. L. architect, 4-7-1885," and a couple of designs for regatta prizes. All are signed "Kaiser" and are to be sold by his majesty. Large orders for these cards are said to have been received from England. They are to be shown on a screen at a lecture by the architect, Hugo Eberhard, on English and German architecture.

This is owing to the fact that no business can be conducted successfully by selling goods at and below cost. But circumstances very often compel a business to overlook and to side track profits, time and labor, in order to save the GOOD, LONG-STANDING REPUTATION OF THE CONCERN, AND TO AVOID THE CHANCES OF BEING THROWN INTO BANKRUPTCY; FOR WE CONSIDER ONE OUNCE OF GOOD REPUTATION OF GREATER VALUE TO US THAN TONS OF TAINTED GOLD.

LAW SUITS ARE AS SWEET AS HONEY TO READ OF IN THE NEWSPAPERS, AND TO DISCUSS, BUT THEY ARE SOUR AND BITTER TO PRACTICE WITH, ESPECIALLY WHEN THERE IS NO TELLING WHERE A BUSINESS MAY LAND WHILE IT IS IN LITIGATION.

Therefore, our first duty is not to be indebted. Style, cost nor value is not to be considered. Raising the cash to balance the business is what we are after. Help us now, ye old stand-by, generous patrons of THE NEW YORK STORE COMPANY, BY HELPING YOURSELF. Help us now, please! in time of need, with a little more cash—by helping yourself to the greatest and most STUPENDOUS, RELIABLE BARGAINS, which you have ever before secured. You have always answered our advertisements in a very liberal way, and you will doubtless do so now. Again and again, you have convinced yourself that our advertisements and values are exactly what we claim them to be, and by no means will you be disappointed this time—FOR THE GREAT CUT PRICES, READ THE YELLOW STRING TAG.

THE INDIANA DELEGATION

Will be for Fairbanks to the End, Says Beveridge.

Senator Addresses the Lincoln League of Republican Clubs.

Wabash, Ind., Feb. 14.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge addressed the Indiana Lincoln League of Republican clubs here last night. Delegates were present from all parts of the state. The address was considered a fitting climax to the most enthusiastic gatherings in the history of the Lincoln league. The senator was presented to the audience by E. E. Gates, the retiring president of the league. Mr. Beveridge said:

"The Indiana delegation is going to Chicago for Vice President Fairbanks."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson.

Statements are being sent out that, after a few ballots have been cast for him, the delegation is to be delivered to the Republicans. This is a gross misstatement. I denounce. The Republicans in Indiana whom we will represent are not to be traded or delivered. We will vote for Fairbanks until we are so tired that we can no longer for him, and if that time ever comes, the delegates will not be delivered to any one. The self-respecting, independent men who are present here will vote as they please.

For Fairbanks Alone.
"As a body, we are going to Chicago for Mr. Fairbanks and for him alone. It is not Republican to be renegade; it is Republican only to be prophetic. Nearly twenty years ago the Sherman law was enacted. We have traveled a century since then. In that day the organization of industry had just begun and men were alarmed. Today we know that the organization of industry alone can serve the people—that railroad consolidations alone can carry cheaply, safely, quickly the nation's passengers and freight. And so, while on the one hand we have provided for punishing the robberies committed by trusts upon the people and put in jail the wealthy anarchists who broke the people's laws, we should also provide that honest men may combine for honest business, honest railroad managers consolidate their lines for honest traffic, that the business of the country may go forward. And so the Sherman law must be amended and brought down to date."

The Kind of Tariff Needed.
"A straight-out revenue tariff gives everything away and gets nothing in return; a straight-out protective tariff gives nothing away and gets nothing in return. We must have a tariff by which we can protect the markets of the world—one highly protective tariff to apply to the nations that will not grant us favors in their markets, and another tariff, still protective, for nations that will give us favors in their markets."

Labor Must be Passed to Help Labor.
"The laboring man is treated justly here and there, but he is not treated justly in the markets, and so, while on the one hand we have provided for punishing the robberies committed by trusts upon the people and put in jail the wealthy anarchists who broke the people's laws, we should also provide that honest men may combine for honest business, honest railroad managers consolidate their lines for honest traffic, that the business of the country may go forward. And so the Sherman law must be amended and brought down to date."

TRANSPORT ARRIVES.
San Francisco, Feb. 14.—The transport Thomas arrived yesterday from the Philippines, bringing the Third cavalry, 150 casualties and a large number of passengers. The cavalrymen will leave at once for Fort Sam Houston.

BERKELEY EDITOR ASKS QUESTION.

(Berkeley, Cal., Daily Reporter.)

In view of the commonly accepted theories it seems to us that the following facts that are within the personal knowledge of the editor demand presentation.

A few months ago we were advised that a child of a personal friend of the editor's living in a San Joaquin valley city, had Bright's disease and that the family physician, who is also known to us, gave the family no hope. We suggested that he send literature concerning the new treatment.

It was sent.

This was several months ago. We are now advised that it promptly took hold of the case and that the improvement has been so marked that recovery is now imminent.

The family physician, upon noting the abnormal change, wanted to know what was being done. Being told he advised by all means to go on with it.

The authorities declare chronic Bright's disease incurable. Do not the numerous recoveries under this treatment demand a new adjustment of our beliefs?—Berkeley, Cal., Daily Reporter.

We sent for this treatment for cases here and will give full information. Lyeum Drug Store, Duluth. Reliance Drug Store, West Duluth.

AMERICAN CRUISER Sent to Porto Rico to Look Into Suspicious Importation.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Taking in connection with the recent seizure in Porto Rico of several boxes, marked "old iron," but really containing cartridges and other ammunition, the departure of the cruiser Tacoma, Wednesday, for San Juan is attracting some attention.

The seizure of the cartridges in Porto Rico, while being loaded on a steamer for San Domingo, probably was an outcome of the watchfulness of the government.

Imports of arms into Porto Rico from the United States is strictly prohibited by executive order. Word of the seizure was officially reported to the authorities here, but it is declared at the department that no information of a movement against the San Domingo government has reached there.

On arriving at San Juan, the Tacoma will be available for any duty that may be required of her in preventing any hostile operations, and in the protection of American interests.

AGREE ON WAGES.
Detroit, Feb. 14.—The Dredge Owners' Protective association, which has been in conference here this week with the four union organizations of dredge employees yesterday reached an agreement with the dredge engineers and crane-men. The new schedule of wages is substantially the same as that of last year. Chief engineers get $10 per month.

TOM JOHNSON CHARGED With Using Cleveland's Money to Build Railroad Tracks.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 14.—Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland was assaulted on the floor of the house yesterday afternoon by Jesse B. Roberts, representative from Cuyahoga county, who charged that $48,000 had been illegally appropriated from the treasury of the city of Cleveland to build street railway tracks to relieve the congestion in the public square and for which connection Mr. Roberts declared the street railway company, backed by Mayor Johnson, had been largely responsible.

Mr. Roberts further charged that a bill had been introduced in the legislature which he had been informed was designed to validate this appropriation. The charges by Mr. Roberts, which went unchallenged, were made during the course of an exciting debate on a bill which sought to permit the renewal of street railway franchises of streets already occupied by tracks to other than existing companies. The bill was defeated.

ANNULMENT

Of Her Marriage to Osborne Sought by Helen Maloney.

New York, Feb. 14.—Miss Helen Maloney and Samuel Clarkson, the young Englishman with whom she eloped, are finally to marry.

Young Arthur Osborne, the Wall street broker, who first married the girl under romantic circumstances at Manhattan, when both were under age, has consented to permit the suit for annulment brought by the girl to go by default.

As soon as the necessary proceedings have been gone through with, the young woman will marry Clarkson.

The first step in the action to annul her marriage to Osborne has been taken.

A friend of young Osborne said he had become reconciled to the fact that Miss Maloney had given her heart to another. Miss Maloney will allege that the marriage was not legally binding. It will be set forth that both parties were under age and gave fictitious names and addresses and incorrect ages.

DESERTS SEA FOR BRIDE.

Victor Metcalf, Son of Secretary of Navy, to Become Civilian.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Midshipman Victor N. Metcalf, son of the secretary of the navy, has deserted the sea for the prosaic life of a land lubber. In the announcement that accompanied the acceptance of his resignation, the cause of his leaving the navy was given as "ill health." The gossip among his friends is that the young midshipman soon will wed Miss Marie Buttres of San Francisco. Navy regulations forbid midshipmen to marry without the permission of the secretary of the navy. In this case that officer, who is the father of the young sailor, refused to grant the desired permission and the resignation followed.

Women Who Think.

If you are a thinking woman, and you no doubt think you are, the following will make you think.

Just between you and me, it is not a significant fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, the makers of which print a full list of its ingredients, attested under oath, on its bottle-wrappers?

Does this not mean something to you if you are a sufferer?

It means that you absolutely know what you are taking when you make use of this world-famed medicine.

It means that you absolutely know that you are not taking "boozie" when using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, but a good, honest, square-deal medicine adapted to woman's delicate organization by an educated, trained and experienced specialist in woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

Are the above facts not of some importance to you?

Many thousands of America's most famous physicians prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription because they know just what its composition is—which cannot be said of any other medicine advertised for the cure of woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

It has done this for many hundreds of thousands. What it has done for others it will no doubt do for you if you but give it a fair trial.

Don't be put off with some inferior substitute with no record of cures to recommend it. You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum in place of this tried and proven medicine of known composition.

THOUGHTFUL, INTELLIGENT WOMEN use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for many good reasons. It enables them to avoid the disagreeable questionings and abhorrent examinations generally deemed necessary by the family physician. It cures in the privacy of the home. If, however, you want the advice of a skilled specialist in woman's peculiar maladies, write or call upon Dr. R. V. Pierce at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

COUSIN OF LONGFELLOW

Relative of the Poet is Hale and Hearty at 96.

Kansas Pioneer Helped Make History When State Was Young.

Kansas City, Neb., Feb. 14.—On a farm six miles northwest of Eudora, Kan., amid the rolling farm lands of Douglas county and within sight of Lawrence, his first stopping place when he came to Kansas in 1856, lives Charles Longfellow, 96 years old, a cousin of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet.

Charles Longfellow, one of the early free state men of Kansas to come out from New England, went through the Quantrell raid, was a member of the "home guard" during the civil war and took part in the battle of the Blue at Westport. Incidentally he was a factor in Kansas in the early struggles for statehood. He was one of the "old guard" and few of his kind remain to tell the story.

Like his distinguished relative, Mr. Longfellow is a native of Maine. He was born at Machias, May 28, 1812. That was a little more than five years after Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, was born in the little city of Portland. Now, as he is nearing the century mark, Charles Longfellow is hale and hearty and in possession of his faculties. His hair and his long beard are white, and while only a second cousin, his resemblance to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is striking. So remarkable, indeed, is his resemblance that it is not unusual to find the picture of the poet hanging on the wall for that of Charles Longfellow and to compliment the man who owns it. As a matter of fact, Charles Longfellow never saw his relative, the "poet of the commonplace."

"Praying" or "Swearing" Nathan. "Both my mother's and my father's fathers were named Nathan Longfellow," Charles Longfellow said the other day. "My mother, Tophenah Longfellow, was of English descent and the name of the poet. My father, Jacob Longfellow, was in no way related to the poet's family. He was the descendant of a line of Scotchmen. I remember how my family, in speaking of the two Nathan Longfellow, distinguished one from the other. One of them, the grandfather of the poet, was designated the 'Swearing Nathan'; the other, a more pious man, was known as the 'Praying Nathan.'"

Charles Longfellow's father was a Maine lumberman. After he had spent forty-three years of his life in the Maine woods as grocery boy, bookkeeper, hotel keeper and merchant, Charles Longfellow decided to come West. He had read accounts of the border troubles in Kansas territory previous to the civil war. He had made up his mind that Kansas was a good place for a man of free state ideas to live in.

"The Eastern papers at that time were filled with trouble between the pro-slavery and the free state men in the territory of Kansas," he said. "They came booming Kansas territory and decided to investigate. In September, 1855, I left my home in Maine and came to Kansas. I arrived in St. Louis early in November, in arranging for my transportation from St. Louis to Lawrence, went to the office of the steamboat. Outside the office, which was located on what was a shingle bearing the sign, 'Boat leaves at 4 o'clock.' It was near that hour, so I decided to wait the departure of the boat. Nine o'clock came and passed. Still no boat. Shortly after noon the sign was changed to read 'Boat leaves at 4 o'clock.' Not for two days did I learn that the shingle was advertising the departure of the boat from Jefferson City, 160 miles from St. Louis to Westport."

"You Can't Hide on Our Stamp." "We landed in Westport on Tuesday morning. My inquiry among the passengers on the boat had learned that the trip from Westport to Lawrence was made overland by mail stage. When I applied at the stage office for permission to ride to Lawrence, I was asked from whence I came. On replying that I was from Maine, the man in the office said, 'You come from too far North to get permission to ride on our stage line.' That was all the satisfaction he ever gave me."

After a two days' wait at Westport, Mr. Longfellow arranged with a settler who was bound to take him to Lawrence, to take him as far as Lawrence. He arrived there Nov. 23, 1856.

Mr. Longfellow at once pre-empted a government claim of 160 acres. That was how the government survey had been made, and no man in the land knew whether he would have a claim or not until the survey was made. He was made.

It was building my little shack, such as every person who files on government land must erect, when a man rode up to me and said: 'You are on my claim and I am going to run you off.' I told him I had examined the maps and set out the land office and believed that he was mistaken. He went about threatening me with death for jumping his claim. The survey was made I had not one contest. They were three contests on my quarrelsome neighbor's claim."

Before the civil war began, several small forts were occupied near Lawrence by the pro-slavery elements. Accounts of the incidents during the border troubles tell of attacks on free state men by the occupants of these forts. One day in the fall of '58, as Mr. Longfellow was leaving his home to go to a neighbor's, he saw an armed horseman coming up the road from Fort Leavenworth.

"I did not like his looks and, as I was unarmed, I decided to turn back. He rode rapidly after me and as I reached the door and started to pull the latch, looked around. The man on horseback was just raising his rifle. My Sharp's rifle had been broken by a fall only a short time before, but in a moment of inspiration, when I pushed the door open, I reached up over the door as if for my rifle. The man put spurs to his horse, dashed around the corner of my house, and away. It was a pure case of bluff, but it saved my life."

Mr. Longfellow tells of an incident showing how a woman outwitted Harvey Jones, a pro-slavery deputy sheriff of anti-bellum times. Jones was in the habit of arresting free state men on no provocation whatever and taking them before a justice of the peace. One day a sympathizer, who fined them heavily. If the fines were not paid the men were sent to prison.

Charles Buffum and his wife, recent arrivals from Massachusetts had settled on a claim not far from Lawrence. Buffum and his wife drove to town one day after provisions. While there Jones arrested the man. He was fined and the deputy was instructed to take him to Leavenworth.

A Woman's Wit and Bravery. "And then a difficult Mr. Longfellow said. 'The sheriff had no team. He finally ran across Mrs. Buffum whom he did not recognize on the street. He offered her $3 for the use of her team for the afternoon. She accepted the money and drove the team around to where Jones was waiting for her. When the sheriff and his prisoner were in the wagon she suddenly turned, and, pointing a revolver at the sheriff, said: 'You get out of this wagon and run for your life.' He did as she commanded him—and he never bothered another citizen of Lawrence. Mrs. Buffum afterwards told me that she never in her life had made $3 so easily."

At the time of the Quantrell raid, Mr. Longfellow was preparing to build a new house. He had about $400 worth of lumber in a pile near the house in which he was living. His house was burned by the raiders and the lumber put in the pile of lumber to set it on fire. It did not burn, however. Mr. Longfellow and his family escaped death by hiding in a corn field back of the house.

When General Price was making his invasion of the north, Mr. Longfellow was a member of one of the two companies of "home guards" selected to defend Lawrence. His company was ordered to Westport to take part in the battle there. During the battle Mr. Longfellow's horse was shot from under him. The fact that I have in a corn field for that mare is the only thing I hold against the United States government," said Mr. Longfellow.

Mr. Longfellow has a remarkable memory for dates and occurrences connected with his early life. He never has used tobacco, and always has been a "teetotaler." "I do not know that my abstinence has added anything to my life," he said. He still favors the old forms of speech. When he was asked if he expected to live a long time, he said: "Yes," delivered in the tones of a man at his fifty. He is a convincing argument. He is a believer in the teachings of Robert Ingersoll and has a complete set of his writings.

HUSBANDS ARE NOW IN REVOLT

In Belgium, Demanding
More Drastic Laws Relating to Divorce.

Brussels, Feb. 14.—Remarkable indeed is the application made to the legislature by a section of the men of Chatelet, a little town near Charleroi. They are husbands and demand in a lengthy petition that the chamber shall at this session pass a more drastic divorce law.

The husbands in a proclamation declare that conjugal misfortunes occur more frequently in Belgium than in any country of the world and that Chatelet relative to its size holds all records. They declare that the women are to be blamed in every instance, for without encouragement from them, they would have no lovers. This particular group of husbands, who all acknowledge having been deceived, say they only make their griefs known to the whole of Belgium in a desire for the public welfare. They appeal to all husbands or men about to become husbands to sign petitions to the legislature.

The petition declares the law is not severe enough and demands the immediate application of a more rigorous punishment for faithfulness. The chamber is informed that all the husbands in Belgium will forever be grateful.

LAWYER'S CONSENT NOT NECESSARY

Champerly Case is Decided by the Kansas
Supreme Court.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 14.—The supreme court has decided that an agreement between a client and his attorneys for the services of the latter in conducting a proposed lawsuit, wherein it is agreed that the client shall not settle, compromise or otherwise dispose of the cause of action without written consent of the attorneys, is contrary to public policy, and void.

The case came from Wyandotte county, and the decision is rendered by the lower court. Rachel Service, a 14-year-old girl, was injured by a car of the Kansas City Elevated Railway company. James Service, the father, entered into an agreement with J. L. Colvin and Bird & Pope, attorneys of Kansas City, Mo., to the effect that he would pay them 40 per cent of the amount received by either suit or compromise, but that he would not compromise or settle without their written consent.

Suit was brought for damages against the railway company, but in March, 1906, judgment was rendered in the court of common pleas by agreement between Service and the attorneys of the railway company. The compromise was $2,500. Colvin, Bird & Pope knew nothing of the settlement. They filed a motion to set aside the satisfaction of the judgment, and for an execution thereon for $800, their fee as claimed. The motion was granted, but the court sustained it, and awarded a judgment for $800.

The railway company excepted and took the case to the supreme court, which decided against Colvin, Bird & Pope. The court in its opinion said that the contract in question is void because it is opposed to public policy, because of settlement or compromise of the claim should be made without the written consent of the attorneys employed under it. The court says this contract is not champertous, for the attorneys did not undertake to pay the costs and expenses of the litigation, but takes Greenhood's statement in Public Policy, which says: "A contract by which the control of the party in interest over litigation carried on in his behalf is limited, is void."

The court agrees that this rule rests upon policy of the law which favors the settlement of disputes, and regards with disapproval all schemes that tend to foment and prolong litigation in the interest of third parties.

NO RECORDS BROKEN

By Anto, But Vanderbilt Must Pay the Manufacturer.

New York, Feb. 14.—After a seven-hours' deliberation a jury in Justice Gerard's part of the supreme court gave a verdict for $12,500 in favor of Francois Richard against Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

Richard sued for $5,000 balance on a $15,000 automobile which he had constructed, and for which it was testified, he was to receive $25,000 if it succeeded in breaking all records at the Ormond races of 1906.

Mr. Vanderbilt's secretary, Mr. Crocker, testified that the machine refused to budge at the beach at the time of the races.

Mr. Richard, however, swore that sand got into the auto, and that if he had been permitted to make some slight repairs the auto could easily have made a mile in 28 seconds.

In the same issue is another of Senator William M. Stewart's reminiscential papers, dealing especially with Mark Twain, who was Senator Stewart's clerk in Washington, back in '67. Senator Stewart discusses the early life of the famous humorist with the same engaging candor that Mr. Clemens invites in the autobiography that he is now publishing.

We know of nothing more interesting than Mark Twain's opinions of his contemporaries unless it be this particular contemporary's opinion of Mark Twain.

"Why, I do not know the Count Alexander Hadik family is one of the oldest in Hungary."

"How many counts are there in Hungary?" was asked.

"Six or seven, or any number, they are all counts also. They are permitted to carry the name, you see. It is different from the English custom. That's why there are so many counts in my country. I guess. But if you want to know the exact number, you can find it in the German Social Register. What kind of a fellow is Count Alexander Hadik? I don't know a thing about him, and I don't know where you can find out, either."

OUTING HAD BAD ENDING

Archille Neumanville Says Blow Made Him Insane.

Asks for $10,000 Damages From John Iverson of Duluth.

Whether Archille Neumanville became an inmate of the state insane asylum by reason of a blow struck by John Iverson of this city, and whether Neumanville is entitled to damages in the sum of $10,000, or any other amount, are some of the questions that the jury will have to determine in a case now on trial in Judge Dibell's room.

The suit is the outcome, it is claimed, of a Sunday outing that was taken by Iverson, Neumanville and two companions to some homesteaders' place, near Clouet river, a few years ago. Neumanville claims that he was given a severe beating by Iverson, without any cause or provocation, and that he received injuries which caused him to be sent to the insane hospital for a long time.

Iverson claims that he did nothing more than slap the plaintiff, when the latter was drunk and about to strike him with an empty beer bottle. The defendant alleges that Neumanville went on a protracted spree, and that his insanity resulted from an excessive use of intoxicants.

According to the story, Iverson and a companion, started for the river in separate rigs. All of the party were drinking more or less, and Neumanville is claimed to have become pretty drunk. When the rigs were stopped at a convenient place along the road to water the horses, Neumanville, it is claimed, climbed into Iverson's rig, whipped up the horse and drove on some distance before he was overtaken by the rest. When Iverson got out to fix a tug, Neumanville is claimed to have hit the horse with a whip, whereupon Iverson pulled him from the carriage and entered protest with the officers of the party for taking Neumanville on the trip to make trouble for the rest.

Iverson claims that when they arrived at the homesteaders' place, he pushed Neumanville into a bunk to sleep off his drink, but the latter followed him out and attempted to hit him with a bottle. The defendant claims he did nothing more than strike the bottle, and that Neumanville, but that the latter was so drunk he fell down.

British Steamer Mercedes Picks Them Up on Jan. 30.

Liverpool, Feb. 14.—The British steamer Mercedes de Larinaga, from Galveston, Jan. 23, for Manchester, arrived today with Capt. Edward Lacey and the crew of the American four-masted schooner, Edward J. Berwind, having picked up the men in the Atlantic on Jan. 30. The schooner, which encountered heavy weather, in which she sprang a leak. Her lifeboats were carried away, leaving the crew helpless. On Jan. 30 the Larinaga hove in sight and made preparations to take off the imperiled men. She lowered a boat and sent it in close to the schooner, but the sea was so high that the men from the Berwind had to be swung into the rescuing boat by means of the schooner's sparker boom and a running line.

Acting on instructions from the council, City Engineer McGilvray has investigated the work of the Wisconsin Central railroad, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues west, and, as a result, the company has fenced off a portion of Superior street, which was considered unsafe.

The council ordered the engineer to investigate, to determine whether the company was undermining Superior street with its tunnel. He found that a dry stone wall at that point had been removed, and a portion of the street thus undermined and made unsafe. The fencing off was ordered, and the company complied, so that the street at that point is now safe.

Half the effectiveness of an army resides in the soldiers' faith in their leader. When the leader doubts, hesitates, wavers, the whole army is thrown into confusion; but his confidence doubles the assurance of every man under him.

The mental faculties, like soldiers, must believe in their leader—the unquenchable will. The mind of the doubter, the hesitator, the waverer, the man who is not sure of himself, who thinks he is not equal to what he has undertaken, is set toward failure, and every thing works against him. There is a weakness in the mind of the doubter.

In an emergency, as in danger, a man can often perform feats of great strength which he could not even approximate in cold blood. Arousing a man multiplies his power tremendously. Think of what delicate men and women, even invalids, have accomplished when dominated by some supreme occasion or a mighty passion. The imperious "must" gives added strength and unusual power to all the faculties.

So a great self-faith, an unswerving self-confidence, braces up the entire man, physically, mentally, morally. It raises him to his highest power, and makes him do with ease what would be impossible without this wonderful stimulus.

An overmastering faith in oneself often enables comparatively ignorant men and women to do marvelous things.

This was in substance the story told by Dr. Fletcher of the surgeon, who may be regarded among the founders of modern surgery, as a man who was remembered by the great Napoleon in his will, made at St. Helena. "I bequeath to my surgeon, Larrey, the most honest man I ever knew, 10,000 francs."

Of the 152 men 113 began at preparatory school to smoke and twelve others began before that, so that 82 per cent of the smokers started before they went to college.

Last year in the freshmen classes at Yale there were 147 smokers of whom 77 per cent began at preparatory school. From these figures Dr. Born feels him- self justified in making the statement that the majority of smokers begin before entering college, in spite of popular opinion. There is no mention of chewers.

VERDICTS AFFIRMED

Damages of $46,833.33 Sustained in Six Personal Injury Suits.

Supreme Court Renders Decisions in St. Louis County Cases.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six personal injury verdicts in the St. Louis county district court were affirmed today by the supreme court. The aggregate amount of damages awarded in these suits was $46,833.33. They are as follows:

Mike Witta, plaintiff and respondent, vs. Interstate Iron company, defendant and appellant. An action to recover damages caused by the premature explosion of a charge of dynamite, due to a defective fuse. It is held that the evidence is sufficient to justify the trial court in denying motion for judgment for the defendant, notwithstanding a verdict for the plaintiff. In this suit the plaintiff was awarded $15,000 damages.

Valdemir Nestrecha, respondent, vs.
Hobart Iron company, et al. defendant.
Hobart Iron company, appellant. In this case, the damages amounted to $1,500.

Jacob Jacobson, respondent, vs.

Hobart Iron company, respondent.
Damages to the amount of $17,000 were awarded the plaintiff by the lower court.

John Hyvonen, respondent, vs. Hee-tor Iron company, appellant. The damages in this suit amounted to $4,333.33.

range Furnace company, appellant. The damages in this suit were $2,000.

Mayme Daidler, as administratrix of the estate of Bernard Daidler, deceased, respondent, vs. Zenith Furnace company, appellant. There was a verdict of $5,000 damages in this case.

ROW IN LAKE AVENUE SALOON

Fred Homer Appears in Court With Badly Dis-colored Eye.

There was a merry old time in a saloon at 28 Lake avenue south last night, and the police had to take a hand. Three or four young fellows were in the place drinking, and two of them are said to have started an argument. The words were led to one with something more substantial, and Fred Homer appeared in court this morning with a discolored eye. Alfred Niemelä is said to be the man responsible for the disfigurement of Homer's face, and he also was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Both pleaded not guilty to the charge.
Homer says he was attacked by Niemelä, and fought back in self-defense. They will be given a hearing this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Olaf Lundquist was carrying a heavy load of excess baggage last night. He was either "rolled," or didn't think he shot so much money over the bar as he did, for he was complaining of being robbed. He couldn't tell when where, or by whom, but he contended that somebody lifted his roll. He was taken in as a drunk and given a fine of $1 and costs, with the option of three days, this morning.

Fred Olson pleaded guilty to vagrancy, and drew $10 or fifteen days.
Charlie Olson wasn't so sure he was a vag, however. He said he came down from the woods three weeks ago with $40. He said he spent the last of his money yesterday, but the officers testified that he has been hanging around for three weeks without money. He was found guilty, a sentence of $10 or ten days imposed, and he was given until 3 o'clock this afternoon to get out of the city.

CAPT. RANDALL COMMISSIONED

Appointed on Staff of Commander-in-Chief of G. A. R.

Capt. John R. Randall of this city, one of the members in the legislature from St. Louis county, has received his commission as aid-de-camp on the staff of Commander-in-Chief C. G. Burton, of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Kansas City. The appointment carries with it the rank of colonel. The news of Capt. Randall's appointment is believed received with a great deal of interest by the local members of the G.
A. R., as the positions on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the national organization are highly honorary and are much sought after by the old soldiers from all over the country.

SAYS WIFE SLEPT LATE

Paul Lueck Admits Pulling Her Out to Get Breakfast.

Claims Wife Assaulted Him While He Dressed Children.

Because he found his wife in bed at 11 o'clock in the morning, with his children hanging over her, crying for their breakfasts, Paul Lueck, who is suing his wife, Alida Lueck, for a divorce, admits that he used force and pulled her from the bed. He admits also that on one other occasion he pulled Mrs.
Lueck from bed because she would not get up and prepare his breakfast.

These admissions, with others, are made in a reply which Lueck filed to the answer made by his wife to the complaint he served on her in his action for a divorce.

Lueck claims that when he pulled his wife from bed to get the children's breakfasts, he saw about dressing the oldest child to send it to its grandmother's for something to eat, when his wife made a furious attack upon him, pulled his hair and scratched his face until the blood ran. He claims that with all such alleged provocation he did not retaliate.

The husband also admits that he has at times used profanity in addressing his wife, but claims that he did so because he was goaded beyond all human endurance by his wife's neglect of himself and the children. Lueck asserts that Mrs. Lueck is as proficient in the use of profanity as himself and uses it on less provocation.

An admission is made by Lueck that he was once arrested on the charge of assault. He explains it by stating that the arrest occurred after his wife had told him to get out of the house, and that the trouble grew out of Mrs. Lueck in telling the plaintiff that Dave Weinberg had passed remarks reflecting on Lueck's good name.

FILE ANSWER TO SWAIN CASE

Brokers Claim Swain Owes Them $300 on Stock Deal.

Holman Bros. & Co., the stock brokers, who were yesterday sued by R. A. Swain, today filed their answer to his suit, in which they set out that they have returned all the stock to which Swain lays claim, except 100 shares of the stock of the Winchester company, and that they have tendered this to Mr. Swain and that he has refused to receive it.

Swain's answer claims that Mr. Swain owes Holman Bros. & Co.
some $300 on the stock in question, and voluntarily placed the stock in the hands of the brokers, and that they are ready and willing to deliver it to him upon the payment of the amount he owes them.

W. J. Holman, one of the firm, when seen at his office, stated that the suit against him is a matter of the interests of the morning and he is dreaming of him who is coming over the sea, and who went down at sea some ten years ago, and he is not at all interested in the suit.

He said he was not at all interested in the suit, and he is not at all interested in the suit.

He said he was not at all inter-sorts in different colors and all the popular fabrics.

A second lot goes on sale tomorrow at occasionally by a bit of pathos, all contribute to make the evening one never to be forgotten.

I have not had the opportunity of examining Mr. Bancroft's face as well as I would like; he is taciturn and sits in the shadow, and I am rather shy after my brilliant performance of the afternoon.

"Bancroft, my cherub friend," cries father, finishing the story of his success in the gold mines of Mexico and his ventures in the copper fields of Chili.
"You conclude that story, my lad, and tell us all how it was that we came together."

Thus appealed to, my father's friend tells how he left the United States for a South American port as a sailor; how he succeeded in being elected to the board of the vessel; how at last, when nearing their destination, the port of Africa, a fearful tremor, or earthquake, came, and the vessel was wrecked, all on board perishing save my father.

"The three—what became of them?"
say I, leaning forward, rather pleased with the narrator's voice.

"Of the three, one was left on a desert island, having become crazed after days and days on the sea in an open boat."
"How cruel in you! And did he die alone, forsaken by all who loved him, with no hand to help him, no one to hold his dying head?" say I, quickly my breath coming in gasps, great fear sizing me. I know not why.

The gentleman hesitates and looks at father, who in turn looks sharply at him; then father suddenly bolts from his interior, struck a mine, and, excited over any matter, and strikes the floor.

"Or that man who was left on the barren island, continues the narrator,
"nothing was ever heard, but the boat containing the two seamen was picked up by a coasting vessel and the poor fellows were landed at last at Valparaiso, Chili."

Here one of them died, while the other, happening by the merest chance to save the life of an American from assassins in the streets of Valparaiso—

"That's modest, Hubert," my father breaks in, speaking rapidly. "Let me inquire it. You saved my life from its cowardly and dastard set of blackguards as never fleeing my father's foot and what you were, your condition in life, and so forth, and together we went up into the interior, struck a mine, and, thanks be to God, here we are—rich men, happy and strong and with many years of life before us, let us hope."

"Mr. Bancroft," says I, nervously myself for a question, the answer to which I fear may kill me. "Do you know the name of either of those men who did this?" he replies after some reflection.
"For the life of me I can't recall either name," he replies after some reflection.
The latter holding her skirts and taking most ridiculous steps—come to the scene in response to Lillian's cries of alarm, my receding senses perceive the form of him who went to sea, but who was not drowned."

"I have come back for you, Rose, dear," cries John Mortimer, holding me in his strong grasp. "From your father's lip I heard of your repentant spirit, and at last you are mine, mine!"

I hear the voice of father above confusion. Then, grasping Lillian around the waist, he points to where we are.
"Lillian, my dear," he says, his eyes looking at him. "It is said your father can do some tall prevaricating, but for pure unadulterated lying of our son and brother here don't excel the Baron Munchausen I'll eat the whole book—and the bacon, too."

LIVING IN NEW YORK.

Broadway Magazine. The cost of living is great because the standard of living is high. All the good things that the world produces are brought to this city's gates. Out in Wellesville, Ill., back in the dear old districts where the simple life is lived, they do not offer you strawberries in February, at $1 a box, nor American Beauty roses at $15 a dozen.

But the best that money can buy is daily set before the ravished eyes of the New Yorker. The lure of the beautiful ever calling, calling to shipwreck on the shoals of luxury. Whichever way you turn you find it insistently, insistently tempting the money to trickle through your tingling finger tips, declares Mabel Butler Deagett in an article on "New York's Strain on the Purse String," in the February issue of the New Broadway Magazine. There are arranged the easiest stages by which you glide to the too expensive. The apartment in the next block is a little more costly than yours, and you take it. The gown that you pass in the shop window is a little higher priced and a good deal better than the one you had planned, and you get it. Just so, there are miles of apartments and a continuous procession of gowns stretching on beyond these, and before you realize it you are in pursuit of the top of the pace that your pursues permits. And lucky you are if you do not go beyond it.

By careful planning to avoid these two disasters, too much rent and too much luxury, a family of two can live comfortably in New York, or more correctly speaking, around New York, on $100 a week. There are many frugal or many guests, $500 a year is an easier limit.

Tomorrow is the Day.

If you want to get one of the "Fit-well" Clothing Parlor's $25 suits or overcoats for only $10, come tomorrow, as they are selling fast, and next week will wind up the sale.
